EIGHT FINANCIAL CONCERNS ABSORBED BY FARMERS BANK; RESOURCES NOW $73,000,000

The Colonial and American Trust Companies and Their Affiliated Institutions Pass to Other Hands.

STOCK MAKES UPWARD SPURT JUST BEFORE MARKET CLOSES

Deal Said to Be on the Basis of Book Values—Will Be Biggest Bank West of New York.

The details were practically agreed upon late yesterday afternoon for the formation in Pittsburgh of the most colossal combination of banking interests yet attempted outside of New York city. The deal contemplates the absorption by the Farmers Deposit National bank of the Colonial Trust Company and its numerous affiliations in the city, in Sharon and elsewhere, and the American Trust Company and the four large financial institutions recently acquired by that company. The institutions in the city proper and excluding the outside affiliations have total resources exceeding $73,000,000.

A slight inkling of the deal reached the street late in the afternoon and was responsible for a sudden jump of $50 a share in the market value of Colonial Trust, which advanced to $650, and a similar jump in the price of American Trust to $540 a share. Farmers Deposit National was wanted at $1,300 a share bid, but there were no offerings of the stock.

WHY ONE DEAL WAS DELAYED.

For nearly two months past negotiations have been in progress for the merger of the Colonial Trust Company and the American Trust Company group of banks and trust companies. The fact of these negotiations, officially admitted, was responsible for the sudden rise last month in Colonial stock to $750 a share, with reported private transactions as high as $800 a share, and at the same time American Trust advanced to $555 a share, the highest prices ever quoted. The subsequent reaction of about $100 a share was due to the semi-official announcement that book values and not market values would govern in establishing a basis for the proposed merger.

It now appears that the delay in announcing the consummation of this deal was due to the proposition of the Farmers Deposit National to take over the entire group of banks and trust companies on the basis of book values computed by the experts employed by the Colonial and American companies. This proposition, it is said, has been accepted by the syndicate controlling the American Trust Company group of banks and by the majority in interest in Colonial Trust. The managers of the deal were not prepared last night to give out the manner in which it is to be financed. The members of the combination which will thus come under control of the Farmers Deposit National, together with their capital, surplus and profits, total deposits and total resources, are as follows:

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.	Capital.	Surplus & Undivided Profits.	Total Deposits.	Total Resources.
Farmers Deposit National Bank	$ 800,000	$ 6,181,919	$14,241,824	$25,402,113
Colonial	2,000,000	2,453,599	9,560,883	15,062,256
American Trust Company	1,000,000	132,903	5,422,965	8,422,064
Pennsylvania Trust Company	500,000	324,616	2,622,111	3,483,164

The managers of the deal were not prepared last night to give out the manner in which it is to be financed. The members of the combination which will thus come under control of the Farmers Deposit National, together with their capital, surplus and profits, total deposits and total resources, are as follows:

WHERE GIVEN SCORED BEFORE.

This will not be the first time that the management of the Farmers Deposit National, which is the most alert and vigorous of any financial institution outside the metropolis, has stepped in at the right moment and carried the day by a brilliant coup. Several years ago, in the absence of President T. Hart Given and some of his supporters, a minority in the bank sought to gain control and change the complexion of the management. Proxies had been obtained upon a majority of the capital stock a few days before the annual election and everything was cut and dried for the change. Mr. Given arrived home from the east the day before the election, learned of the plan, in an hour bought sufficient of the capital stock to give him control, paying therefor a large advance over the highest price ever before quoted and carried the election with flying colors.

Ever since the remarkable expansion of the Union Trust Company and its acquisition and absorption of a line of old financial institutions, placing it in the first rank as to size and strength among local banking institutions, the financial community has been wondering what the Farmers Deposit National would do to maintain its supremacy. It is well known that last year the Farmers Deposit National asked the prominent stockholders in the Peoples National to name a price at which a controlling interest in that prosperous institution could be bought.

COULDN'T BUY THE PEOPLES.

The proposition was laid before the board of directors, and the unanimous conclusion reached that the bank was not for sale at any price. Since then the Farmers is understood to have made propositions to other institutions, but without reaching a satisfactory conclusion. When the American deal was first undertaken the Farmers Deposit kept in close touch with the negotiations, and the answer to the query, "What will the Farmers Deposit do to keep at the head of the column of local financial institutions?" is answered by the deal as outlined above.

Prior to the absorption by the Union Trust of the Mellon National (which was an incorporation of T. Mellon & Sons bank) the latter cleared through the Farmers Deposit National, as did also the Union Trust Company. This arrangement terminated with the organization of the Mellon National, which was in July last admitted to the Pittsburgh Clearing House association and naturally acted as clearing house agent for the Union Trust. For the year 1901 the total business handled by the Farmers Deposit National through the clearing house reached the unprecedented total of $407,501,407. Great curiosity was manifested in local financial circles to see how the Farmers would stand after its loss of such important accounts as the Mellons and the Union Trust.

FARMERS STILL IN FIRST PLACE.

When the official figures were compiled it was found that the Farmers, as usual, ranked No. 1 in the amount of business transacted, the total exceeding $864,000,000, while the total for the six months during which the Mellon National was a member of the clearing house reached $164,000,000.

At the present time the Farmers Deposit National represents more than a score of banks and trust companies in the Pittsburgh clearing house, included in the number being such prominent institutions as the Colonial Trust, Colonial National, Equitable Trust, the Lincoln National and two of the national banks of Allegheny City.

INTERESTED IN RELIANCE LIFE.

In addition to the various financial institutions enumerated above as embraced in this merger, the Farmers Deposit National bank owns outright 60 per cent of the capital stock of the newly-organized Reliance Life Insurance Company. The latter has a paid up capital of $1,000,000 and a cash surplus of $1,000,000, and will occupy offices on the ground floor of the Wood street side of the Farmers Bank building. The bank will, therefore, cover not only every branch of the banking and trust company business, but through the insurance company will cover a large portion of the investment field, in this respect being patterned after the great banking institutions of New York.

The directorate of the Farmers National is composed of the following: T. H. Given, president; Hay Walker, Jr., James H. Reed, Daniel C. Noble, John Walker, A. W. Mellon and Joseph A. Herron.

ROOSEVELT AND HANNA.

Congressman Corliss of Michigan Says That Will Be Republican Presidential Ticket.

CLEVELAND, June 12.—(Special.)—Theodore Roosevelt for president, Marcus A. Hanna for vice president, is what the Republican ticket for 1904 will be, according to Congressman Corliss of Michigan. Mr. Corliss was in Cleveland today and took occasion to make strong statements on national affairs.

"Roosevelt," he said, "is the man. No human power can prevent him from being nominated or prevent his election. As for Mark Hanna, he is a strong, liberal man, who has a mind of the broadest gauge. As a leader of men he is magnificent. As a statesman he is the equal of Gladstone. In fact, he could well be called America's grand old man."

Mr. Corliss said the next national Republican convention would force Hanna to accept the vice presidential nomination.

INSANE MAN THREATENED THE AUSTRIAN EMPEROR.

VIENNA, June 12.—While Emperor Francis Joseph was out driving here today a pedestrian, holding a stick in a threatening manner, rushed at the emperor's carriage. The coachman flashed the assailant and whipped up the horses and the man was seized. He was pronounced insane and incarcerated, but has since been released.

PEOPLE OF SERVIA ACCEPT BLOODY DEEDS AT BELGRADE WITHOUT MAKING A MURMUR

Proclaiming of Prince Peter Karageorgevitch as King Is Expected to Be Ratified Next Monday.

BETTER CLASSES FAVOR ESTABLISHING A REPUBLIC

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Belgrade, June 12.—The assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga, the latter's two brothers, the Servian premier, minister of war and former minister of war in the dark hours of yesterday morning by a band of officers, and the proclamation by the army of Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, the pretender to the throne, as king of Servia, has apparently been accepted by the capital and the Servian people without a murmur. The meeting of the Skupschina on Monday next is looked forward to to confirm the proclamation and to regularize the new situation.

The only new element in the situation is a feeling among the intelligent classes in favor of the abolition of a Servian monarchy altogether and the creation of a republic, and this sentiment is shared by at least one member of the provisional government. Differences of opinion on this point developed today at a meeting of the cabinet, when the new foreign minister, Ljubomir Kallevics, expressed his leanings in favor of the establishment of a republican form of government.

RUSSIA OPPOSED TO REPUBLIC.

The majority of the ministers, however, declared themselves in favor of a new king in Prince Peter Karageorgevitch. They strengthened their declaration by the strong argument that it was certain that Austria and Russia would not countenance the creation of a republic. This is the view generally shared by politicians.

The remains of the ill-fated king and queen were buried almost stealthily last night in the chapel of St. Mark, where the members of the Obrenovitch family are interred.

The government has laid claim to the possessions of the late monarch. It is not known whether he left a fortune, but it is supposed he had considerable savings, having lived economically during the last decade. It is reported that the greater part of his money was deposited in England, but it is questionable whether the capital would be delivered to the Servian government. The opinion here is that all belongs to the state, even including the king's foreign investments. It is possible that ex-Queen Natalie may also appear as an heiress. Queen Draga was in receipt of 30,000 gulden monthly, and also had great savings, which will be handed over to her three sisters.

ARMY OFFICERS LAID PLOT.

The following is a narrative of the revolution given by men who took an active part in it:

Army officers to the number of 90 anything formed a project of a revolt, among them being delegates from almost every garrison in Servia and the majority of the officers of the Sixth regiment. Lieut. Col. Mitschitsch invited his comrades on Wednesday evening to meet in the Kalimaglan garden and there the immediate carrying out of the intended deed was organized.

At 1:30 a. m. the officers in eight groups went to the royal palace. Each had a cue and especial directions regarding his part in the revolution. In the palace itself the revolutionists had two important partisans in the king's body guard—Col. Alexander Maschin, Queen Draga's cousin, (not brother-in-law) and the king's personal adjutant, Lieut. Naumovics.

Two officers of the high military academy appeared at the appointed hour, 2 a. m. at the gate of the palace, where the king's adjutant, Frangkopitz, who was in the conspiracy, handed them the keys to the garden gate, which is always kept locked. First stepping toward the guard at the palace one of the two officers called, "throw down your arms." A fight ensued with shooting on both sides, in which several persons were wounded.

DANGER WAS SUSPECTED.

The revolutionists then entered the front garden without hindrance and reached the court yard of the palace, where Lieut. Naumovics was awaiting. He opened the lock of the iron door leading to the front room on the first floor. By this it was seen that the palace was carefully closed and that danger was suspected. Hurrying upstairs to the first floor, the revolting officers attracted the attention of the palace attendants and the royal couple by the noise of shooting. Lieut. Lazar Petrovitch alarmed by the unwonted hubbub, hurried forward, a drawn revolver in one hand and in the other a sword.

"What do you want?" he cried.

"Show us where the king and queen are," came the reply.

"Back," cried Petrovitch, and at the same moment a ball stretched him on the ground.

The revolutionaries pressed forward, when suddenly the electric light gave out. All stood in darkness. In the greatest excitement and feeling their way, the revolutionaries climbed the stairs and got into the dark ante-room to the king's apartment. Here they found candles and lit them.

This seemingly slight circumstance was decisive to the whole action. Without light they could not have found the victims, who fled from their sleeping apartment through corridors and numerous rooms and might have escaped, but part of the officers with burning candles and others with pistols commenced to search for the royal couple. In breathless haste the conspirators ran through the rooms, opened wardrobes and looked behind curtains in vain. In the extension connecting with the corridor between the old and new palace the sergeant of the bodyguard was sleeping. Awakening, he stepped before the revolutionaries, who felled him.

At last Queen Draga's servant was

CHICAGO GIRL MISSED BEING SERVIAN QUEEN

Miss Mabel Swift Was Once Engaged to Prince Peter Karageorgevitch.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 12.—If the turn in the road of misfortune which the Karageorgevitch family was forced by necessity to travel for nearly a century had only come three years earlier, a Chicago woman would have been at the side of the new king of Servia today ready to take her place among the queens of Europe.

As it was, the fascinating Prince Peter found in an American girl his master in the arts and wiles of cupid. When Miss Mabel Swift, daughter of E. C. Swift, the millionaire Chicago packer, broke her engagement to wed the prince, now the newly proclaimed king, and went to Washington to live as the wife of Clarence Moore, society thought the sequel to a very interesting international romance had been written.

Mrs. Moore, then Miss Mabel Swift, and Prince Peter first met in London at one of the queen's drawing rooms, where the American girl was introduced by Ambassador Choate. At that time it was common gossip that the prince was seeking to retrieve the fallen fortunes of his family by an alliance with an American heiress.

The prince was deeply smitten by the charms of the Chicago girl, and after six months' courtship proposed, and according to the general report, was accepted. When Miss Swift returned to America she cabled the prince saying, "Dearest love—Expect you in September. Lovingly, Mabel."

The prince came to Chicago in compliance with his fiancee's request. From the first, however, the marriage was opposed by Packer Swift. There were family differences. The prince complained that his food choked in his throat because he was forced to sit at the table with Miss Swift's father, who never spoke a word to him—not even good evening.

The prince had much to commend him besides possessing a title and the prospect of becoming king of Servia. He was tall and handsome and like all his countrymen, a fascinating conversationalist. Moreover, he was that rara avis in Paris, a boulevardier of excellent morals. Despite these recommendations, Mr. Swift was unrelenting in his opposition.

Begins Construction of Oil Depot at Beverly, Mass., Despite Bitter Opposition.

BEVERLY, MASS., June 12.—(Special.)—Triumphant, Col. Guffey of Pittsburgh has received the first installment of material for his $200,000 oil depot here, from which he will distribute Texas oil to New England consumers.

The plant is at the tidewater. A track has been built, permission having been granted by the railroad commissioners, to connect with the Boston & Maine railroad. The Standard Oil Company made a bitter fight against this and the millionaire New York, Pennsylvania and Boston cottagers, members of the Standard Oil Company, copper and banking crowds, used every argument to prevent the plant coming to Beverly, but are finally beaten.

Now that construction has actually begun, these cottagers threaten to remove from Beverly, but the threats are received with derision. The cottagers cannot be bothered by an oil plant two miles away.

Two Convicted of Arson.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 12.—(Special.)—Samuel and Lena Meyers were convicted this afternoon of setting fire to their store. Testimony was introduced that they made several attempts to hire some one to set fire to the place, but failed to do so. They have not been sentenced.

DEATH BRINGS TWO BROTHERS FACE TO FACE

They Lived Near Each Other for 20 Years Without Knowing It.

PARTED AS CHILDREN

After being separated for 60 years, Michael Feely of No. 518 Hulton street identified the body of his brother John, 65 years old, who was found dead at Verona Thursday night. Both men were born in Scotland and were separated when they were 3 and 5 years old respectively, never to meet again alive. The brothers had lived within 14 miles of each other for over 20 years without knowing it.

When the brothers were quite young their father was killed while serving with the English army in India. Later their mother died and the boys were separated. John enlisted in the English army and served for 15 years. Michael came to this country. About 20 years ago John also came to this country and settled in Philadelphia. Later he secured employment with the Allegheny Valley railroad at Verona, where he told his friends many stories of his father's bravery in the English army. Recently John has been suffering with heart trouble and unable to work. Thursday night he was found dead in an old building, where it is supposed he went to get out of the rain. While there he fell dead with heart disease.

Deputy Coroner George Limber went to Verona to get the body and brought it to the city late Thursday night. Michael Feely is employed at the Union station as a porter. He helped to place the box on a truck, not knowing that the body of his brother was inside.

Friends of the dead man came to the city yesterday and learned that a man named Feely was employed at the Union station who came from Glasgow, where the dead man was born. At the station they discovered that Michael was a brother of the dead man through the stories he told of their father's services in the English army. Michael Feely went to the morgue and for the first time in 60 years looked on the face of his brother. The body was removed to Michael's home in Hulton street.

PLACE FOR CLEVELAND.

Former President May Be Chosen to Succeed Jefferson at University of Virginia.

RICHMOND, VA., June 12.—(Special.)—If former President Cleveland will accept he may become successor of Thomas Jefferson as president of the University of Virginia. Since the death of Mr. Jefferson, the university has had no official head, its affairs being administered by a proctor under the direction of a board of directors.

The last legislature passed a law authorizing the board to elect a president. For this purpose they will meet tomorrow. Many names are mentioned for the honor, and among them that of Mr. Cleveland stands out conspicuously.

Nugent Found Guilty.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 12.—(Special.)—Robert Nugent was tonight found guilty in the second degree of the murder of John D. Ferguson. The verdict was reached after five hours' deliberation. Nugent has boasted that he will escape from jail, and precautions are being taken to prevent his receiving any aid from the outside.

STEEL CORPORATION HAS OPTION ON CANADA PLANT

Should More Duty Be Placed on Steel, Hamilton (Ont.) Mills Will Be Purchased.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

TORONTO, ONT., June 12.—As a result of the efforts being made to move the Canadian government place a higher protection on steel, the announcement is made that the United States Steel Company has secured an option on the entire stock of the Hamilton Iron and Bridge Company, and should a high duty be imposed, will import the raw material and manufacture in this country.

The Steel Corporation has had a representative at Ottawa watching the action of the government and should they take action advantage will be taken of the option. Hamilton is situated right in the center of Canada and would be an excellent distributing point either by rail or water.

NEW KING'S BROTHER IS ARDENT GAMBLER

PARIS, June 12.—(Special Cable.)—Prince Arsene Karageorgevitch, brother of the new king of Servia, is well known in Parisian sporting circles. Prince Krasa, as he is called by his friends, is a member of the Volney and other clubs and is a passionate gambler. He is a frank and unaffected Frenchman at heart and by adoption and fond of adventures.

Got a Delaware Charter.

DOVER, DEL., June 12.—The following charters were filed today: The Pennsylvania Tonopah Gold Mining Company of Philadelphia, capital $1,000,000; the American Tin Plate Company of Philadelphia, capital $100,000.

BLOOD-SHED IS DETESTED BY NEW KING

Proclaimed Servian Ruler Denounces Belgrade Assassinations.

INNOCENT OF CRIME

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Geneva, June 12.—Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, the newly proclaimed king of Servia, gave an interview today in which he repeated his disclaimer of any complicity in the assassinations of King Alexander and Queen Draga. He expressed his detestation of the crime and gave a brief outline of his own political tendencies. Prince Peter said:

"It is true my partisans have a complete organization in Servia with which I am in frequent communication. I knew from other sources that the discontent of the Servian people had reached its height, but I could not possibly have foreseen the events of the other night. I in no way contributed to their preparation and I took no part, direct or indirect, in them. On the contrary, their perpetration surprised me.

PLATT HURRIES TO CAPITAL ON USELESS ERRAND

Rigid Investigation of Affairs of New York Postoffice Said to Have Caused Fears of Complication in Politics of Empire State.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 16, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12.

Senator Platt of New York came to Washington late this afternoon in something of a panic. Coincident with his arrival came important admissions from officials of the postoffice department that the investigation in New York is going through the local postoffice and reaching into the Republican state organization. And it is for this reason, it is said, that Mr. Platt has come to Washington lay the situation completely before none other than President Roosevelt himself, who will listen but never yield. Incidentally it is also said, he has come to protect the interests of Postmaster Van Cott and his son Richard, so far as they may be involved.

If Mr. Platt brings to bear any influence toward softening the investigation, he will find no comfort in Mr. Roosevelt, for the president is prepared to tell him that the investigation of the postal scandal must go to the very end if it reaches prominent Republicans in New York who are not officially connected with the postoffice department.

Senator Platt arrived at the Arlington hotel late this afternoon and immediately after went out for a drive. He returned shortly after 8 o'clock and refused to see all callers. He retired at 9 o'clock without having seen either the president, Postmaster General Payne or anyone connected with the postoffice department.

As already mentioned, the office which Richard Van Cott now holds has been before this the subject of investigation and there is on file a report of Civil Service Commissioner Proctor, date of January 29, 1900, bearing on this case. Complaint was made late in 1899 that young Van Cott was filling the position of superintendent of delivery in New York without having advanced through other grades as other experienced officers had done.

The investigation of the New York postoffice is occupying a good deal of attention from the postoffice department. Postmaster General Payne was at the department today, but did not admit the correspondents for the usual daily audience.

President Roosevelt intends to renew his inquiries into the postoffice department affairs with Postmaster General Payne and will have conferences frequently with that official. Postmaster General Payne said today regarding the case of Henry H. Rand, his confidential clerk, that any investigation rested with Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow.

BALTIMORE, June 12.—The United States grand jury filed presentments today against C. Ellsworth Upton and Thomas W. McGregor, employes of the postoffice department at Washington, for complicity in the land frauds.

found. He wounded Capt. Dimitrevic severely, but was spared because he was needed in finding the fleeing couple. Indeed, this servant showed the officers where King Alexander and Queen Draga had gone to secrete themselves. When he had told this he was shot. Col. Maschin now joined the revolutionaries and led them back to the sleeping apartment, where the king's adjutant tried to hinder the search. He shot at Lieut. Naumovics, who fell dead. The others killed the adjutant.

After a long search, a small door leading into an alcove was discovered, but was found locked. It was broken in with an ax, and here the royal couple were found. The older officers first intended forcing the king to abdicate, but the young officers were in no mood to be held back and shot at the royal couple. Nobody knows in the excitement who shot first, but it is generally said it was Lieut. Kistice.

After the murder King Alexander's body was entirely covered with blood. That of Queen Draga was badly torn by bullets. The report that the bodies were thrown out of the window into the garden is untrue. The young officers intended to do so, but Col. Maschin prevented it, exclaiming: "That would be barbarous."

At 12 minutes past 2 all was over. Col. Maschin issued from the gate of the konak, around which great crowds had collected, and made a speech, saying:

"We have now destroyed the dynasty of the Obrenovics and have got rid of the dishonorable woman who was the king's evil spirit. Long live Servia."

The people responded: "Long live the army."

BODIES TERRIBLY MUTILATED.

The autopsy held has proved that the late King received 30 shot wounds, many of them deadly. Queen Draga had numerous shot and saber wounds, and it is alleged that her body was torn in a barbaric fashion. The appearance of the royal apartments is indescribable. The doors and floors are shattered and the ruins drenched with blood.

Joyful demonstrations were indulged in by the populace throughout the day and business has not been disturbed. The radical leaders have made fiery speeches to thousands of people in the open air, declaring that the act was the will of the people as well as of the military.

Today the sisters and nieces of the late queen, who had been arrested by the military authorities, were expelled from the country. Her sisters late last night were permitted to take a farewell look at the dead queen's remains. They were subsequently conveyed by the police on board a Servian ship which brought them down to Pancova. They were lucky to escape with their lives. Another niece of the queen who was on her way from Paris to Belgrade was compelled to stop at Semlin. Ex-Queen Natalie was desirous of coming to Belgrade to see the body of her son, but was dissuaded by the government.

It is reported that the late queen bequeathed her private fortune to a bank director named Pitrovitch, who was one of King Alexander's bitterest enemies.

JEALOUSY OF WOMAN CAUSED ASSASSINATIONS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 12.—Herbert Vivian, the well-known traveler and author of a book on Servia, writes:

"I decline to believe this crime has the countenance of the Servian nation. I have conversed with all classes and know absolutely that the only malcontents were a few ladies who were jealous of Queen Draga, because they thought themselves more suitable to share the throne; a few officers who thought themselves entitled to more speedy promotion, and a few professional politicians who coveted office.

"When I last had the honor of an audience of the king he talked to me of the bad geographical position of the capital. He said no other country had a capital on its frontier. A scribe need only cross it and he could telegraph any lies he liked while the Servian officials had to wait until they were published before they could refute them. I gathered that the king contemplated making Nish the capital. It was his and Queen Draga's favorite resort, as it is King Milan's.

"Queen Draga's unfailing good humor, wit, beauty and charm conquered all hearts. The devotion of King Alexander to Queen Draga was pathetic and inspiring. Even after years of married life, when the foreign press was presenting them as clapping each other's faces, they never seemed happy half an hour apart. The Servians have oriental ideas of the subjection of women. In country houses I have protested vainly when the hostess stood and acted as waitress, while the men folk took their ease. The Servians were accordingly shocked when the queen was treated like a lady and they complained that when the king drove out in Belgrade he would gaze at her and hold her hand, instead of talking off his hat with regal regularity."

ELECTED AS TEACHER ON HER WEDDING DAY.

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 12.—(Special.)—The Uniontown school board cheerfully admits that it is no match for one of its young women teachers. Two of the teachers announced their intention to marry and did not apply for re-election, but Miss Springer quietly set about to marry and get a school too. She filed her application and left town and married Harry E. Street at Braddock yesterday. Last night she was elected a teacher in the Uniontown schools, the board being ignorant of the wedding.

IMPROVED FACILITIES FOR CRAWFORD COUNTY

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(Special.)—Representative Bates of Meadville was at the postoffice department today and arranged for the establishment of express star mail service for Guys Mills, Troy Center, Townville and Bloomings Valley in Crawford county. These towns will be served with two mails daily.

ALEXANDER'S ADHERENTS MARCHING ON BELGRADE

BUDAPEST, June 12.—The garrison of Nish, where the late King Alexander was most popular, is, according to a refugee official who has arrived at Budapest from Belgrade, marching on the Servian capital with full war equipment and artillery.

RUSSIA AND AUSTRIA MAY INTERFERE IN SERVIA

ST. PETERSBURG, June 12.—The papers here consider that the interference of the powers in Servia's internal affairs at present is not permissible, although developments might compel Russia and Austria to take action.

Woman Almost Asphyxiated.

Mrs. Morris Pearlman of No. 1206 Penn avenue, yesterday at noon locked herself in the bathroom of her home and turned on the gas. Her husband passed the door and noticed an odor of gas. Thinking something was wrong he broke in and found his wife lying on the floor unconscious. Physicians were summoned and the police report that the relative was given for her act. She will live.

Boy's Leg Crushed.

Elmer Schauer, aged 7, of the old Franklin road, Allegheny, was run over by a Perrysville avenue car last night and his right leg crushed. The accident occurred near the toll gate. The boy was jumping on and off cars and missed his footing. He was removed to Allegheny General hospital and may die.

SERVIA TO HAVE MORE TROUBLES

Immigrants from the Balkans, Now in Allegheny, Think Bloodshed Is Not Ended.

BAD CONDITIONS IN CROATIA

People Governed by an Appointee of Francis Joseph Are Getting Ready to Strongly Assert Themselves—Future Full of Trouble for Officials.

"The troubles of the Servian people will not cease with the lives of those who were assassinated," said Joseph Ljubic, secretary of the National Croatian society, last night. "Strife will continue, and other assassinations will follow. The Serbs, although they have an independent kingdom, are really dominated by the Austro-Hungarian emperor, Francis-Joseph. The real cause of the dissension is at the head of the kingdom.

"Croatia is governed by an appointee of the emperor and the latter is not discriminating in choosing his men for high official positions. In my country, as you know, the people are given no justice. They are down-trodden and massacred and have unhappier lives than slaves. They have none of the privileges accorded the most humble citizen of this country and are subject at any time to official wrath."

While speaking Mr. Ljubic displayed a number of newspapers and a letter that had been sent him from Croatia. Both the papers and the letter were mutilated and parts had been cut off.

CENSORSHIP OF THE MAILS.

"That is nothing strange," said Mr. Ljubic. "We never get papers or letters here that are not seen by the postoffice authorities in my country. Our letters are opened and if anything is found in them that displeases the employes of the government the letters are either destroyed entirely or extracts are cut out. It is only that part of the letter that the government finds no fault with that is permitted to go out of the country."

"Our friends in Croatia are familiar with these methods and exercise care in writing, as they frequently lose their lives by uttering in some communication to friends or relatives in this country some bitterness against the despotism of the authorities. Our society, of course, keeps pretty well posted on affairs in our country, but important letters are carried out of the Austro-Hungarian kingdom before they are mailed.

"All the newspapers we receive from our friends are gone through by a press censor, who clips out whole columns, at times, of news relative to government abuses. If we were to depend for news on the papers sent us through our home offices we would soon be entirely ignorant of what is going on. Such a state of affairs as this, you will understand, will not always be tolerated by any people.

REVOLTS ARE TO BE EXPECTED.

"Revolts are certain to occur, and where a government continually oppresses the people and denies them free speech and a free press there will always be a hatred among the people for the rulers. These conditions exist in every principality ruled over by Francis-Joseph, and the remedy must come from the head of the government. Until the country is ruled by one who loves his people and gives them liberty and protection from despotic and jobbing officials there is certain to be treason, revolt and murder.

"In Servia the people are treated like dogs, and have been treated so for years. Queen Draga was an unscrupulous intriguer and her husband was entirely in her power. This revolution has been brewing for some years, and its culmination is no surprise to my countrymen in Allegheny and Pittsburgh. Etc. Unless the new dynasty institutes reforms and accords justice and liberty to the people a repetition of the awful deeds of Thursday in Servia is certain to come about."

Corroboration of these remarks is given by John Marohnic, the financial secretary of the National Croatian society. The latter predicts that the reign of King Karageorgevitch will be brief and that the prince of Montenegro, will raise his son, Prince Mirko, to the Servian throne. The new king, Mr. Marohnic says, is popular in the country and Prince Montenegro is taking advantage of this popularity to accomplish a change in the dynasty. Karngeorgevitch is 69 years old now, and according to Mr. Marohnic, will not be allowed to reign long. He will be set aside or removed to make room for Prince Mirko.

ALBERT LUSK'S BODY FOUND

Victim of River Disaster at New Kensington—The Coroner's Cases.

The body of Albert Lusk, who was drowned in his efforts to rescue the victims of the river accident near New Kensington last Tuesday, in which four lives were lost, was recovered yesterday from the river near Springdale, several miles below where the drowning occurred.

Lusk was 30 years old and a foreman for the Pittsburgh Reduction Company at New Kensington. The bodies of the three boys, Joseph and August Franks and George Adam, have been recovered.

John Grlic of No. 14 Main street, Allegheny, a Croatian, married, 45 years old, died yesterday morning in the Allegheny General hospital of injuries received by falling out of the second story window of his home. Grlic was sitting on the window sill and fell asleep, dropped to the pavement below and alighted on his head. He never regained consciousness.

Joseph Cosisky, 42 years old, of No. 14 Pine street, Allegheny, fell from the second story window at his home early yesterday morning and died at the Allegheny General hospital from his injuries a few hours later.

William Quillan, 25 years old, a brakeman of Skelly, O., died yesterday at St. Mercy hospital of injuries received at Walkers Mills on the Panhandle railroad Thursday afternoon.

Henry Harris, colored, 50 years old, of Ross and Water streets, died at the Homeopathic hospital last night at 11 o'clock from an epileptic fit. He was found in his room at the Thomas hotel at noon in an unconscious condition. Deputy Coroner Hugh Dempsey was dissatisfied with the reported cause of death and ordered a post-mortem examination.

Site for New Church Secured.

St. John's Lutheran congregation of Homestead yesterday purchased a lot at Tenth avenue and Ann street, Homestead, from C. L. Parry for $10,000. A handsome church building will be erected on the property. Part of the money to buy the site will be secured by the sale of the present property of the congregation in Fourth avenue.

IN THE SUBURBS.

WILKINSBURG—Last night a reception was tendered S. A. Steel of Wilkinsburg, grand master of the I. O. O. F. of Pennsylvania, in the Penn hall, by the W. H. Miller lodge, No. 676 and Wilkinsburg encampment No. 320 of the Odd Fellows. Mr. Steel was installed grand master of the state of the order at the Reunion room on May 21. About 600 people were present.

HOMESTEAD—Samuel Debolt, a brakeman, living at No. 2510 Carson street South Side, was assaulted and robbed of his watch and $8 in a vacant lot near the Mifflin hotel Thursday night. He was found unconscious by the police.

SPRINGDALE—Joseph Richardson, a Pennsylvania railroad fireman, was seriously injured yesterday by being knocked from the cab of his engine while passing a coal chute. He is at the West Penn hospital. His home is in Steubenville, O.

MCKEESPORT—Several teachers in the High school who had arranged to conduct private classes in the High school building during the vacation months, have been refused the use of the building by the school building committee.

Killing of Alavantics, a relative of Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, in the street of Belgrade in March, 1902. The prince denies that he was concerned in the conspiracy of Alvantics against the Servian government, which resulted in his death.

KING GAVE HIS PICTURE TO PITTSBURGH WOMAN

Mrs. B. L. Merrill of Luna Street Possesses the Earliest Portrait of Karageorgevitch, the New Monarch of Servia.

King Peter Karageorgevitch's earliest portrait, a small photograph taken while the future Servian monarch was an humble student in Paris, is owned by Mrs. B. L. Merrill of No. 135 Luna street, Pittsburgh. The picture, which is reproduced herewith, was presented to Mrs. Merrill by the prince 37 years ago, when he was 23 years of age, and since had been cherished as a unique keepsake.

Mrs. Merrill was then a young girl and was being educated in Europe. In Paris with her mother she stopped at a small family hotel and the Servian pretender was among their fellow boarders. The art of photography was new in those days, and when the young prince posed before the camera he gave one of the first finished pictures to the little American schoolgirl, whom he so often met at the dining table.

"The prince was a student at St. Cyr, the celebrated French military academy," said Mrs. Merrill yesterday, recalling her early acquaintance with royalty. "In Paris he was accompanied by his cousin, Prince Topolavitch, and a private tutor. He spent several years at St. Cyr and seemed to be devoted to his studies. At the hostelry we saw little of him except at the table d'hote, and then he was in constant evidence, having the healthy appetite for good plain French cooking which his military exercises created.

"He had no entourage in Paris and lived in plain taste—I should say, perhaps, almost shabbily. He was recognized as the aspirant to the Servian throne by a small coterie of friends and political associates. There were perhaps few there who ever dreamed that some day he would figure so prominently in European history, and one evening at dinner, when he handed me the photograph, I little expected that 'is owner was destined to receive his nations' homage. Shortly after this I entered the Convent of the Sacred Heart to complete my education, and saw no more of the young prince. In the Franco-Prussian war he won a captain's commission in Napoleon's army, but we heard nothing from him after the French suffered the terrible blows at Nancy and Gravelotte.

"The prince was tall, large-boned and rather thin. He was jovial, a fluent talker in the French tongue and was considered clever, but lacked the distinguished appearance which we expect in the bearing of scions of royalty. It seemed to me that his plebian ancestry was at all times apparent. He was reputed to be an excellent swordsman and at school won high merit for his courage among his fellows.

"It cannot be said that he burned 'midnight oil.' In his student days he had no knowledge of English and his manners savored very much of those of Frenchmen. It is said that he emulated famous European kings by writing poetry, but if he engaged in any literary work, I was not favored by reading his effusions. He had a keen sense of humor, could tell a humorous story with good effect and seemed to lead a happy-go-lucky existence, so characteristic of the average French student."

CORPSES OF MONARCHS SPAT UPON BY SUBJECTS

Victims of Belgrade Assassins Rudely Buried After Exposure to Curious Crowd.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1903, by New York Herald Co.)

BELGRADE, June 12.—All day Thursday the assassins' victims, reposing in rough coffins, lay exposed to the gaze of those who had killed them and to the privileged curious. There had been unpleasant evidences of public resentment. Some even spat on the remains. Outside the palace a vast crowd awaited the removal not only of the royal corpses, but the bodies of all the other victims. They were simultaneously interred, being conveyed in hearses to Belgrade cemetery.

In the streets there was dead silence, the public being kept back by the troops. The burial service was brief and unimpressive. Two priests were present, but no high ecclesiastic.

Inside the cemetery no one was allowed but a strong force of gendarmes and a few officers. Not a single friend or relative was present to follow the remains. The royal pair were interred in a vault in the cemetery chapel. Two wooden crosses alone denote the spot, marked "Alexander Obrenovich and Draginja Obrenovich."

Col. Naumovics, who was killed by the king, was not interred with the rest of the victims, but was buried with full military honors, and is generally styled "the patriot who died for his country."

HARRIMAN BUYS RAILS.

Closes Contract With Steel Corporation for 100,000 Tons at $28 for Delivery Next Year.

NEW YORK, June 12.—(Special.)—E. H. Harriman has closed a contract with the United States Steel Corporation for 100,000 tons of steel rails for delivery next year. The rails will be used by the Union and Southern Pacific roads. They were purchased on the current year's price basis, $28 a ton. This is the first order placed by a railroad for delivery next year. The news that the books of the steel rail mills are open for business for 1904 will cause some surprise, as the general impression has prevailed that some time would elapse before the big combine would fix next year's prices for rails. The fact that the railroads are already in the field for equipment for next year and are satisfied with prevailing prices means considerable to the steel trade as well as to the railroads.

To Reinstate Mayor of Havana.

HAVANA, June 12—Gov. Nunes will tomorrow reinstate Juan O'Farrill, the former mayor of Havana, on receipt of a certificate from the court that the charges against the late mayor of responsibility in the riots last November were quashed by the passage of amnesty laws.

MRS. ROOSEVELT WALKS WHEN SHE IS SHOPPING

President's Wife and Daughter Go About Streets Like Regular Bargain Hunters.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The democratic nature of the mistress of the White House was shown today when she and Miss Alice Roosevelt, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt's private secretary, Miss Hagner, were seen shopping among the stores in Pennsylvania avenue. It is not a novelty to see Mrs. Roosevelt or Miss Alice on the street and they are not embarrassed by people staring at them or crowding about them. They walked to and from the White House and went from store to store apparently as earnestly bent upon bargains as the average woman.

Miss Alice was dressed in a suit of very light blue material made with a Russian blouse and wore white slippers, white hose and white hat. Mrs. Roosevelt was attired in a dark blue silk dress and wore a black hat. They were evidently buying in preparation for their summer outings, as Miss Alice leaves tomorrow for Boston, where she will visit relatives for a time before going to Oyster Bay for the summer.

The president and Mrs. Roosevelt dined tonight informally with Secretary and Mrs. Hay.

L. W. STRAYER.

Miner Sent to Jail.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 12—Judge Keller today sentenced Marion Marshall, the miner convicted of resisting arrest at Atkinsville last February, to eight months in jail and to pay a fine of $100. Elijah Harper and Cyrus Raines were found guilty today of the same offense committed at the same time. They have not been sentenced.

More Troops for Morenci.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The First United States cavalry left today for Lordsburg, N. M., the nearest railroad station to Morenci, Ariz., there to await further orders. The squadron comprises companies I, K, L and M. The men are without their horses, and includes about 250 men and 11 officers.

Happenings of the Day

—Dr. A. E. McCandless, city physician, yesterday examined 30 applicants for positions on the police and fire departments.

—Joseph Gearing, 18 years old, of No. 12 Said street, had his right leg fractured yesterday in jumping from a traction car in Island avenue, Woods Run, Allegheny.

—Joseph Trokic, aged 3, was severely burned by upsetting a lamp at his home, No. 81 Casa avenue, Allegheny, yesterday.

—Elmer Grimm, a bell boy employed at Newspaper Hospital, fined $18 yesterday on a charge of stealing from the hotel rooms.

—Workmen excavating for the new Central Presbyterian church at North Diamond and Sandusky streets, Allegheny, yesterday unearthed the foundation of an old log house operated many years ago by the late State Senator James J. Graham. It was about 40 feet below the street level.

BLOOD-SHED IS DETESTED BY THE NEW KING

implicate me in acts which were not mine. An attempt has been made to embroil me in the Alavantics affair when I had absolutely nothing to do with it. (Alavantics, an alleged relative of Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, tried to start a revolt in Servia March 3, 1902, but was killed in the attempt.)

HAS NOT BEEN OFFERED CROWN.

"I have received numerous messages of congratulation, but that is all. I calmly await the trend of events. So long as no formal proposals reach me I have no reason to leave Geneva, and I will remain here. No one has yet asked me to return to Servia. No one has yet offered me the crown. I am even without news of the members of my family, who reside in Belgrade.

"My opinion of the executions of the king and queen of Servia is this: I deeply regret that it has been thought necessary to shed streams of blood. I formally disapprove of the violent measures and I especially deplore the fact that the army has had recourse to such measures—an army which has nobler tasks to accomplish than assassination. It would have sufficed to force King Alexander to sign his abdication. He could have been bound, as has been done in other circumstances. It is a horrible thing to shed blood.

"You ask what will be my attitude when I am in possession of the throne; I shall not fail to take inspiration from the admirable institutions of Switzerland, which I have learned to appreciate highly. I am in favor of the absolute freedom of the press. I hope to see Servia prosper under the constitution of 1889, which is very liberal.

NEW KING A SPENDTHRIFT.

"Regarding foreign relations, it has been alleged that I am systematically hostile to Austria. That is false. Maybe I am in special sympathy with Russia, to which country I sent my boy in the hope that he would take service there."

The new king received his early education in Belgrade, during the reign of his father, being 13 years old when the family was expelled from Servian soil. Later he went to school in Posth and Temesvar, and besides repeated visits to Russia, spent several years at the small court of Prince Nicholas of Montenegro at Cettinje. While there he became the suitor of the latter's daughter, Princess Zorka, and was married to her in 1883. She died seven years later. The issue of this marriage are three children, a daughter of 19, and two sons, aged 15 and 13. Since 1891 Prince Peter has been residing in Geneva.

Because of his dissipated and spendthrift habits Prince Peter quarreled with his father-in-law of Montenegro, and also lost the good graces of Alexander III of Russia, from whom he received large gifts of money on several occasions. Since the accession of the present czar, however, there has been a sort of reconciliation with St. Petersburg and the finances of Prince Peter were put and kept on a sound basis, but he has been notoriously poor.

It is said that Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria assisted materially in this financial rehabilitation.

Powder Plants Combine.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The negotiations in progress for the absorption of the four California powder manufacturing companies by the $20,000,000 corporation recently organized under the laws of New Jersey by the Duponts of Wilmington, Del., are declared to have been practically completed. It is expected that all the California plants will pass into the control of the Dupont Company.

Spends Another Night in Jail.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Counsel for James M. A. Watson, Jr., charged with the defalcation of certain moneys placed in the custody of the auditor for the District of Columbia, late today offered a bond furnished by a bonding company in the sum of $2,000. Justice Pritchard having left the court house for the day, the clerk refused to accept it. Watson therefore will spend another night in jail.

Prisoners Planned to Escape.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 12.—Sheriff Metzgar has discovered a plan of federal prisoners to effect a wholesale delivery. Acting on secret information the sheriff searched the cells and weapons were found in the mattresses. The removal of the prisoners to Leavenworth has been postponed on account of the situation at East St. Louis.

Powder Explosion Kills Two.

TAMAQUA, PA., June 12.—Two men are known to be dead, one is missing and several injured as the result of an explosion of a large quantity of powder in the drying house of the Weldy Powder Company, near Minnters, today. The cause of the explosion is not known. The shock was so great that many panes of glass in the houses in this city were broken and buildings trembled as though shaken by an earthquake.

CONTENDING FOR SPIRIT HONORS

Two English Clairvoyants Claim They Each Predicted the Servian Horror.

SEANCES ARE GIVEN IN DETAIL.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1903, by New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, June 12.—Englishmen found that one day's feasting on the Servian horrors was enough for their appetites and whereas the newspaper placards on Thursday were devoted entirely to the Belgrade tragedy, those of Friday afternoon reverted to the happy standby of a dull summer season.

The papers of both Thursday and Friday were practically dependent for details of the tragedy at Belgrade upon the news agency dispatches from Vienna and Berlin. Quite a feature was made of the reported prediction by a spirit medium of King Alexander's assassination, and curiously enough, two clairvoyants are out for that honor.

One of them, Mrs. Burchell, gives the following version of the seance: "The paper was given to me, which contained only a kind of scrawl. I held it and it seemed to me I was on my knees, as if pleading with somebody. I seemed to be in the presence of someone who had a sword or dagger in his hand. It seemed he was going to use it. I pleaded with him not to do so. I gave the details of the surroundings and described the king, queen and also a dusky skinned person. I gave the scene very clearly, and the person who had handed me the letter said I had depicted them just as they were. I said distinctly they would be killed. I said that the incidents I described would take place soon, but I did not take any particular notice of the matter."

The other lady, Mrs. Brinckley, solemnly asserts it was she who made the prediction and she said she saw the spirit of Milan, King Alexander's father. "There were a lot of people about," said Mrs. Brinckley, "and great disorder reigned. It seemed at first as if they were all out in the open country. Then a vision of the dreadful assassination came to me. I saw a number of men attired in dark blue clothes advance toward the king and queen and several of them fired at close quarters and their majesties fell down, shot. It was a ghastly sight. The king's father exclaimed in tones of anguish: 'Oh, my son! Oh, my son! He is dead!' The tragedy was carried on with great deliberation. I afterward saw a man rise up who was proclaimed king. I also learned that the crime was a result of a deep-laid plot."

HOCKING VALLEY LEASED.

J. P. Morgan and W. K. Vanderbilt Complete Deal in London With the Lake Shore.

NEW YORK, June 12.—(Special.)—The Hocking Valley railroad is disposed of. Negotiations have been concluded in London by J. P. Morgan and William K. Vanderbilt whereby the property is leased to the Lake Shore Company for 99 years. The lease is on a basis of 4 per cent for the preferred and 5 for the common stock.

It only remains for the stockholders of both railroads to ratify the action. This ratification is practically certain, as Mr. Vanderbilt has authority to speak for Lake Shore and the Hocking Valley railroad was placed in Mr. Morgan's hands over a year ago by Myron T. Herrick and others.

Island Does Not Exist.

CAPE TOWN, June 12.—The results of the antarctic expedition, which has returned here on the steamer Gauss, disapates the tradition that Termination Island, which is marked on the map, exists. The expedition on traversing the alleged site of the island took photographs all around and the results showed no land.

WESTERN FLOODS ARE RECEEDING

East St. Louis, However, Is Still Within the Grasp of Angry Waters.

SITUATION NOT SO SERIOUS.

Embankment in One Section Threatens to Give Way—Flood at Kansas City Fallen Sufficiently to Permit Resumption of Business.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—The river continues to fall steadily. The heavy pressure of water against the Broadway embankment in East St. Louis probably will destroy a large section of that street. In some places portions of the street have caved in and tonight a large section near Eighth street went down, but the street car tracks still hold the street from giving entirely away. The water is seeping through Broadway steadily and in large quantities and sooner or later will inundate all that portion of the city south of Missouri avenue.

Lansdowne, the northeastern suburb of East St. Louis, is flooded by water from the trestle on the Baltimore & Ohio embankment at Hunter's switch.

HANNIBAL, MO., June 12.—The river has fallen 7 inches in 24 hours. All industrial plants in the city with the exception of the Burlington shops have resumed operations. Relief subscriptions are being received here, but they are being returned as fast as they come, as the city is providing for all distress found. Railroad traffic is still congested.

KANSAS CITY, MO., June 12.—C. F. Morse, president of the Stockyards Company, said today that they will be ready to receive stock tomorrow in limited quantities and by Monday will have adequate facilities. This will break a shutdown of the stockyards here that has lasted exactly two weeks.

THE COMMISSIONER EXPLAINS.

Won't Permit Flood Subscriptions to Be Taken Up in Pension Bureau.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Commissioner Ware of the pension office today made an explanation of his order of Wednesday discontinuing the soliciting of funds for Kansas flood sufferers in the pension bureau.

"I am a Kansan and I do not think it would be right to have people in the department asked to contribute to the relief of the people of my state. I have no prejudice even to the money of the employes of this office and don't care to tell them how they can spend it, but I am not going to have people make a subscription business of the Kansas fund here. If there is suffering and want, the state has millions of dollars in bank to draw on."

Were added that he had sent his check for $500. His letter accompanying the check stated that if more money were needed he would duplicate his original subscription.

LANDSLIDE FILLS CUT AND CAUSES A WRECK.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., June 12.—The side of a mountain caved in on the Southern railway tracks between Spartanburg and Asheville at noon today. Thousands of tons of rock and dirt filled one of the largest railroad cuts in the mountains of West North Carolina and effectually shut off all traffic from the south. The train which started from this place for Columbia was wrecked within two miles of Hendersonville. The engine, baggage, mail and express cars and one passenger coach were derailed. Postal Clerk Horace G. Clift and the fireman were injured.

NATIONAL SAENGERFEST WILL NOT BE POSTPONED.

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—Upon receiving assurances from the managers of all lines centering here that railroad traffic to St. Louis will be resumed next week, the local committee in charge of the arrangements for the National saengerfest announced that there will be no postponement of the great musical festival here June 17, 18 and 19.

Lumber Plant Burned.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., June 12.—(Special.)—Fire tonight at the plant of the Big Tree Lumber Company, formerly the Peveron Lumber Company of this city, destroyed four large dry kilns and about 15,000 feet of lumber. The loss is estimated at $15,000, partially covered by insurance.

over 200 new Pianos $180, $195, $210

While making a business visit in Chicago about June 1st, two members of our house met a piano manufacturer who was retiring from business and endeavoring to dispose of his plant. He had over two hundred pianos on hand which he desired to move quickly, so that he could give the new owner possession of the plant. He made us a proposition. We made him a counter proposition, based on cash settlement and immediate shipment. He took it—and we've got the pianos—coming. The only drawback in this transaction is the immediate shipment feature. Our present stock is large and we couldn't possibly find room at once for over two hundred more pianos unless our present stock is reduced quickly—but we couldn't resist the opportunity to buy those fine pianos at about sixty per cent of their wholesale cost—so they're coming and we've got to make room for them. There's only one way to reduce this present stock of pianos.

SELL THEM

Over two hundred new pianos priced at $165, $185, $210, $250, $300, $340, and these values are far below regular prices, which range from $250 to $560. Among the new pianos offered from our present stock are Smith and Barnes, Willard, New England, Hamilton, Strobber, Schumann (genuine), Biddle, Lansman, Cable & Sons, Fischer and others.

Terms either cash or easy monthly payments. We will also rent a number of these new pianos at the rate of $5 per month.

It is impossible to give full details here. We will gladly send a complete list of the pianos now offered, together with cash and time prices, if you will write for them. But our advice to you is, take next car for our store and make your selection at once.

ALLEGED BRIBERY IN M'KEESPORT COUNCIL

Selectman Parker Was Told That $5,000 Had Been Distributed, but Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Representative Denied It.

"I have been told that $5,000 has been distributed among the selectmen to favor this bill," declared Charles Parker of the Third ward, McKeesport, last night, during the special session of McKeesport select council, called to consider on third reading and final passage the ordinance by which the city of McKeesport vacates Gould alley for the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad.

"Two men made this statement to me," continued Mr. Parker. "And"——

But he could not say any more, for there was a howl of protest from a number of irate members who were on their feet. It was with difficulty that President Degsam restored order, and recognized Archibald Duncan of the Fourth ward. The latter declared that any member of a legislative body making such statements as did Mr. Parker would have to prefer charges or make criminal information under the law.

E. L. Booth, personal representative of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, who has conducted the campaign for the ordinance, asked to be allowed to speak. He said that he was able to state directly to the members and to the citizens of McKeesport that there is absolutely no truth in any charge of bribery by the company. Then a vote was taken.

When Mr. Parker's name was called he said that, although he had been in favor of the ordinance until he heard the bribery rumors, he did not think these rumors had been disposed of, and he would vote against the ordinance.

David Rosoberg of the First ward, who, up until last night had stood alone in his opposition to the ordinance, also voted no, making two nays to these yeas: Gross, Irwin, Soles, Duncan, Dersam and Selena. Dr. J. B. Black was absent, but he has been in favor of the ordinance.

The Erie will immediately begin work on the alley to further its plans for track extension. Those opposing the ordinance declared the city should have been paid $10,000 for the alley.

DRUNK, WITH A ROLL, BUT WAS NOT ROBBED

M. A. Graham, a tool dresser of Millerstown, Butler county, was given a lecture and turned loose by Supt. M. H. Campbell of Allegheny yesterday afternoon after the former had recovered from a drunken stupor that had lasted all night and part of yesterday. Graham was arrested late Thursday night by Officer Dachroth in Robinson street. The man was so intoxicated he was unable to walk. When searched at Central station there were found in his vest pocket $419 in bills and in another pocket a check for $1,150. The police were surprised that Graham wandered all evening about the lower wards without being robbed. He promised Supt. Campbell that he would be a little more discreet in the future, and was turned loose.

HAYMAKER WANTS TO STAY HANGING

Endorses Application of "Buck" Sanders for Commutation to Life Sentence.

ANOTHER MAN IS SUSPECTED

Evidence Obtained After Trial Which Raises Doubts as to Convicted Man's Guilt—Appeals Made to Save Lives of Two Other Men.

District Attorney John C. Haymaker has intervened to save the life of "Buck" Sanders, the negro, who was convicted recently of the murder of a Russian at Bridgeville, Pa., and sentenced to hang on June 23. Application for the commutation of Sander's sentence to life imprisonment has been made to the state pardon board and District Attorney Haymaker indorsed the application. Mr. Haymaker, in giving his reasons last night for signing the application, stated that it was due to doubts of the negro's guilt which had arisen since his conviction.

Another negro named Bowden is suspected of the crime, and an effort is being made to locate and arrest him by the county authorities. District Attorney Haymaker's story last night was as follows:

"Sanders was convicted of shooting and killing a Russian, who ran a speakeasy at Bridgeville. The shooting took place in the speak-easy one Sunday last fall. Four or five Russians claimed that Sanders killed the owner of the speakeasy and they identified Sanders at the trial as the man who fired the shot. No negroes testified at the trial, but afterward half a dozen came up to me and stated that they had seen the shooting, but had not been notified to appear at the trial. They stated that Sanders did not shoot the Russian, but that the murder had been committed by another negro named Bowden, who fled from Bridgeville the night of the murder.

"The story of the constable who arrested Sanders was confirmatory of the statements of these negroes. He stated that as soon as he heard of the shooting he went to Sander's house and arrested him. He found Sanders in bed, and he also learned that the statement that Bowden had left the same night was also true. Not resting easy after hearing these things I determined that the best thing to do was to get Sander's sentence commuted and try and arrest Bowden."

William Stanton, a colored attorney, is acting as counsel for Sanders in the appeal to the pardon board.

John W. Byers, who pleaded guilty to murdering August Layton at Turtle Creek, June 11, 1901, and subsequently turned state's evidence in the cases against Mrs. Williams and her husband, who were acquitted, may not hang for the crime, owing to the leniency usually shown by the commonwealth to prisoners who lend their aid in behalf of the state by testifying against others who are charged with the same crime. In this case District Attorney Haymaker has addressed a communication to the court in behalf of Byers. Judge Frazer has the petition, but has not acted upon it, owing to his absence from the city. The imposition of the sentence is expected shortly after Judge Frazer's return.

An appeal has been taken to the supreme court in the case of John Conroy, now under sentence of death for the murder of his wife. Conroy, after shooting the woman sprinkled holy water over the body, and then prayed. The appeal acts as a supersedeas.

PARTY RULES TO BE CHANGED

Republicans Will Today Provide for One County Convention to Nominate All Candidates.

FOURTEENTH WARD FIGHT

Citizen-Republicans Under W. J. Moore Are Preparing to Do Battle With the Citizen-Democrats Under James J. Booth.

In addition to electing officers, the Republican county committee at its meeting in City hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon will make some changes in the rules and adopt some strong resolutions.

One change in the rules will provide for the abolition of separate conventions for the nomination of county officials this fall. It is proposed to hold one convention in which the sheriff, district attorney, prothonotary, jury commissioner and director of the poor will be nominated. This is done to lessen the expense. By this plan one body of 580 men will do the same work which has heretofore required about 2,400. The primaries are held in September when the farmers are busy and it would be a great inconvenience for many of them to come to the city to attend the convention. Another amendment will provide for some slight changes in the Allegheny rules. A committee to revise the general rules will also be appointed.

Resolutions will be adopted thanking A. C. Robertson, the retiring chairman. There will be an indorsement of the state candidates and something will be said on the local situation. Thomas J. Ford of Etna will be elected chairman; L. L. Davis of Homestead, vice chairman; Senator Charles A. Muehlbronner of Allegheny, secretary, and D. L. Gillespie of Pittsburgh, treasurer.

STATE JOB FOR BLACK.

Ex-Mayor R. J. Black of McKeesport is depending upon Thomas S. Bigelow to secure him an appointment under Governor S. W. Pennypacker. Black is said to have demanded a $5,000 job and so far the place has not been delivered.

James A. Fairman of Allegheny is being discussed as a Republican candidate for sheriff. He is a prominent Grand Army man and had the solid indorsement of the old soldiers of the North Side for postmaster when James A. Grier was reappointed.

Another Alleghenian who is said to be in training for a high office is Representative John Francies. He was elected a member of the last house on the Citizens ticket, but when the Citizens changed policies, Francies returned to the Republican party. His friends are now talking of him for congressman to succeed George Shiras III. Francies was one of the strong men in the last house.

The Democrats of McKeesport are on record as having held one harmonious meeting of their city committee. It was held last night when Joseph Calhoun was re-elected chairman, D. J. Bristol was made secretary, Herman Lottig named for treasurer and James N. Wampler, D. J. Donovan and C. W. Gibson were empowered to change the rules.

MAKING WAR ON LEAHENY.

There is to be no compromise in the Citizen party fight in the Twenty-fourth ward. Last night steps were taken by the Citizens-Republicans to put Peter Leaheny, Democratic-Citizens leader of the Fifth district out of business. Acting under orders from W. J. Moore, who still claims to be ward chairman, Policeman James Conners called a district meeting at his home in Soho. An organization was perfected and three committeemen were elected to the Moore-Stevenson ward committee meeting to be held in the Bellefield school house tonight.

Conners and Thomas Hanlon were the two white men present. They were assisted by 18 negroes. Hanlon was elected district chairman; Moses Boxtel vice chairman; Frank Wade secretary; James Conners treasurer, and James Conners, Jacob Freeman and Walter Eskridge committeemen. Effort was made to elect Robert Wallace, a new policeman, one of the district committeemen. He declined and gave these reasons:

"I have climbed the apple tree and gotten my apple. I am in favor of allowing some of my colored brethren to climb the tree, get their apple and become great men."

Conners admits that it is his business to put Leaheny out of business politically. He says he can do it politically or physically. Conners says that there are 425 negroes in the district and that he can control them. By using their votes he intends to send Leaheny to a back seat.

The Nineteenth ward Citizens party last night organized by electing D. P. Reighard chairman; George H. Hawksworth vice chairman; I. F. Brainard treasurer; J. H. Coleman secretary, and H. W. Willis corresponding secretary. The city administration was indorsed.

MUSIC BOX PLAYS WHILE MONEY IS LOST

A Glassport constable yesterday delivered four slot machines to the office of District Attorney John C. Haymaker and they will be destroyed. One of the machines is known as a "two-bit" device. Instead of nickels 25-cent pieces must be inserted and the machine will pay as high as $10. Both of the machines are valuable and have a music box attachment.

Debate on Religious Questions.

An interesting debate on several religious questions which have taxed the brains of theologians for centuries is promised in the near future in Carnegie hall, Allegheny, between the Rev. C. T. Russell of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract society, Arch street, Allegheny, and the Rev. R. L. Paden of the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny.

ISSUE OVERSUBSCRIBED.

British Westinghouse Securities Promptly Taken—Big Orders Being Filled.

The treasurer of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, under date of June 10, has issued a circular to the holders of the trust certificates of the British Westinghouse Electric Company, in which is enclosed the circular of the British company, dated June 4, offering to its shareholders until the 11th inst., an opportunity to subscribe for $100,000 of its 6 per cent preference shares, at a premium of 10 per cent. Treasurer Siemon in his circular says:

"Owing to the limited time within which subscriptions by the holders of our trust certificates may be made, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh, has subscribed for a sufficient number of shares to include those to which its trust certificate holders will be entitled under the circular."

Cable advices announce that the issue was oversubscribed. In its circular the British company states that the orders received during the 19 months ending May 31, amounted to over $7,500,000. At the present time the British company has 5,000 men engaged at its Manchester works in the production of the material required for the execution ow the orders in hand. The local company has over 10,000 operatives in its various works, which number will be considerably increased when the new additions at East Pittsburgh, now approaching completion, are in operation. According to the figures in the circular recently issued to its stockholders, the sales of the local company for the past fiscal year were $25,000,000, and it is believed that the output for this year will considerably exceed $30,000,000.

The fact that $4,500,000 of the shares of the home company have just been taken at such a period by the shareholders at a premium of 90 per cent, and that the new issue of $2,500,000 by the British company has been over-subscribed at a premium of 10 per cent, shows the high regard for Westinghouse securities.

A meeting of the directors of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company has been called for Wednesday, June 17, to take action in regard to the July dividend, as outlined in the recently issued circular.

Cheap Tickets to Colorado

Burlington Route

We are going to make it easy for people of moderate means to spend their vacations in Colorado this summer. In the average outing the two largest items of expense are those for transportation and board.

This is the way we are going to take care of the transportation item:

From June 1 to September 30, we will sell round-trip tickets to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo at half fare plus 50 cents. This means $30.00 for the round trip from Chicago; $25.00 from St. Louis. Good returning until October 31, 1903.

From July 1 to July 10, the rates will be even lower. On these days the round trip from Chicago will cost $25.00; from St. Louis $21.00. Good returning until August 31, 1903.

We figure that the board item will take care of itself, because Colorado has so many moderate-priced hotels and boarding houses. Excellent fare and good quarters can be had for as little as $8.00 to $10.00 per week.

Send for a copy of our "Colorado Handbook"—it's free. This handy little book tells just what you want to know about the hotels and boarding houses.

Only one night on the road, Chicago and St. Louis to Denver. Trains have every convenience.

DON'T GET IN A SWEAT

Perspiration—"sweat" is what the Bible and we common people call it—is a way nature has of driving out of the body refuse that has no business there. We sweat more in summer, because, in the overheated bowels, undigested food ferments more quickly than in winter and produces irritating acids and gases. The bowels, overworked, try to relieve themselves by violent convulsions, causing terrible gripes and colics, and diarrhoeal discharges so acid as to make you sore, and leaving the intestines weak and worn out. Nature assists body-cleaning by sending the filth out through the pores of the skin. It is not safe to stop perspiring altogether but most of the impure matter should be sent out by natural movements of the bowels, and the offensive, ill-smelling, linen-staining sweat done away with. Keep your bowels strong all summer with the pleasant, candy cathartic CASCARETS, that clean the system and don't allow the excrement to be sweated out through the pores. Take a tablet every night, before going to bed. They work while you sleep and make you feel fine and cool all day.

Cascarets

The Best of Clothes for Men.

The welding together of the very best clothes and small prices constitutes the strong underpinning of our Clothing Department. It is the finer grades of suits to which we call attention this morning—just such suits, if you were to be measured, that you would expect perfect in every detail—with this difference—to measure the price would be about double.

We know very well there are numbers of men who still cling to the idea that a suit to be perfect, must be made to measure—just as the man of three score and ten thinks there were no times like the old times.

If it wasn't for progression this hustling country, even this hustling city, even, again, this hustling store, would be in a pretty state of affairs.

Without mincing matters we desire to say that beyond any question we can give men as substantially built suits as ever they stepped into, as perfect in every detail, with perfect fit in the lead. Look over these prices—come and seethe suits—try them on—and if you wish undertake to find out what same suits to measure would cost you.

Fine Black Suits, of such preferred materials as Thibets, undressed worsteds, vicuna cheviots, $20, $22, $25, $28 and $30.

Double-Breasted Frock Coats and Vests which, as a rule, are worn with contrasting trousers, at these prices: Of soft finish Thibet, medium weight, $24; of English worsted cheviot, all lined with silk, $30; of vicuna, the coat with long roll, 2 buttons, all silk lined, $33.

Trousers, in various contrasting mixtures, to go with double-breasted frock coat, $6 and up to $9.

Full Dress Suits and Tuxedo Coat Suits, $35, $38, $40 and $45.

Tuxedo Coats, $22, $25 and $30.

Men's Single-Breasted White Vests, $2.50 and on up to $5.

Young men's Fine Black Suits, Thibet and cheviot, $12.50 and up to $25.

Young men's Single-Breasted White Vests, $2.75.

Boys' Finest Clothing.

Sometimes we think people get tired of reading about the medium grades of goods—get tired of the everlasting talk of how cheap things can be bought. Pittsburgh is notorious throughout the country for its people of all classes having more money to spend than any other city. It also has the reputation of demanding good things.

In line with the above we herewith present some figures for the better grades of boys' suits—fine Sailor and Russian Blouse styles, handsomely trimmed with silk braid, detachable collar, shield and cuffs of white moire, gros grain, silk and pique.

Sailor Suits, royal blue serge, were $12, to-day $8.50.
Sailor Suits, blue, brown and red serge, were $10, to-day $6.75.
Russian Blouse Suits, blue and brown serge, were $12, to-day $8.50.
Russian Blouse Suits, blue serge, were $10, to-day $6.75.
Russian Blouse Suits, button on side, small turndown collar, no trimming, were $10, to-day $6.75.
Russian Blouse Suits, fancy mixtures and such solid colors as blue, royal blue, brown and red. Sailor Collars with shield and button-on side band collars, were $8.50, to-day $5.50.

Trivial Prices for Women's Apparel.

Skirts, Coats and Waists, in lots barely large enough to last but a few hours to-day—and there is no way of replenishing. If you're late possibly you will meet with disappointment.

$10 Sunburst Pleated Skirts. Were $18—or to put it another way choice of any of these very fetching skirts for the price of $10. There are skirts of voile, sicilian, wool crash, serge and mohair. Such colors as navy, gray, tan, or black, also blue and white polka dots. Skirts are made with or without yokes.

$12.50 Tan Covert Coats. Were $25. It is only fair to say the number is limited. These coats are made of finest Worumbo covert that sells for $4 a yard, made with wide strap collar, seam to end of sleeve, wide strap front, silk lined, turnback cuffs.
Alterations, $1.50 a garment.

$12.50 Handsome Silk Coats. Were $25. An especially fine peau de soie coat with cape, and real fine lace around collar, over shoulders, down front and sleeves. A remarkable value.
No charge for alterations.

$1.00 Stylish Shirtwaists. Were $2.50. A fine vesting cloth with a broad Persian stripe. All the waists are perfect—they are all in latest modes. Never such an opportunity for women to get a prepossessing shirtwaist for the even dollar.

$2.00 Shirtwaist Suits. This is a special lot of lawn Shirtwaist Suits, white with polka dots or floral designs, or, again, black with white dots. There are, also, some Linen Suits. Styles, tucks and pleats. And you pay only $2 for a suit.

A meeting of the filtration committee is promised for the early future. Mr. Brown declares the administration favors prompt action in the matter, with a leaning toward mechanical filters as the most satisfactory solution of the problem. We hope this means that filtration is to be pushed with all possible energy. It is certainly overdue. The growing typhoid fever death rate is discreditable to the city—doubly so in view of the fact that money for the purpose was voted by the citizens years ago and is now lying in banks drawing a much less rate of interest than is paid upon the bonds. The public will be pleased, indeed, when the constituted authorities get busy with the work of securing for the city a pure water supply.

No time was lost by the judges in giving their approval to the grand jury's recommendation for the erection of a memorial to the soldiers of the civil war. It is understood the commissioners have plans already prepared for the structure and will proceed at once with the project. The estimated cost is about $1 per capita upon the total population of the county, which is not an exorbitant sum for the patriotic and useful purpose. Toledo, we believe, was the first town in the country to give its soldiers' monument the form of a hall and armory, and its memorial building on Adams street is, next to its Scott manual training school, its most cherished institution. For the sum named Allegheny county should be able to provide a building that will assure remembrance of the brave men who bled on southern fields long after the last participant in the struggle for the union has passed away.

South America shines by contrast with the Balkan region. Reports agree that the change of government in Servia is satisfactory to practically all of the people. What need then to commit murder? There is some sort of excuse for bloody revolutions when public sentiment is sufficiently divided to pit one army against another. An example of the more humane way is afforded by the history of Brazil. When the people had decided to change their government they simply took possession of its machinery and sent the monarch into exile. He was powerless to resist and accepted the popular verdict with what grace he could summon. The Servians, on the other hand, exhibited their pitiless savagery, not only murdering the woman who was consort to their king, but wreaking their vengeance by mutilating her dead body. Barely one grade better than the cannibals of the South sea islands, because they did not eat the remains.

Is the market house paying the city what the city ought to get out of it? One man who has long had a fruit and vegetable stand has just been crowded out to make more room for another holder of a market privilege who has a strong pull with the present administration. Incidentally, it is revealed that a well located stand in the market is a mine of wealth in the hands of an enterprising person. There are also restaurant privileges, and they are said to be worth a lot of money to the persons who have them. They are in such high repute that an effort is being made by some one with a pull to have the lease of another person who has lost his pull invalidated so that the party or parties of the first part may enter upon possession of it and get rich quick. If stall and restaurant privileges are such juicy plums, why not auction them and let the highest and best bidder have them, so the municipal landlord may reap a greater return? These occasional developments of politics let in light on the situation that would seem to show that more can be got out of the market for the city than the city receives under the present system and no injury be done to anyone. It would be much better for the taxpayers to have it so than to have the market continue to be run as the annex to a political machine.

It is unfair to Gov. Pennypacker to represent him as approving "bills for a junketing trip of the legislature of 1897, when $3,500 were spent for liquors and cigars." The Harrisburg correspondent of a Pittsburgh paper misrepresents the governor and the whole matter in declaring that these bills "have received the official approbation of Gov. Pennypacker after having been vetoed by two of his predecessors." The context shows that the opening declaration is a misrepresentation. The detailed statement tells, for example, that Gov. Hastings vetoed an appropriation to pay this bill. It also shows that Gov. Pennypacker instead of approving an appropriation for payment merely approved a measure enabling the claimant to go into court and have his claim subjected to judicial processes. Without such an enabling act he could not have done so. The total claim is for $5,911 16. Suit has been brought under the permission of the enabling act and the report that accuses the governor of approving the claim shows in its conclusion that Attorney General Carson, representing the governor, is resisting it, declaring that the claimant "will be required to prove every item of his bill, and also the legality of the contract under which the goods are alleged to have been supplied." If he cannot prove the legality of his claim that will end it. The governor has not approved; the courts may or may not. That is yet in the future, but approval or disapproval will be a judicial and not an executive act.

Not a Question of Law.

Just to show that all old soldiers look alike to the city administration, the Democratic city treasurer yesterday handed their resignations to three veterans of the late war who have held clerical positions in the office. The defense of the administration in the case brought against the mayor to compel the reinstatement of old soldiers discharged from office is, first, that the act giving them permanent tenure during good behavior is unconstitutional, and second, that if it isn't unconstitutional it ought to be, and, anyhow, the mayor and his subordinates have a right to discharge them under a provision of the charter that is pointed to with pride as an open door through which the veterans and others may be shoved to make room for the "reform element" on the inside. But whether the act for the benefit of the defenders of the union is constitutional or unconstitutional, and whether the mayor has or has not the right to separate the old soldiers from their means of livelihood in the public service, it is very clearly demonstrated in what has occurred that service rendered to the nation on the field of battle constitutes no claim on the municipal administration. Resolved into its simple elements, the matter is not a question of the law and the constitution, but of disposition and intent. If the constitution does not compel the retention of the old soldiers in office, it does not compel their discharge, so that at the end of the chapter, while it may be decided that the statutes designed to protect do not protect, the whole book reads that the municipal government is against the protection the framers of the statutes intended to give. If the statutes do not, after all, afford the shelter that is claimed for honorably discharged veterans, the fact, while it may shield from the consequences of punitive provisions those who tear away the shelter does nothing more. It neither justifies nor excuses the discharges. The legal defense is not one that is satisfying to public sentiment. If there is held in reserve a justification that the public can unreservedly approve now is the time to give it publicity. The people are less concerned about the lawfulness of the proceedings of ouster than they are about the propriety and decency of it.

The Flag of the Nation.

Whether the observance of June 14 as national flag day be inspired by accurate historical data, placing the Betsy Ross flag incident on this day, or whether patriotic sentiment, pure and simple, be the motive, it is an excellent custom and should be encouraged. Of course, in some respects every day in the year should be "flag day," but in thus specially commemorating the adoption of the national emblem an educative and helpful reminder is afforded of the nation's history and the relation the beautiful banner with its stars and stripes has had to our progress and achievements as a people. This year the date of celebration falls on Sunday, but this should in no wise interfere with its general and patriotic observance. Today or Monday should be used by every owner of a flag for its display, and those who have no flag should lose no time in acquiring one. The display on Sunday will be no offense. Religion and patriotism have always been twin inspirations to duty, and their exercise on the same day should strengthen rather than interfere with the ardor and sincerity of both.

It is not so much the detailed account of the origin of the flag or why it came to be adopted that is interesting in connection with its commemorative display, as the relation it has always sustained to national achievements and the love and heroism its appearance has inspired in the breasts of those who have fought or died defending it. It is a beautiful emblem, and to teach our youth veneration and respect for it is one of the sacred duties of American citizenship.

The Frightened Powers.

It now seems probable the great powers of Europe will accept the Belgrade assassination as a purely domestic affair of the Servians and recognize the new government when the king is proclaimed by the skuptschina. Such at any rate is the outgiving at Berlin in connection with the information that the governments of Europe have been exchanging views upon the subject. The emperors and kings do not approve the Servian methods—they could not approve their application to themselves—but their suspicions, each of the other's motives, constrain them to prefer maintenance of neutrality and the status quo rather than risk interference that might tear the map of Europe to tatters. In this aspect of the matter Russia is the temporary gainer of whatever accrues from the friendship of a turbulent petty state.

Meanwhile disinterested observers may doubt the wisdom of a policy of inaction in dealing with such an outrage as the assassination of a royal family and the loyal ministers of a sovereign by his soldiers. Servia is a part of the Balkan region which has been broiling in trouble since the opening of this year. Over the border in Russia the spirit of violence found vent in the horrible Kishineff massacre, and over the border of the Austro-Hungarian empire, on the other side, is the scene of the Croatian revolt. It is worth while to consider what will be the effect upon all the restless, bloodthirsty ignorance of southeastern Europe of silent acquiescence by the powers in the results of unprecedented violence. Ignorant as the people of the Balkan states and the neighboring provinces are, it is not to be supposed the shrewd agitators among them will fail to advise them that the restraining powers are silent because they are afraid of each other. The wily Turk has played contending forces against each other while he has gratified his savage instincts with impunity. The Balkan agitators are not less cunning, and so the wise diplomatists who are counseling silence to preserve the peace may awake to find their policy a firebrand igniting the flames of passion that may involve all Europe in a conflagration.

Of course, it is possible the war spirit may die in the disturbed region as unaccountably as the thirst for blood has been aroused. The worried ministers of empires may be counting upon that. At the least they are hoping for such an outcome and taking the chance that safety lies in postponement of any reckoning.

The Business Situation.

The liquidation in progress in Wall street for months past reached an acute stage during the week and on Wednesday threatened a crisis. The movement began early in the year. It was in the nature of a house-cleaning process forced by the banks, who feared a repetition of money market experiences of last winter. It was proceeding in a healthy and satisfactory manner when friction occurred between large railway financiers, and this, together with the rumors which such a situation always begets, accelerated the decline and undermined confidence. This was the condition of affairs on Wednesday, when the average of market values reached the lowest level for three years. The outlook was grave enough to warrant a thorough investigation of basic conditions. This investigation was made by New York, London and continental bankers, and as a result the assurance was given that legitimate financial conditions are sound, and that there were no grounds for the alarm manifested in the stock market. The relief was instantaneous and was reflected in advancing prices on Thursday and Friday.

The events of the week in the stock market are not without value to the general public, including those who have been compelled to sacrifice paper profits. The chief value lies in this, that the old standards may still be relied upon as a guide to business operations. A year or so ago, when conservative financiers were pointing out that the market was inviting the perils of over-speculation, the leaders of the street, by action and word, were proclaiming a new order of things in which modern standards were being established and old standards rendered obsolete. The prestige of temporary success counted for something, but the history of the past six months demonstrates that old principles of finance and trade are still sound, and that experience is still a safe guide.

The weather has continued to be an important factor in business affairs. The west and south have had an excess of moisture and low temperatures, and while cotton has been seriously damaged and the condition of wheat reduced, the yield of the latter will be above the average. The conditions of winter wheat on the 1st inst. was estimated at 82.2, a decline of 10.4 points compared with the May average, but the indicated yield of 483,000,000 bushels is larger than the best previous harvest. The condition of spring wheat is estimated at 95.9 and the indicated yield 298,000,000 bushels, which is also larger than ever before. The total of 782,600,000 bushels for both winter and spring wheat is 112,000,000 bushels in excess of the amount harvested last year, which was with one exception the largest wheat crop ever raised in the United States. Our exports of breadstuffs for the month of May were valued at $15,859,627, an increase of about $2,000,000 over the corresponding month last year, but a decrease of $10,000,000 compared with the same month two years ago. During the current month there is not likely to be much increase in exports of grain, but on July 1 the English duty will be abolished, and this should be followed by a large increase in shipments. So far as the corn, hay and fruit crops are concerned the outlook is less favorable, but taken as a whole there is nothing discouraging in agricultural conditions.

The monthly furnace report shows another record has been broken, the weekly capacity of pig iron furnaces in blast on the 1st inst. being 298,139 gross tons, the largest ever reported. There was a slight increase in stocks on hand, but generally speaking the trade is in a healthy condition.

Bank exchanges and railroad earnings reflect continued activity in financial and commercial circles, and sentiment at the close of the week was more confident than it has been for some time.

Plans are announced for the reorganization of the building trades in four sections, under the jurisdiction of the Trades Council. The movement is not specifically directed to the settlement of the existing dispute between the bricklayers and stone masons, but was suggested by that trouble and is designed to prevent any recurrence of similar warfare. If the reorganization can certainly accomplish the intended result it is a good thing that should be pushed along. The existing tie-up is absurd and is, moreover, injurious to the general interest of organized labor.

Allegheny is surprised and the wider public mildly startled by the intelligence that an intoxicated man was found by the police in the gutter in the First ward of that city with a large sum of money in his pockets. He had not been robbed.

The "oldest inhabitants" of the next generation will have to be careful when speaking of the weather "back in 1903" that they don't get the January and June cold spells mixed in their minds.

The poet who pipes of the sweet June day,
Its flowers and landscape so pleasing,
Should be sure to take in his Muse over night
Or the poor thing's pipes ll be freezing.

King Edward has given a royal gold medal to the architect who had charge of the recent remodeling of the White House. In Washington they have only given him fits.

It begins to look as though it was a mistake not to have equipped the park shelter places with oil stoves for the comfort of Sunday visitors.

With the cooks and waiters all on strike, eating will be almost as much of a novelty with the Chicagoans as clean linen was a few days ago.

The Hon. Bourke Cockran is a candidate for matrimony. Being a candidate of one kind or another is not a new experience for Bourke.

The small boy who imagines the Fourth of July begins about the middle of June should have his patriotism forcibly repressed.

The floods in the west might give Mr. Bryan a chance to attack the theory of irrigation without the consent of the irrigated.

While the June bride is all right in her way it should be remembered that there are 11 other varieties in the course of a year.

In Breathitt county, Kentucky, they take 'em off one at a time, but in every other respect the process is thoroughly Servian.

The Hon. Billy Mason might get even with Gov. Yates by consenting to accept the vice presidential nomination himself.

Automobiles may be very dangerous but at least the people who ride in them do not wear bloomers.

There has been considerable doing recently in the zoological annex of Wall street.

Summer seems to be taking something of a vacation herself this year.

MAYOR AND VETERANS.

William B. Hays, mayor of Pittsburgh, will have to answer at the bar of the criminal court of Allegheny county at this term to the indictment handed down yesterday by the grand jury charging him with violating the law of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which prohibits the discharge of old soldiers from public positions without just cause. The prosecutor will be John C. Haymaker, district attorney, and a recent competitor of Mayor Hays for the office which the latter holds. The case will attract attention all over the state and in the other states, as it is the first time in Pennsylvania that a test has been made of the power of state, county or municipal authorities to remove old soldiers from public positions with an act on the statute books prohibiting the same. It is stated that New York and Massachusetts have similar laws and that in these states in test cases the law was upheld by the courts.—Altoona Gazette.

Pittsburgh's mayor has been indicted for removing an office holder in violation of law. The mayor probably concluded that this particular statute was made to be broken.—Steubenville (O.) Herald-Star.

o o o

Mayor Hays of Pittsburgh has been indicted by the grand jury for violation of the state law in removing an honorably discharged old soldier from the employ of the city without cause. The suit was brought by the officers of the Grand Army and the Union Veteran legion to compel the reinstatement of Samuel Moore, an ordinance officer, from which he was relieved by Mayor Hays "owing to the change of administration." The explanation certainly was very frank, but does not state sufficient cause under the terms of the law. The case will be watched with interest, and if won by the old soldiers will result in many more suits being entered.—Washington (Pa.) Journal.

A TERROR TAMED.

Dick Deadeye was a bandit bold, a bandit fierce was he, who held up stages, trains, and things here in the west countree.
He'd lie in waiting in a place where chaparral grew thick, and when the stage came on apace would turn his little trick.
His name would cause a thrill of fear to sweep the country o'er, for rumor said he quenched his thirst on naught but gurgling gore.
The many men that rumor said he'd downed in gun disputes would fill a graveyard to the brim with stiffs yet in their boots.
The cash and treasure he had got from tourists —as a loan—was heap times more than was required to ransom Ellen Stone.
"Hands up!" he yelled one day to the man who drove chawed not the rag, he knew Deadeye would give him 10 percentum of the swag.
"Climb down an' git in line!" unto the passengers he yelled. They quick obeyed as tourists do when they are upward held.
From out the stage a female came. Dick Deadeye quaked with fear, as near him drew the ancient dame and seized him by the ear!
"You good-for-nothin' wretch!" she cried, "you relic of the past, I've sought you far, I've sought you near, and here you be at last!
"I'm all impatience now to hear what story you kin tell!" And then she pulled him by the ear into the chaparral!
Anon the wheels began to hum, the driver scratched his head. "That 'ere be Deadeye's wife, jes come 'yar from the states," he said.
—James Barton Adams, in Denver Post.

ERASMUS WILSON.

An habitation giddy and unsure
Hath he that buildeth on the vulgar heart.
—Shakespeare.

There is not a great flood of tears sweeping over Servia on account of the removal of King Alexander and Queen Draga by sudden death.

Real tears flow unbidden, you know, while those that flow to order are merely brackish wafers.

It must have been a terrible night in Belgrade, but was it any more terrible than that night of revelry in Belgium's capital when she had gathered—

"Her beauty and her chivalry, and bright
The lamps shone o'er fair women and brave men.
A thousand hearts beat happily; and when
Music arose with its voluptuous swell
Soft eyes looked love to eyes which spoke again
And all went merry as a marriage bell?"

But, you may say that the noise which startled this merry crew and broke up the dance, was the opening guns of the famous battle of Waterloo.

True, but what difference in the matter of results?

For what does Waterloo stand?

For what the massacre at Belgrade?

And which the greater massacre—Belgrade or Waterloo? Was it not in either case one ambition to rule against another equally ambitious, with the difference that at Belgrade the people were anxious to get rid of a bad ruler.

Had the people of this poor, war-torn country gotten up a regular rebellion, gathered two armies, fought battles and killed thousands it would have been a glorious thing, and all the more renowned had the king and queen been slain in a grand assault upon the palace.

But as it was not one large army against another we call it murder, assassination, bloody riot, although the end attained is just the same as if it had been gained at the cost of thousands of lives instead of scores.

The civilized world is shocked!

At what? The small loss of life, the brevity of the war, and the suddenness of the change of rulers?

A short, sharp and decisive revolt the civilized world calls murder. A revolt long drawn out it terms a revolution, and dignifies the fighting by calling it war.

Ez fer war, I call it murder—
There you hev it plain and flat;
I don't want to go no furder
Than my Testyment fer that.
—Lowell.

* * * * *

Of course the Belgrade affair was lacking in the "pride, pomp and circumstance of glorious war," but it was quickly over, and—

"If it were done when 'tis done, then 'twere well
It were done quickly: if the assassination
Could trammel up the consequence, and catch
With his surcease success; that but this blow
Might be the be-all and the end-all here,
But here, upon this bank and shoal of time
We'd jump the life to come. But in these cases
We still have Judgment here; that we but teach
Bloody instructions, which being taught, return
To plague the inventor; this even-handed justice
Commends the ingredients of our poison's chalice
To our own lips." —Macbeth.

It is done, however, and two of the more undesirable royal bloods are cut for good and all, and that with but a minimum loss of innocent blood, or any considerable sacrifice of valuable lives. The world can well spare whatever remnants are left of the Alexander and Draga blood, and the people will not bother greatly about the manner of their taking off, only so it is effective.

Queen Draga—a name suggestive of dragon—lacked so many elements of greatness that her name will hardly outlive the year in which she died, while Alexander will be forgotten sooner.

* * * * *

You may rest assured your sins will find you out sooner or later. You may think you have them so well covered that they will never come to light, but at very best they are only covered over lightly—so lightly that a few days may detect them. And surely there are plenty of keen eyes on the lookout for the sins of others, and when found they will be dragged out and made common spoil.

While we may never know how many great sins have been effectually hidden, or how many guilty secrets lie buried in the grave, yet it would seem there are very few as compared with those which have come to light—returned to plague their inventors.

It could not well be otherwise when no man is smarter than any other man, and none so shrewd as to be able to completely hide himself for all time. Nature has so arranged the matter that whatever manner of man you are it shall be known—known to some, if not to all. It is well that it is so arranged, for there are those who would hide their vices as carefully as others would hide their sins.

Be sure your sins will find you out, and then comes the reckoning in which your account will be justly and rightly adjusted, and you will get all that is coming to you, and no more.

Do you ever think of the time of reckoning, and of what it has in store for you?

* * * * *

Nations are individuals in the sight of God, and are dealt with as such. At least the laws made and provided for the individual apply to the nation, which is but a composite individual.

Could you see the composite individual of a single neighborhood you could make a fair estimate of the reputation of the neighborhood, and a tolerably safe guess as to its worth to the world. And all you lack of being able to see a community as one individual is your inability to comprehend force, and to generalize it. To you each individual is a separate or distinct force.

There is much sense and wide meaning in the expression, "The people rose up as one man." It simply means that a great mass of separate, distinct individuals became one—one in sentiment, feeling and purpose.

The force and power of a crowd, or mob is much greater than the force and power of the same number of individuals more or less widely scattered.

There may be a thousand revolutionists distributed in a community, each of which is earnest and active, but they are powerless for harm, or for good, until they get together, become an individual, and think and act as one man. Then there is something doing worth while.

* * * * *

No man is greater than all the people. He may excel any other single individual but he cannot equal all together.

Nor does any individual constitute the type of any community or class. He may be a good representative of the type, but when he presumes to be the whole thing he is no longer a fair type. Just as a man may fairly represent a political party, but he cannot become the party.

In short, when a man, be he king or what not, comes to think that he is the whole thing he is near his finish. His superior power is delegated by the people whom he serves as a representative, and when he ceases to recognize the source of his power, and presumes to rule the people as a master rather than to serve them as leader and director, his power is gone.

This is more noticeable as you ascend the scale of intelligence, for the more intelligent people are the less fear they have of those in power. They will stand about so much bossism, and no more. The wise boss is he who knows the limit and refrains from breaking over, no matter how great the temptation.

* * * * *

The most successful rulers throughout the world are those who acknowledge the source of their power and know its limits. The people may not all know exactly why they oppose a ruler, but they feel that he is not the man for the place. A born leader will have no difficulty in arousing these people to revolt against their autocratic rulers.

The Servians are an example of long suffering under incompetent rule. King Milan was not only a sensuous, wicked man, but he was indecent and disreputable through and through. His queen, Natalie, had the sympathy of good people everywhere, and when he divorced her she was showered with congratulations. His boy, Alexander, went wrong when he left his mother and returned to his father. His next grave mistake was in marrying Draga, an ambitious, intriguing woman whose stronghold was her knowledge of the doings in and about the palace.

But, as it was written, their sins found them out, and the people, from whom they derived whatever power they may have had at any time, cast them off as unfit to represent them, and unworthy of their support, much less of their respect.

Quick Action Required.

A man has to be pretty quick to get on the president's bandwagon. It is going with the speed of an automobile.—Philadelphia Press.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 12.—Anyone who feels disposed to give away two good Jersey cows and a family horse can find a recipient in the Salvation Army in this city. The army has just paid $13,000 for 70 acres of land near Spring Valley, in this state, with a handsome residence and other buildings upon it, which will be used as a summer home for poor city children. It will be known as the "Cherry Tree Home for Waifs and Strays," and will take the place of the army's old "Cherry Tree Home," at Rutherford, N. J., which has no grounds to speak of. The new property is ready for occupancy, although $2,000 will be spent on it in improvements. Forty children have been sent there already. The plan is to send fresh relays of little ones each week, so that the greatest good for the greatest number may be attained. There are 25 rooms in the house and there will be a fresh air camp in the grounds which will accommodate 100 persons. A lake will give facilities for boating, bathing and fishing, and there is an apple orchard of 10 acres. All the army wants for the place now, in addition to any money that may be contributed is a horse and two cows. So many summer homes are provided for New York's tenement children that it seems as if all of them might enjoy a holiday in the hot weather if their parents would only take the trouble to apply.

Prefer City to Country Life.

It is a fact often commented on that it is difficult to get tenement dwellers to leave New York city to live, even in the most stifling weather. There are cheap fares to surrounding places where fresh air is plentiful and living cheaper than on the squalid East Side, or the no less noisome West Side. But the women who has always lived in a narrow street in one or two rooms would rather be there than in a roomy house outside of New York. As for the man, he will usually do what his wife wishes, but his preferences are decidedly for the city. Well-meaning persons are always trying to devise ways of getting these tenement dwellers into the country to live, but they always run against a snag in the people themselves, who are satisfied with their condition, even though they are perpetually grumbling.

Seaman Kidnaps Kaffir Girl.

An unusual crime is charged against a fireman or board a British steamship now lying in this harbor. The police say that he kidnaped a Kaffir girl at Cape Town and brought her to this country in the engine room dressed in men's clothes. Two other firemen are implicated. They turned her adrift in Brooklyn, still in men's raiment, and she was picked up by the police. Now every man in the steamhold of the ship will have to answer to one of the most serious charges ever made by the immigration authorities at Ellis Island. Uncle Sam is particularly down on kidnapers of all kinds.

Lipton's Fleet Expected Today.

It is expected that Sir Thomas Lipton's flotilla will be here tomorrow morning. The Irish knight will come on the Oceanic a little later. The Lipton fleet, which is made up of the steam yacht Erin, a tug and the Shamrock II. and Shamrock III., is due at this port about tomorrow, assuming that weather on the Atlantic has been fairly decent for the past week.

Bootblacks' Right in Office Buildings.

An interesting decision as to the right of persons to enter office buildings to the pursuit of their ordinary avocations, which may affect other cities besides New York, has been made by the supreme court. A colored man who had a bootblack stand in the hallway of a building, quarrelled with the owners, and they ordered him to remove his stand. He obeyed, but walked on customers in various offices with a box and brushes which he carried. The owners made him stay out altogether and he sued them for $2,000 damages. The court awarded him $500. If this stands as a precedent, it will settle a question which has come up here and there many times of late.

Reynolds Looking for Singers.

John B. Reynolds, the Pittsburgh amusement manager, is in Broadway today. He is looking after star singers for his opera company at the Duquesne garden and will return to Pittsburgh tomorrow. He says that he finds his system of changing the principals in his company at the garden every week is a good one and he intends to continue it through the season.

Many Umbrellas Wrecked.

It rained hard enough this morning to keep everyone indoors whose business did not compel him to be out. The wind hurled around the Flatiron building in its most wickedly aportive fashion and ruins of umbrellas strewed the roadway there and at other blustry spots in Broadway. In the afternoon there came a change. The sun came out intermittently and although rain sprinkled now and then the afternoon generally was not unpleasant. The department stores did a rushing business between 2 and 5, and would doubtless have done more only that shoppers expect a fair day tomorrow.

Greene Squeezing the Grafters.

Police Commissioner Greene says that the blackmailing of saloonkeepers has been going on steadily, in spite of all that has been done to stamp out such practices. He has suspended one captain and is after others. The commissioner will not allow grafting by policemen if it can be stopped, and he thinks it can. Unfortunately New York policemen have been so long in the habit of squeezing saloon men and others who wanted some privilege that the law would not give them that it has been hard to let them go when there was a chance to make a few graft dollars. Things are getting livelier at Mulberry street.

Another Sure Winner Beaten.

When River Pirate romped home an easy winner in the second race at Gravesend today there was a howl of disappointment from some thousands of good people who had bet more or less on Hermis. One of the tipsters this morning announced that the race was practically a gift to Hermis. He was called in the jargon of the turf bureaus a "one horse wire." River Pirate ran ahead of him all around the course, coming in an easy winner. The victory of River Pirate is particularly interesting to Pittsburghers from the fact that he was brought from the west as a yearling by Capt. S. S. Brown, who sold him to Trainer Madden for $12,000. Madden disposed of him for $20,000 to Perry Belmont, who owns him now. River Pirate's victory today is said by the knowing ones to have been due to the muddy track and the bad handling of the favorite.

The Servian Tragedy.

The bloody scene that was enacted in Belgrade extinguished a dynasty. The dispatches which describe it read like a chapter of Slavic history belonging to the dark and dreadful period when czars and boyars contended by open violence, by dark intrigue and by midnight murder for a fitful and temporary supremacy.

It is seldom that history shows so extraordinary and so complete a revolution effected in so short a time. The king is dead and with him perished also the queen and her aspiring brother. There remains no claimant who can contest the throne with Karageorgevitch. Just how this dynastic bouleversement will affect the relations of Servia to the greater powers can be determined only by the frame of events. It is known that the new king has not been persona grata at the Russian court. It is known also that at one time he received some left-handed signs of encouragement from Austria. But of late his claims have been little spoken of, and he has remained in an obscurity which is now seen to have concealed a network of successful intrigues. The situation will be cleared when the skupshtina has assembled in accordance with the proclamation issued by the premier.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

+ + + +

In the tragedy just enacted at Belgrade, King Alexander has fallen a victim to the folly of his father, and the Obrenovitch dynasty disappears from history. Instead of being an outburst of local passion against the person of Queen Draga, it is the culmination of long years of intrigue carried on against the reigning family by the rival claimants of the Servian throne, the Karageorgevitches, whose leader led the revolt against the Turks in 1804 and was later assassinated by a partisan of Milosch Obrenovitch, who had supplanted him after he had been forced to take refuge in Austria.

At any other time such an event would have caused a stir in European politics, but in the present condition of affairs in the Balkans it is of special gravity. It is not even certain that the powers directly interested in the stability of affairs in the Balkan state will recognize the new king, and it is within the bounds of possibilities that there may be an intervention to maintain order. It is not even certain that Servia will remain Servia, though her transformation implies political disturbance on some far larger scale than would fit her boundaries, in any event a new turn has been given to Balkan politics the end of which it is not easy to foresee.—New York Sun.

The chief offense against Alexander seems to be not maladministration, but loyalty to the woman he had married. It is a curious accusation against a son of King Milan, and the fate of the unfortunate young monarch recalls the biblical declaration that the sins of the fathers shall be visited upon the children. Whatever may have been the rights or wrongs of his government there can be but one opinion in the civilized world concerning the manner in which he was "done to death" and his steadfastness to the woman he had chosen, and in whose defense he died will throw the tinge of chivalry over his memory. Disraeli said that assassination has never changed the history of the world and the immediate future of Servia will be studied with keen interest.—New York Herald.

+ + + +

It cannot be that a change in government wrought by means so horrible will be either lasting or beneficial to the people of the country in which it has occurred. Where murder is accepted as a political weapon those who rise by assassination are usually doomed to fall by it. And it is not to be believed that Europe will recognize or tolerate a dynasty that has been restored by crimes so cruel and terrible as to fit the morals and politics of the darkest orient.

Karageorgevitch will mount the Servian throne over the dead bodies of murdered men and women and through pools of royal blood. He and his are mere assassins, foul as the wretches who have rendered the name of Kishineff immortally infamous. His reign will be brief.—New York American.

+ + + +

There is at present no reason to believe that the atrocious massacres in Belgrade have any worldwide significance. The time has gone by when the civilized world could be aroused even by minor disturbances in that section. It is apparent that the local troubles are intense and it may be that the army which has overturned the dynasty so drastically may hope for foreign interference, but the news at present does not indicate this.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

+ + + +

This tragic revolution should surely give Europe pause in her complaints of the imbecility of governments in some minor American states. These Balkan states are in a peculiar sense the wards of the great powers. Yet we have seen a prince of Bulgaria kidnapped and forcibly deposed, and the greatest statesman of the country in the Balkans foully murdered by political foes; and now a whole dynasty is exterminated, a queen and her sister being hewn down with axes. Really, we can recall nothing quite comparable with that in Central or South America.—New York Tribune.

+ + + +

What sort of reception will the civilized governments of the world give to the new king after he has literally waded through blood to his throne? In the middle ages he would have been effusively welcomed, and that is the spirit of the Servians now. Will the other sovereigns send special embassies to congratulate Peter upon the favor with which it has pleased providence to honor him? Or will he be treated like poor Queen Draga, who was "cut" by the wives of the

THIRTEENTH WARD ABANDONS FIGHT

Leaders of the Movement to Remove Pesthouse Give Up All Hope.

WILL NO LONGER INTERFERE

Mayor Hays Says Hospital Addition Will Be Built on Present Site and Contractors Will Not Be Stopped—New Route is Planned.

The Thirteenth ward contingent have abandoned the fight for the removal of the pesthouse, according to the declaration of leaders of the movement and members of councils from the ward. W. C. McEldowney, one of the principal figures in the fight to take the hospital from the Thirteenth ward, said yesterday:

"I have given it up. It is a lost cause and the ward has no chance to win. The blame rests with the administration."

Common Councilman C. C. Schad of the Thirteenth ward expressed the opinion that it was no use for the residents of the hill district to keep up the fight. Councilman Schad stated it would be useless to put a resolution in councils to stop work on the erection of the new hospital on the present site, and that no further interference would be attempted on the part of the Thirteenth ward people.

William McElhaney said that the city administration would be given until the last of June to do something to help the Thirteenth ward, and that if the ordinance for the purchase of the Andrews farm, in Robinson township was not passed by the last of the month another mass meeting would be held and the blame put upon the city administration. He stated that some facts in connection with the proposed purchase of property adjoining the pesthouse for the purpose of enlarging the present grounds would be made public.

Mayor Hays said yesterday that the contractors would not be interfered with again, and that he did not anticipate councils would pass a resolution to stop them. The mayor said the city might have a damage suit on its hands because it stopped the contractors six or eight months ago, when the work was started. The contractors claim the prices of labor and material have advanced since and that they have suffered loss by reason of the delay.

The mayor proposes to use the Grant boulevard to transport patients to the posthouse by an old road from the boulevard, east of the hospital. This road is to be regraded and widened for the purpose, and the mayor says it will keep the patients away from the populated downtown section.

FILTER PLANTS TO BE VISITED

New Commission Planned by Mayor Hays to Make Trip Over the Country.

EARLY ACTION IS PROMISED

Chairman Brown Says a Meeting of Council Committee Will Be Held Next Week—He Asserts Sand System is Passing Out of Use.

A promise has been made by the administration councilmen to take up the filtration matter next week. Chairman Thomas M. Brown said yesterday that a meeting of the general filtration committee would be held on Wednesday and the sub-committee will meet on Tuesday and prepare its report to the larger body on the day following.

Chairman Brown indorses the plan of Mayor Hays to submit the whole question of filtration to a new commission composed of members of councils, and a report in favor of the executive's suggestion will probably be adopted by the council committee.

"I think the mayor's plan a good one. It is my opinion that the old English system of filtration is fast passing away, and that it will soon be supplanted by the mechanical method. I think a commission ought to be appointed and visit some of the largest filtration plants of the country. There is a very successful mechanical plant at Little Fall, and this should be inspected.

"Several things have influenced me toward the mechanical system. The city of Cincinnati has spent millions building a sand filtering plant and it won't filter. The last commission made a report that was practically a toss-up as to which system was the best—sand or mechanical.

"With the report of the last commission and the data that has been collected to start on, I don't see why the new commission should not be able to visit plants and arrive at a decision without a long delay."

It is understood that the city administration will make Mr. Brown chairman of the new commission to reopen the filtration matter.

THE DEATH ROLL

Gen. Alexander McDowell McCook.

Gen. Alexander McDowell McCook, U. S. A., retired, suffered a third stroke of paralysis yesterday morning and died a half hour later at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Craighead of Dayton, O. Gen. McCook went west from Washington a few weeks ago and shortly afterward suffered a mild stroke of paralysis. This was followed a few days later with a second stroke more serious than the first, but, despite this fact, it was believed that the general would recover. He appeared to steadily improve until yesterday. Mrs. McCook, the widow, Mrs. Chauncey Baker of Washington, D. C., a daughter, and Mrs. Craighead were at the bedside at the hour of parting. Details for the funeral of Gen. McCook have not been perfected, but it is probable that the services will be held at Dayton next Monday. The burial will take place at Spring Grove cemetery, Cincinnati, where are buried the other members of the McCook family. Gen. McCook was one of the most famous of the celebrated "Fighting McCooks." His father, Daniel McCook, was born at Canonsburg, Pa., and, although 63 years old, during the Civil war he offered his services to the Union, was commissioned a major and was mortally wounded while commanding a party that intercepted Morgan's raid. Daniel had nine sons in the Federal service, including Alexander. Gen. McCook was born in Columbiana county, O., April 22, 1831 and graduated at the military academy at West Point in 1852. He was promoted second lieutenant of the Third infantry, and rose rapidly in the service. He was engaged in duty on the frontier. At the outbreak of the Civil war he served as mustering and disbursing officer at Columbus, O., was engaged in the action of Vienna, June 17, and in the battle of Bull Run, July 21, 1861. In September of the same year he was assigned to the command of a division in the Army of the Ohio, participating in the movement through Tennessee. He was appointed major general of volunteers in July, 1862, was rapidly advanced for bravery in the field, and was made major general on March 12, 1865. Gen. McCook was with a joint commission of congress investigating Indian affairs, May to October, 1865; was then on leave of absence and waiting orders to March, 1867; resigned his commission as major general of volunteers in October, 1865, and was made lieutenant colonel of the Twenty-sixth infantry, 1866; promoted to colonel of Sixth infantry in 1880. He was made brigadier general in 1890 and assigned to command of the department of Arizona. In 1894 he was commissioned major general and retired in 1895. In late years Gen. McCook was stationed at Ft. Leavenworth as commandant of the school of instruction for infantry and cavalry. He recently established his home in Washington, D. C. Gen. McCook was a second cousin of Attorney Willis F. McCook of Pittsburgh.

Rev. Wilbur Fisk Paddock, D. D.

The Rev. Wilbur Fisk Paddock, D. D., father of the Rev. Ernest Paddock, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal church, Allegheny, and of Mrs. Young, wife of the Rev. S. Edward Young of the Second Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, died in Denver yesterday of injuries received two weeks ago today in a runaway accident in Denver. Dr. Paddock was for nearly 40 years rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Philadelphia, and belonged to the same family as Bishop Paddock of Massachusetts and Bishop John A. Paddock of Washington state and was lineally descended from Gov. William Bradford of the Plymouth colony. His mother was a niece of Commodore Oliver Hazzard Perry, who won the victory on Lake Erie, and of Commodore Matthew Galbraith Perry, who opened up Japan to civilization. Dr. Paddock's funeral will be held in St. Andrew's, Philadelphia, and will likely take place on Monday.

Mrs. Sadie Marshall.

Word was received in Homestead yesterday of the death of Mrs. Sadie Marshall, wife of William Marshall, at Des Moines, Ia., Thursday. Mrs. Marshall, accompanied by her husband, left Homestead March 21 for Des Moines, where Mr. Marshall is playing baseball with the team of that city. Mrs. Marshall's health began to fail shortly after her arrival in the west. The deceased was a daughter of the late Dr. John Osborne. She was 24 years old. Her marriage took place four years ago. She is survived by her husband, mother and four brothers, William, Robert, Herald and Floyd Osborne, all of Homestead. The remains are expected to arrive in Homestead today.

Philip R. Theobald.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—(Special.)—Philip R. Theobald, for many years prominent as a horseman, died yesterday at "Woodlawn," his country residence, on Wilmot Grove pike, Glenside. Mr. Theobald's demise was due to shock following a broken thigh, received on Saturday last while riding with his son Frank in the vicinity of Norristown. The deceased was about 60 years of age. His city home was at No. 1605 North Broad street, where he resided until a few weeks ago. He is survived by a widow and four children.

Funeral of Mrs. M. G. Simons.

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret G. Simons of North Braddock were held last evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah B. McClure. The Rev. W. A. Stanton conducted the services. In accordance with a wish expressed by Mrs. Simons shortly before her death, the wife of the Rev. O. H. Philips, pastor of the First Christian church of Braddock, played Ethelbert Nevin's "Narcissus" after the funeral services.

Mrs. Jesse Borem Buried.

Mrs. Borem, 55 years old, wife of Jesse Borem, was buried yesterday from her home in Beaver street, Sewickley. She died at a hospital in Pittsburgh, where she had been for some time. She is survived by her husband and several small children. She was a member of the Baptist church.

Maj. W. H. Gibbes.

Maj. W. H. Gibbes, who is said to have fired the first shot of the civil war upon Fort Sumter, died in Columbia, S. C., yesterday. Maj. Gibbes was a gunner in Capt. George James' company, to whom Gen. Beauregard sent the order to open fire upon Maj. Anderson. He served as postmaster of Columbia under President Cleveland.

Hon. James Hill.

James Hill, for many years a noted negro leader in the Republican party in Mississippi, and secretary of state during reconstruction days, is dead at his home in Jackson, Miss. He was known throughout the country.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. Julia M. Simpson, wife of Ambrose Simpson, is dead at her home at Lawrence, near Canonsburg, Pa., aged 38. She is survived by a husband and five children.

John A. Malone, aged 75 years, for several years a resident of Mifflin township, died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. C. McDonald, near Duquesne Junction.

Rev. William H. Uhler, a retired clergyman of the United Brethren, died at Lebanon, Pa., yesterday of Bright's disease. He served 45 years in the ministry and was a presiding elder from 1851 to 1898. He served in the legislature from 1871 to 1873 from Lebanon.

Miss Emma Terree, 44 years old, died late Thursday night at the McKeesport hospital after a long illness. The deceased was a member of a well-known family of Mifflin township and made her home with her sister, Mrs. Thomas Brierly. She is survived by several brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Margaret Hill of Lawrence county, Pa., died while visiting her daughter in Cleveland, O. She was 71 years old and was born at Moravia. These children survive: W. A. Hill, East Liverpool; Mrs. Edward Gwin, Moravia; Mrs. J. S. Cross, Mt. Jackson, and Mrs. Henry Kitant, Cleveland.

STRAP-HANGERS WILL BOOM ORGANIZATION

Solicitors Are to Be Sent Out to Secure a Larger Membership.

Special efforts will be made by the executive officials of the Strap-Hangers' league to increase the membership. The committee will meet today at noon to devise plans. The meeting will be open to all, and any member will be permitted to suggest a method to strengthen the league.

The scheme likely to be adopted will be to engage several solicitors to be sent to different parts of Greater Pittsburgh in canvass. The greatest attention will be paid to men employed in large establishments. A letter was received yesterday at the league's headquarters stating that 1,000 employed at the Westinghouse works at Wilmerding wish to join the league, but are unable to go to the headquarters before closing time unless they lose a day's work. A solicitor will be sent to the works Monday.

Now that a charter has been granted the officials feel justified in making special efforts to secure more members. Heretofore all that have joined have done so voluntary. Over 2,000 belonged to the league before the charter was secured and since that time many more have placed their signature on the roll.

The organization has accomplished a great deal of good since it was formed. More cars have been added to the traction service. Larger cars have taken the place of small ones, and trailers have been put into use. More night cars are being run than formerly. The league will work for the safety of its members as the primary object, and will also look into the question and comfort and sanitation. When a car becomes unsafe to stand the speed for which it is scheduled the league will enter a protest against its use.

SCHOOL BOARD FIGHTS ON THE SOUTH SIDE

Election of MacMullen as President Contested in 30th Ward. Trouble in 35th.

The friends of Anthony MacMullen claim that he was elected president of the Thirtieth ward school board at their meeting on Wednesday night. The friends of John Conley claim that there has been no election. The two factions will come together next Tuesday night when an effort will be made to elect a treasurer and secretary.

A meeting of the board, which consists, besides MacMullen and Conley, of James Fallon, James Murray, James Mullaney and Patrick Hopkins, was held last Tuesday night in the Knox school in Brownsville avenue. Twenty-six ballots were taken for the election of a president, MacMullen and Conley being the candidates, and after midnight the meeting adjourned and no selection was made, as the vote was 3 to 3.

The following night a meeting was held and Conley was not present. MacMullen secured the votes of Fallon and Murray besides his own and Mullaney and Hopkins, who had voted for Conley, refused to vote. MacMullen claimed the election under parliamentary rules. Conley's friends claim the election is illegal and that there has been no election.

Trouble is also being experienced in the Thirty-fifth ward school board. The Citizens faction of the board, composed of H. R. Weeden, H. W. McKenzie and John Meyers, met in No. 1 school on Thursday night and declared the seats of David Johnson and Christian Hergert vacant, by reason of their refusal to attend meetings. Forster and Bond were elected to the places. The members took no action in regard to Charles J. Pedder, whom they do not regard a member of the board. Messrs. Johnson, Hergert and Pedder met at school No. 1 of the district and adjourned for lack of a quorum. As Thursday night was the limit of time for the organization of the board under the law, the question is now one for the courts to decide.

SAW HISTORICAL POINTS

President Schwab and Friends Spent the Day at Germantown.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—(Special.)—Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation, with his wife and several friends, spent today viewing the historical points in Germantown. Mr. Schwab seemed to be especially interested in the old "Chew House" and the Wistar home, which is now used as a free library.

The chauffeur driving the large black automobile told a number of boys who big distinguished fares were and in a short time his automobile was surrounded with such a crowd it was difficult for him to get in it.

PROMINENT CLUB WOMEN

Use Pe-ru-na as a Protection Against Summer Colds and Their Disagreeable Consequences.

Curator French Section Ebell Club.

Mrs. Sarah E. Page, Baraboo, Wis., Curator of the French Section of the Ebell Club, writes from 423 Fifth avenue:

"Peruna is indeed a valuable remedy for the cure of that most troublesome thing, a summer cold. Last summer I caught a cold but paid no attention to it at first, but soon found it developed into a serious catarrh of the throat. I was very much worried, as none of the ordinary remedies had any effect on it. I was advised to give Peruna a trial, and in a few weeks' time I was so much better that I could sing without any effort. I therefore take pleasure in recommending Peruna."—Sarah E. Page.

Grand Recorder Daughters of American Independence.

Miss Kate Fauser, 116 Brewster street, Detroit, Mich., Grand Recorder of Daughters of American Independence, writes:

"Last summer I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs and I almost lost my voice and I felt most miserable. I took treatment, but nothing did me any good until I took Peruna. One bottle brought me more relief than all the nostrums I had taken, and three bottles cured me completely. For tired and worn-out women it is a boon.

"Colds are considered one of the necessary ills of life. One is liable to catch cold both summer and winter. Very often summer colds prove fatal. They are always dangerous.

"A cold is the beginning of catarrh. It may cause catarrh of any of the internal organs—the head, throat, lungs and stomach, or pelvic organs. A remedy that will cure a cold then would cure all these direct effects of colds. Peruna is such a remedy. We have letters from all over the United States attesting to this fact. The poor and rich alike use and recommend it. A book of testimonials in the exact words of the writer sent to any address free of charge by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Treasurer Schiller Club.

Mrs. B. F. Henderson, 622 Grand avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., Treasurer of the Schiller Club, writes:

"I never had any faith in patent medicines until I tried Peruna, but my experience with this reliable medicine has taught me that there is one that can be trusted and that will not fail in time of need.

"For the past few years I have found that I caught cold easily, which would settle in a most unpleasant catarrh of the head. I had to be especially careful about being out evenings and not to get chilled when dressed thin for parties, but since I have used Peruna my general health is improved, and my system is in such good condition that even though I am exposed to inclement weather it no longer affects me.

"I have a splendid appetite and enjoy life, being in perfect health."—Mrs. B. F. Henderson.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

LUMBER COMPANY OFFICERS NAMED

J. C. Munson of Connellsville Is President of the New Retail Consolidation.

IT WILL MERGE 26 CONCERNS.

Combination of Dealers in Towns to the Southwest of Pittsburgh Finally Perfected Under Name of Pennsylvania Lumber and Supply Company.

Directors and officers of the new Pennsylvania Lumber and Supply Company, the $3,500,000 corporation formed by the combination of a large number of retail lumber dealers about Pittsburgh, were chosen at a meeting last evening. The officers follow:

President, J. C. Munson, Fayette Lumber Company, Connellsville.

Vice president, William Forgie, Washington, Pa.

Treasurer, A. A. Walton, Walton Lumber Company, Charleroi.

Directors, Samuel Jones, Belle vernon; J. C. Munson, Connellsville; S. M. Graham, Uniontown; Charles Eggers, Monessen; C. P. Mayer, Bridgeville; A. A. Walton, Charleroi; J. W. Ruth, Scottdale; J. W. Wallace, Washington; A. J. Stewart, Washington; William Forgie, Washington; Frank Gardner, Washington; Charles Potter, Donora; Edward Langburn, Elizabeth; John Husband, Mt. Pleasant; J. F. Hacker, Scottdale; John F. Hosack, Bridgeville; George M. Hosack, Pittsburgh; John W. Bollean, Pittsburgh.

Into the new company there enter at once 26 individual lumber concerns, located mainly to the southwest of the city, along the Monongahela, Youghiogheny and Charleroi valley and the southwest branch of the Pennsylvania railroad. There are three other concerns which are sure to enter, it is said, and half a dozen others that may soon be brought in.

George M. Hosack, a director of the company and a member of the legal firm of Murphy & Hosack, the general counsel, said last evening: "The different companies entering into the consolidation have shown their faith in this new enterprise by subscribing for the securities of the consolidated company to almost the entire amount paid them for their properties. This is unusual in a consolidation. There are no underwriters making large profits, and the concerns have consolidated for their mutual benefit."

The various concerns were brought into the new company through the efforts of John W. Bollean, who was its promoter. The company has been in process of formation for several months. It is said that the capital stock of the company does not represent a dollar of water.

BIG HOTELS NOW IN THE STRIKE

Leading Hostelries of Chicago Seriously Crippled by Labor Troubles.

CLIMAX REACHED YESTERDAY

Strikers Refuse to Arbitrate When Hotel Proprietors Made Offer of Amicable Settlement—Police Guard Hotels.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 12.—Union employes in 10 of the large hotels struck today. Approximately 2,000 men, chiefly waiters and cooks, are out. The large family hotels are the principal sufferers from the latest strike development, the large downtown establishments with one exception not being affected up to a late hour.

The Employes' association, representing 50 of the leading hotels, this evening gave out a statement announcing that they had used all possible means to settle the differences amicably and that every offer to arbitrate had been refused. They say the hotels will all be kept open and guests provided rooms and sufficient food to take care of them.

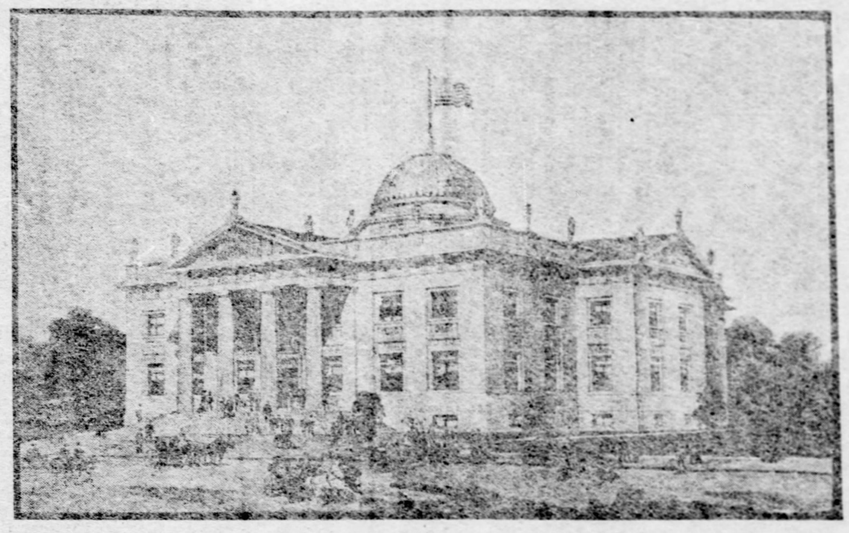
When the employes of the Kaiserhof hotel struck today the management at once distributed lunch boxes among the restaurant patrons with the statement that the tables during the strike would be at their disposal free of charge on which to spread lunches brought from home.

The complete list of hotels in which the employes have left follows: Auditorium, Auditorium annex, Sherman house, Grand Pacific Stratford, Palmer house, Briggs house, Bismarck, Kaiserhoff, Thompsons, Victoria, Wellington, Dakota, Chicago Beach, Del Prado, Vendome, Hyde Park, Windermere, Metropole, Kenwood, Holland, Great Northern, Virginia, Brevoort and Union. The Lexington hotel signed the scale presented by the union five minutes after the help had been called out.

The strikers made efforts today to divert supplies from the hotels, but were not successful, they wanting to bring to their aid the Teamsters and Engineers unions, in order to keep food out of the hotels and to deprive the establishments of a supply of hot water. President Young of the Teamsters' union declared tonight that his organization would not declare a sympathetic strike in aid of the cooks and waiters. The officers of the Engineers' union made the same declaration.

Pickets surround every hotel tonight in which the strike has been declared and police are patrolling the sidewalks around the buildings. When the men walked out of the Palmer house this afternoon some exuberant waiters broke out with yells and tumbled a few dishes on the floor before leaving. The police were summoned hastily, but there was no arrests.

MAGNIFICENT MEMORIAL FOR LOCAL HEROES



Building Designed to Honor Veterans of the Civil War.

By the approval of Judges James R. Macfarlane and Marshall Brown yesterday the erection of a Memorial hall in honor of the soldiers and sailors of the civil war, who enlisted from Allegheny county, was made certain. The structure planned will surpass in magnificence any building of the kind that any county of the Keystone state has yet reared to the memory of its heroes. It will be of granite.

In the order the court said, in part, yesterday:

That in the choice of site and the details for the erection and completion of said Memorial hall, the county commissioners recognize as auxiliary aids the joint standing memorial hall committees of the Allegheny County Grand Army of the Republic association and of the Union Veteran Legion, to whom belongs the credit of initiating the movement and the final passage of the act approved April 3, 1903, providing for the erection of a suitable memorial hall or building to the memory of the soldiers of the war of the rebellion from the county of Allegheny. It is further ordered that the action of the said two grand juries in this matter be duly certified and referred to the county commissioners for their guidance and action in the premises."

The picture above illustrates the building, designed by Architect Thomas D. Evans, himself an old soldier, at the request of the joint committee of the two large associations of the veterans of the civil war. These designs will be modified in accordance with the suggestions of the March grand jury, which desired to have the hall, which was originally designed to seat but 1,500 persons, so changed as to seat not less than 6,000 persons.

The building will be a three-story structure with a surmounting dome. It will front 166 feet with a depth of 236 feet. A handsome entrance with four massive Doric columns and broad steps will guard the front. Around the coping will stand heroic figures of American warriors on sea and land. Carved beneath the coping will be the names of battles of the civil war.

On the first floor will be two large assembly rooms for the meetings of posts of the G. A. R. and the Union Veteran legion. For the ladies' auxiliaries also there are meeting rooms and offices for the building and a number of ante-rooms are provided.

Behind the main or front building, and reached by several wide doors, will stand the auditorium, a semi-circular structure. It is this part of the original plans which will be changed to meet the wishes of the grand jury to make possible a seating capacity of 6,000.

From the first floor a staircase 20 feet wide leads up to the second story. On this floor are the rooms for statuary, relics of the war and libraries. The second floor connects with the balcony of the auditorium and makes it possible for a crowd in case of an overflow meeting to be in the main building and hear and see distinctly what is going on in the auditorium. The building is lighted by a large rotunda under the tower.

The hall will not only be strictly fireproof but will have several outside entrances to both the first floor and the balcony of the auditorium, making it easy to empty the building. In the halls are to be placed a large number of statues and the walls will be decorated with battle scenes and pictures of army heroes. Mosaic floors and marble wainscoting will give the interior a rich appearance. It is also planned to have bronze tablets erected, on which will be inscribed the name and record of every soldier who enlisted from Allegheny county.

By the recommendation of the present grand jury there will be provided out of the appropriation a fund sufficient to furnish statues of the following Allegheny county soldiers who died for their country:

GEN. ALEXANDER HAYS, Sixty-third Pennsylvania volunteers, killed in the Wilderness.

GEN. C. F. JACKSON, Ninth Pennsylvania reserves, killed at Fredericksburg.

COL. SAMUEL W. BLACK, Sixty-second Pennsylvania volunteers, killed at Gaines Mills.

COL. OLIVER H. RIPPEY, Sixty-first Pennsylvania volunteers, killed at Fair Oaks.

COL. JOHN W. PATTERSON, One Hundred and Second Pennsylvania Volunteers, killed at the Wilderness.

COL. JAMES H. CHILDS, Fourth Pennsylvania cavalry, killed at Antietam.

MAJ. FRANK B. WARD, Anderson troop, Fifteenth Pennsylvania cavalry, killed at Stone river.

COL. W. H. MOODY, One Hundred and Thirty-ninth Pennsylvania volunteers, killed at Appomattox.

PRIVATE WILLIAM MONTGOMERY, One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Pennsylvania volunteers, killed at Appomattox.

The basement of the building will be the center for social affairs. Around a large hall for campfires will be an elaborate kitchen, toilet rooms, lunch room, and rooms for statuary and relics. The heat and power plant will be in a separate building outside.

The site of this building is yet to be settled by the county commissioners. Under the law it must be in the county seat, which insures Pittsburgh getting it. The county commissioners are authorized to buy or condemn the land needed for the site.

The cost of the structure, to be met by the county, will be upwards of $600,000, to be raised by a tax levy which, it is said, will be less than one mill. It is expected that work on the building will begin within two years.

The joint committee from the Grand Army of the Republic and the Union Veteran legion in this county consists of Capt. S. M. Duvall, Fred Buechler, H. H. Bengough, J. W. Boyd, W. M. Cramp and S. W. Hay, from the G. A. R., and Charles Davis, Charles F. McKenna, John Stulen, Thomas Hamilton and F. L. Blair, of the Union Veteran legion. About 8,000 veterans in the county belong to these organizations.

FEUDAL WARFARE OF HIGH DEGREE

Marcum's Death Said to Be the Result of a Deep Laid Conspiracy.

COUNTY OFFICIALS ACCUSED

Witnesses Give Startling Testimony Implicating Leading Politicians Against Whom the Dead Attorney Was Conducting a Case.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

JACKSON, KY., June 12.—Court had to take the noon recess today earlier than usual, because a witness was unable to get on the witness stand, and it was evident that liquor is still available. The feature of the trial was the drift of evidence toward a conspiracy implicating county officials and others.

This evidence tended to show that Jett and White had no such motives as the conspirator. They were simply hired to kill J. B. Marcum, who was the attorney for parties contesting the election of county officials.

Upon the opening of court Attorney Nea, for the defense, filed a motion asking that the Jett and White murder case be continued on the ground that the defense needed absent witnesses, Moses Weltner, John Smith and John Abner, to contradict the evidence of Mrs. Mary Johnson, a sister of the dead man. Judge Redwine decided that the trial should proceed.

The first witness today, William Hurst, was questioned regarding a plot to assassinate Marcum, in which two county officials were implicated. William Eversole and other witnesses were examined as to the alleged conspiracy. Abner, Smith and Weltner are said to have been in the plot to assassinate Marcum. Abner afterward made affidavit that he kept Marcum informed. He gave Marcum an affidavit, which was filed in court stating that the plots were formed in the office of Judge Hargis, and that the judge and Sheriff Edward Callahan were furnishing the money.

Mrs. Johnson testified also to this information being furnished her brother by Weltner. Now the defense claims that these men are badly needed. Weltner has forfeited a bond of $3,000 after being granted a new trial for the murder of Jessie Fields in the French-Eversole feud. Marcum was his lawyer, and secure a reversal in his case. Because he was a friend of Marcum, it was alleged, he was picked out to assassinate him, as he would not be suspected, a pardon for the Fields murder being the reward promised.

The prosecution will rest its case before noon tomorrow. Soldiers have been commissioned to secure the presence of several reluctant witnesses, whose testimony will be heard when court reconvenes. The defense will attempt to establish an alibi for Jett and prove that White had no connection with the killing. More than 70 witnesses have been summoned. Inspector Hines left this afternoon for Frankfort to report his observations to the governor.

Worked a New Swindling Scheme.

Three men used a flat boat yesterday to work a new swindling scheme at McKeesport and Glassport. During the afternoon one of the men went to the wholesale lumber yard of William Bradford in Glassport and ordered a load of lumber to be delivered on the river bank near the Dravesburg bridge. He arranged to pay for the lumber when it arrived. While his companions were loading the lumber on the flatboat the man who gave the order told the driver he would pay for it at the office, as he intended ordering another load. By the same means the men secured a lot of furniture at the store of J. C. Pollack in McKeesport. The men have not been seen since.

TO CELEBRATE FIRST MASS IN CHURCH OF HIS CHILDHOOD.

The Rev. A. J. Mayer.

At St. George's church, Allentown, the church in which he was confirmed, in which he received his first communion and in which he first acted as server, the Rev. Alphonse J. Mayer, who was ordained to the priesthood on Sunday last, will at 10 a. m. tomorrow celebrate his first mass. The new priest was ordained at Beatty by Coadjutor Bishop Canevin, after he had completed his course of six years at St. Vincent's archabbey. He was born in this city, and some time after his parents moved from Holy Trinity parish to the South Side. St. George's church was built soon afterwards. The funeral of his father, the late Theobald Mayer, was the first in the new church. He himself was the first to receive communion and he was the first altar boy. His mother, Mrs. E. Mayer, will give a dinner in his honor at St. George's school rooms after the mass.

MAYOR HAYS IGNORES THE INDICTMENT

Three More Old Soldiers Are Removed in City Treasurer's Office—No Reason Given.

ONE EMPLOYED THIRTY YEARS

Discharge Will Boom Veterans' Membership in the Soldiers' League—List of Victims Now Numbers Fifty-Eight Faithful Servants.

Mayor William B. Hays answered defiance to the indictment of the grand jury yesterday by discharging three more soldiers in the city hall, the dismissals taking place in the office of City Treasurer E. J. Frauenheim. The veterans removed were among the oldest employes of the office. Levi B. Richard, having served for 30 years. The others had not been in the office so long, but had been employed for many years. Besides the three soldiers Robert Torrence, son of the former treasurer, was also discharged. The four men to be notified yesterday that their services would not be required after July 1 were:

Capt. O. S. Mellwaine, license clerk.
Maj. William Moorhead, bond clerk.
Levi B. Richard, current account clerk.
Robert Torrence, clerk.

No reasons were given for the discharges. Their places probably will be filled by Democrats.

It is apparent that Mayor Hays is relying upon the courts to declare unconstitutional the law which prohibits the discharge of old soldiers without cause and that he expects this law to be killed in the Samuel Moore case when it comes up for trial.

STATEMENT BY COL. HAY.

Col. A. B. Hay, president of the Soldiers' league, organized recently to take part in local politics, said yesterday:

"The dismissal of three more veterans by Mayor Hays, in the face of the indictment of the grand jury, will solidify the ranks of the old soldiers and make them more anxious than ever to get into the Soldiers' league. There is not likely to be any more prosecutions against Mayor Hays or any person for the discharge of old soldiers until the case of Samuel Moore is settled in the courts. It will be the test and may be followed by 50 more prosecutions if the court declares constitutional the law under which the action is brought.

"In the meantime we will keep on organizing and getting every veteran of the civil and Spanish-American wars in the county to join our organization, also the Sons of Veterans. We expect to have the entire county thoroughly organized with sub-organizations in every ward and election district where 10 or more old soldiers or sons of old soldiers reside. The Soldiers' league will make itself felt in the elections next fall."

VICTIMS NUMBER FIFTY-SIX.

The discharges yesterday by City Treasurer Edward J. Frauenheim made 56 old soldiers who have been let out from the municipal service. The committee of old soldiers that is behind the prosecution of the mayor had prepared a list of their dismissed comrades. Some of the old soldiers who were discharged have hopes that they will be reinstated, no matter what the court decision is, and do not want to be identified with the prosecution, apparently hoping that they will not lose favor with the administration. Consequently only 39 names of veterans who were dismissed are printed in the list below.

Of those mentioned the majority are three-year men, having served at least that length of time in the war of the rebellion. The following is the roster of those whose names were obtained, together with a partial list of their regiments and of the departments in which they were serving:

S. S. Hager, Ninth Ohio, city treasurer's office; Thomas Fording, First Missouri light artillery, bureau of water assessment; J. P. Donahoe, Knapp's battery, Schenley park; William Bradley, Eighth Pennsylvania, mayor's office; Samuel Moore, Sixty-third Pennsylvania, ordinance officer; H. Gaines, First Maryland cavalry, Schenley park; A. H. Hotfer, Twenty-eighth Pennsylvania, charities department; J. H. Woodward, One Hundred and Fifth Pennsylvania; William B. Evans, bureau of health; William C. Wright, Fourth Pennsylvania cavalry; John Steele, Eighth Pennsylvania, assistant fire chief; John J. Freygogie, Ninth Pennsylvania, fire bureau; John R. Hutchinson, fire bureau; Thomas Bovard, fire bureau; W. P. Taggart, superintendent of the bureau of plumbing inspection; John Harvey, Sixty-third Pennsylvania; High Madison, patrol wagonman; Henry Schultz, bureau of highways and sewers; Isaac Craig, One Hundred and Fifth Pennsylvania; Levi Richards, Ninth Pennsylvania, city treasury; O. S. McElwaine, Ninth Pennsylvania, city treasury; W. J. Moorhead, seventeenth United States infantry, city treasury; George F. Land, Andrew Burns, Lemuel Grimes, Theodore Stonard, Gottlieb Hellman, John McCluskey, Benjamin Evans and Robert T. Black.

AUTOS WILL RACE TODAY.

An automobile race under the auspices of the Automobile club of Pittsburgh will take place in the serpentine drive in Highland park this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The distance will be 2,200 feet. The police have made arrangement to keep the course clear. The committee in charge, Thomas P. Hartley, George L. Hileman, and Dr. John A. Hawkins, have offered a silver cup, and five other cups are offered by W. C. Temple, Reuben Miller, Jr., the Banker Bros. Co., R. W. Bailey and the club. The entries are as follows:

Alex Hermes, Ed. Nolan, George Flynn, William C. Temple, J. B. Mackey, W. H. Artzberger, R. W. Bailey, W. C. McVeagh, J. H. Lindsey, S. A. Stewart, A. G. Banker, J. G. Splain, W. L. Nilton, T. S. P. Lovejoy, Edward Haas, A. R. Meek, A. D. Moeller, G. E. Turner, Louis R. Hars, John A. Pigich, John A. Hawkins, R. R. Hartley, Mrs. R. R. Hartley, Frank McCune, W. Linford Smith, W. N. Murray, D. H. Hostetter, R. H. Duffey, Dr. W. C. Cook, Reuben Miller, Jr., George L. Hallman, W. N. Murray, Joe Reed, D. N. Seely.

JEROME WILL GO AFTER NEW YORK CONTRACTORS

Says They Have Bribed Walking Delegates to Cause Strikes on Competitors' Jobs.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 12.—While District Attorney Jerome has been rounding up cases against labor leaders charged with extortion, he has not overlooked the builders, some of whom he says have been more to blame for the "grafting" than the walking delegates. In this connection the officers of one of the large construction companies will be called upon for an explanation at least. When the district attorney was questioned concerning these rumors today, he said:

"Matters are not in such shape that I can speak of what is likely to happen, so far as the employers are concerned, but I can say I have heard pretty tough stories about some of them."

One of the statements made to the district attorney involves a prominent builder, who, it is charged, paid several walking delegates large sums of money to have them declare strikes on other jobs in order that the men on strike could go to work for him. When this employer had his work finished the men were permitted to go back to the original job, and the walking delegate exacted a sum of money from the original employer for "waiting time."

One question that has not yet been settled is the nature of the offense that can be charged against such of the builders as have been guilty of wrong-doing.

Five cases of smallpox were reported yesterday as follows: John Wettstein, 14 months old, of No. 74 Stevenson street; Mabel White, 18 months old, and Alvin White, 8 years old, of No. 24 Natchez street; Mamie Scanlon, 19 years old, of Natchez and Wade streets; Robert Dillard, colored, 40 years old, of No. 2336 Wylie avenue.

LOVE FINDS A WAY AND MOCKS AT PRISON BARS

Young Railroader Baffles Pretty Girl's Father and a Police Sergeant, Rescues Her from Jail and Marries Her.

That the words of the old song "Love will find a way," are true was exemplified on the South Side yesterday afternoon. Prison bars had no terrors for a young railroader who wanted to marry a young and beautiful girl against the wishes of her parents. He baffled the parents and the sergeant at the South Side police station and married his sweetheart.

On Thursday night William Seddon of Arlington avenue, Knoxville, took his 18-year-old daughter Helen to the police station and asked that she be confined behind the bars on a charge of incorrigibility. This was done, and he was to call yesterday morning to prove his charges and to determine upon a course to pursue with his offspring. Seddon's story was that Helen had left her home on Thursday to elope with a young man employed by the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad. He found her at the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie depot that night. He immediately took charge of her and with tearful eyes Helen was led to the station house and placed in a cell. Seddon left with the complacent thought that she would be there when he returned yesterday morning.

The young man in the case, James J. Martin, who lives in Arlington avenue, next door to the Seddons, had a different idea. He called at the station house early yesterday morning and persuaded the sergeant to accept $30 as a forfeit for the girl's reappearance. The two left the Thirteenth street station jubilant. When the father called later he was surprised and chagrined.

Toward nightfall yesterday Martin walked into the station house and asked to see Magistrate Joseph H. Vitchestain. He was shown in the latter's office. Martin reached in an inside pocket and drew out a marriage certificate which showed that he and the young girl had been married by Justice of the Peace W. H. Cochrane in Youngstown, O., yesterday, and handing it to the magistrate he demanded the return of the $30 forfeit money.

Magistrate Vitchestain said he could not return the money since the man had no right to play a trick on the police and the girl's parents by getting her out of jail. As Martin had won the girl he left in a happy frame of mind, was joined by his young spouse at the corner and the two journeyed up to the girl's home to patch up a truce with the parents they had fooled.

This they did and they will be permitted to live their lives together in peace. There was no serious objection to Martin, but the girl's parents maintained she was too young to be married. After seeing the marriage certificate they changed their minds.

Mrs. Martin is a tall, willowy young girl with dark hair and eyes and a rosy complexion. She is but 18 years old and looks no older. Martin is a stalwart young man of about 24 years and has a position as a brakeman on the railroad.

GENERAL STAFF PLAN PRESENTED

Naval Board Submits to Secretary Draft for Proposed Reorganization.

NEW DIVISION OF DUTIES

Desirable Posts Will Be Created for Epauletted Sailormen Who Dislike Sea Service—Scheme Will Be Presented to Congress at Next Session.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Details of the general staff project, which the naval general board have submitted to Secretary Moody, were made public at the navy department today. Its adoption by congress would mean a reorganization of the navy department. Under the new scheme the secretary of the navy stands at the head of the department and in his absence the assistant secretary. Under the latter's control are placed all the bureaus of the department with the exception of the bureau of navigation, whose duties are to be performed by the general staff. In charge of the military end of the department will be the senior ranking naval officer on duty at the department, who will have the position of chief of the general staff and probably rank as vice admiral. This officer will be responsible to the secretary for the movements and organization of fleets and for all matters relating to the personnel of the service.

Under the chief of staff will be three grand divisions of the general staff, to be known as the divisions of the personnel of the fleet, and of war plans respectively. The chief of the division of the personnel will rank as a rear admiral and during the absence of the chief of the general staff will have general supervision over the entire organization. The plan contemplates that this officer shall be charged with the organization of fleets and squadrons and shall be the adviser of the secretary on all war plans and questions of policy affecting foreign fleets.

Chief of the division of the fleet will rank as a rear admiral or senior captain and under him will be assistant chiefs in charge of the navy academy, the division of training men, division of enlisted men and the division of officers. Each sub-division chief will rank as commander in the navy. Either a captain or a commander will be chief of the division of war plans and his duties will be the study and development of all war plans; the organization of reserves, convoys and sea transports and interior and exterior transportation and "to co-operate with the army general staff in plans of campaign."

The scheme further contemplates the creation of an executive committee whose duties will be the formulating of war plans and direction of the work of all branches of the general staff. The general board will be known as the general council. Its duties will be of an advisory nature on all matters referred to it by the secretary.

AGED WOMAN CARRIED TO COURT IN BLANKET

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. Nancy Zicafoose was taken before the mayor of Harrisville yesterday in a blanket. She is an old woman who lives alone. The boys of the neighborhood take delight in tormenting her, and in desperation she shot into a crowd of them a few nights ago. No one was hurt, but she was summoned to appear before the mayor. When City Sergeant Hickman went after her she barricaded the door. When finally arrested she refused to walk and was bundled up and carried by four men to the mayor's office. After being fined she again refused to walk and was carried back home.

DOORS OF BUSINESS HOUSES LEFT OPEN

The police of the East End district have found the doors of 22 business houses open within the past week. Only one case is recorded where the door was forced and anything stolen, and that was Hess' barber shop, from which two razors were taken. The police have found several keys left in the doors also by the ones who locked the place up. In most cases it is the carelessness of employes, but proprietors themselves are often negligent in the matter of locking up. The police are busy looking into the matter, and several merchants probably will be looking for new men shortly.

WOMAN BEATEN TO DEATH BY AN UNKNOWN PERSON

ALTOONA, PA., June 12.—The almost lifeless body of Mrs. Annie Canavan, aged 40, was found in a strawberry patch near her home at Kersey, Elk county, yesterday, mutilated almost beyond recognition. She had been beaten with a pine knot, found near by. The woman died a short time afterward. The murderer escaped leaving no clue. He is believed to have been a tramp who attacked the woman while she was picking berries. She leaves a husband and several children.

JUSTICE ACCUSED OF LARCENY AND FORGERY

NEW YORK, June 12.—(Special.)—Serious accusations against Justice Herman Bolte were made this afternoon when a petition was presented to the supreme court, signed by District Attorney Jerome, praying for Bolte's removal from office. Principal among the charges was that Bolte is unfit for his position because he has been guilty of larceny and forgery.

Stole His Sister's Diamonds.

Detectives T. C. Johnson and Leon Einstein of Allegheny last night arrested George H. Peters of Philadelphia, at the request of the police of that city. Peters, who is only 19 years of age, is charged with stealing two diamond rings and a diamond stickpin, all valued at $300, from his sister. The arrest was made in Robinson street, where Peters had been boarding since last Monday. The boy confessed to the theft and said he had pawned one of the rings and the pin in Philadelphia. The other ring was found in his pocket. An officer from Philadelphia will arrive today and take Peters back.

Deserted Her Babe at a Depot.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—(Special.)—A fashionably attired woman left her infant child with the matron of the B. & O. station this morning, saying she wanted to get a ticket. The matron assented and the stranger walked toward the office. Half an hour elapsed with no sign of the infant's guardian. Then a search was made for the unknown woman. She was nowhere to be found, so the child was sent to the Philadelphia hospital.

CARLOAD OF GIFTS FROM GREAT WEST

Souvenirs of President's Long Trip Beginning to Arrive at the White House.

SOME ARE VERY VALUABLE

Immense Chair of Elk Horns Came from Tacoma—A Splendid Horse from Cheyenne—Little Kansas Girl's Gift of a Badger Adopted by the Children.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12.

More than three wagon loads of presents received by President Roosevelt during his western trip have arrived at the White House and have been disposed of about the executive mansion to suit the tastes of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

The heaviest and bulkiest of the presents was an immense chair made from Elk horns. A big elk in the park at Tacoma, Washington, has annually shed his great horns. These have been saved from year to year and it was from them that a chair for the president was made. Another rather strange present gathered at Tacoma was a pair of totem poles, the combination gravestone and family tree of the Alaskan and Northwestern Indian. A splendid set of indian pottery was presented to the president by Pueblo Indians near Albuquerque, New Mexico, and the same place also gave him a fine Navajo blanket, one of the best ever made in the west.

San Francisco presented a magnificent gold and silver loving cup and Sacramento a silver and glass claret pitcher and a handsome cigar case. Colfax, California, gave the president a box of gold and silver ore. Stuffed deer heads, stuffed mountain sheep, pheasants, lizards and nearly all the other products of the west were given to the president at different points on his journey. At one place he was given a set of locked deer horns, taken from two large deer that had died with their horns locked after a fatal conflict between them. At Cheyenne the president was presented with a beautiful horse, equipped with saddle, bridal and every other necessity for a rider. The horse is now on its way to this city, and will be placed in the president's stable. At Omaha somebody gave him a bridal woven from hair.

There would have been a carload of live animals had the president accepted all the presents of this kind offered him. At three or four places offers of live bear were made to him, but he declined these with thanks. At Santa Fe, New Mexico and Kalama, Washington, large bears were offered him. He did have brought back with him, however, one live present. That was a live badger given to him by a little girl at Sharon Springs, Kan. She asked the president to name it after her brother, whose name is "Josiah." So the little badger, a bright and entertaining little fellow, was known throughout the trip as "Josiah," and that is still his name.

"Josiah" is a particular pet of the Roosevelt children and has been taken to Oyster Bay, where he will spend the summer with the youngsters.

There were many presents of small pieces of gold and silver of unique design. The president refused to accept gifts of considerable value from individuals and those brought back with him were the presents of communities or a collection of individuals that it would have been difficult for him to decline had he been so disposed.

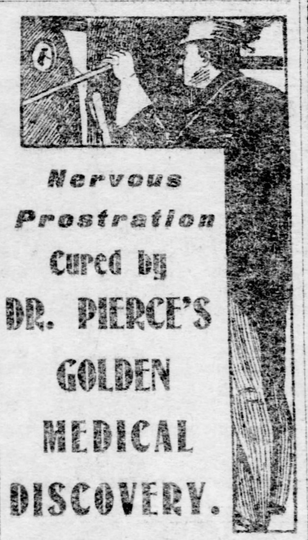
LAST DAY OF CARNIVAL.

Building Trades Celebration Closes on Arsenal Grounds.

The cold weather of yesterday, in addition to the rain of the morning, proved a damper to the enthusiasm of the United Labor carnival. The crowd last night was not nearly so large as usual, nearly everybody was wearing heavy wraps, and straw hats were scarce. The members of the Bartenders' Union were out in full force and kept things lively until a late hour.

This will be the closing day of the celebration and preparations have been made for a large crowd.

In the afternoon the school children will be in attendance and will be admitted to every attraction for half-price, on presenting the tickets given at the schools. In the evening the bookbinders of the two cities will be present, in addition to other members of the printing trades.



Nervous Prostration Cured by DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

"I am an engineer by trade and the hard work and worry of running a large engine brought on nervous prostration," writes Mr. Chas. F. Dixon, of Arbuckle, Colusa Co., Calif. "A friend recommended Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to me and I bought one bottle; thought that it helped me so continued the use of it until I had taken six bottles. I feel better than ever in my life. Am not a particle nervous, can work hard all day and sleep sound at night. I not only think so but I know that the 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me and therefore I will recommend it to others."

PITTSBURGH SOLDIER'S MEMORY TO BE HONORED

War Department to Name Battery After Lieutenant Irons, Who Was Fatally Injured at Cherusbusco, Mexico, in 1847.

The war department recently conferred an honor on a distinguished Pittsburgh family when it was decided to name one of the newly organized batteries as "Battery Irons," after Lieut. Joseph E. Irons, who died in 1847 from wounds received in the Mexican war, and who was a member of one of the oldest and best known families in Western Pennsylvania. This order was made by the department on May 25, known as general order No. 87, which directs that "Battery Irons" is to be organized and stationed at Fort McHenry, near Baltimore, Md. "Battery Irons" is now being organized along with 10 other new batteries which are to be established at various forts in the United States.

Joseph E. Irons was first lieutenant in the First United States artillery and was born in Pittsburgh in 1819. He was graduated from West Point in 1841. When hostilities broke out with Mexico Joseph Irons had been promoted to first lieutenant. He served in this capacity at the battle of Cherubusco, Mexico, on April 10, 1847. During this engagement he received wounds that afterward resulted in his death. Lieutenant Irons recovered sufficiently to enter into active service again. In July, 1847, he was compelled to return to the hospital on account of his injuries and on August 26, 1847, he died.

It was in the battle of Cherubusco that 13 members of the Duquesne Greys were killed. They were protecting a bridge, and saved it after a sharp conflict in which these men were killed and a large number wounded.

At the time of Lieutenant Irons' death he was aide-de-camp to Brigadier General Cadwallader. The lieutenant was a brother of Mrs. Geo. F. Hamilton, Sr., whose husband was a well-known practioner at the Allegheny county bar. There are a number of Lieutenant Irons' relatives still living in Allegheny county and Pittsburgh, including Mrs. S. M. Felton, whose husband is president of the Chicago and Alton railroad; Mrs. Anna Hamilton Patterson, Hadassa Hamilton, wife of Lieut. Charles H. Harlow of the United States navy.

Lieutenant Irons had a splendid war record, having a thorough knowledge of the use of artillery. The war department conferred the honor because of his excellent service in the battle of Cherubusco.

ROBBED IN MID-OCEAN.

Steamship Passenger Reaches Gotham Penniless—Valuable Papers Stolen.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Robert Neill, a wealthy resident of Los Angeles, Cal., a first cabin passenger on the White Star line steamship Germanic, which arrived from Liverpool today, reported to the police that he had been robbed on Wednesday, while in mid-ocean, of drafts and money to the amount of $20,000. The money stolen was the proceeds of the sale of an estate in Belfast. Mr. Neill landed here penniless, and was unable to pay $126 duty demanded on some gifts he was bringing in.

Neill said he suspected one of the ship's attendants but Capt. Hambleton had every possible faith in the man's honesty. He cabled the Belfast bank and cancelled the drafts. The loss, therefore, will be but $300 in cash and a note for $187, which is not negotiable.

Houston Given Four-Year Sentence.

NEW YORK, June 12.—(Special.)—Samuel D. Houston, white haired, dignified and grave, a descendant of the famous warrior, Gen. Sam Houston of Texas, was sentenced today to four years in Sing Sing. About a week ago Houston pleaded guilty to the theft of $5,000 from Hardy & Harmon, brokers. He had been in the service of the firm for many years and occupied the position of confidential man.

MILLER TOLD LIES TO SHIELD AMMON

Blind Pool Promoter Answers Thus When Confronted With Falsehoods.

STOOD SEVERE ORDEAL WELL

Counsel for Defense Rakes Up Alleged Intimacy With Montreal Woman in Effort to Discredit Testimony of Prosecuting Witness Who Remained Unshaken.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 12.

Robert A. Ammon, as counsel of William F. Miller, president of the Franklin syndicate, received in all $225,000 of the company's money and of this sum Miller got back only $5,000, according to Miller's testimony. The cross-examination of the convicted president was concluded this afternoon and other witnesses will be called tomorrow. The wife of Miller, however, will not take the stand as reported.

Doubtless the counsel for Ammon had satisfied themselves that Miller would fail to pass the swift examination. The attorneys were loaded with all kinds of sensational charges even going so far as to question Miller as to his relations with a woman in Montreal. It must be said to his credit that he bore the fire more bravely than anyone expected and the result of his exposures will carry very well with the jury. All the falsehoods he had told, Miller declared, had been told on the advice of his counsel, Col. Ammon.

"The purpose," said he, "was to shield Mr. Ammon."

Mr. Palmer, counsel for Ammon, read from Miller's testimony at his two trials and during his examination in bankruptcy proceedings.

"Yes, I said all those things to protect Mr. Ammon," Miller would reply, as he rubbed his chin.

Mr. Palmer tried to make it appear that Miller while in Canada was on friendly terms with a young woman. Miller admitted that he knew a young woman whose name was not mentioned while in Canada and he also admitted that this young woman had visited him in prison.

In reply to questions by Mr. Palmer, Miller denied that in giving his testimony he was actuated by a spirit of bitterness and resentment toward Col. Ammon.

"Any bitterness which I may have had," said Miller, "has been counteracted by the knowledge of what one has to suffer in prison. I am here to tell the truth, whether it convicts Ammon or acquits him."

Mr. Palmer gave him up, saying he was through with the cross-examination. On the re-direct examination Assistant District Attorney Nott cleared up the mystery of Miller's relations with the woman in Canada. He got Miller to say that the woman came to him at Sing Sing and told him the family was pressed for funds, asking him to loan them money or buy their house.

C. F. GRENFKER.

Mrs. Fairbanks tells how neglect of warning symptoms will soon prostrate a woman. She thinks woman's safeguard is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Ignorance and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the laws of health but with the chance of a cure. I did not heed the warnings of headaches, organic pains and general weariness, until I was well nigh prostrated. I knew I had to do something. Happily I did the right thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound faithfully according to directions, and was rewarded in a few weeks to find that my aches and pains disappeared, and I again felt the glow of health through my body. Since I have been well I have been more careful. I have also advised a number of my sick friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they have never had reason to be sorry. Yours very truly, Mrs. May Fairbanks, 216 South 7th St., Minneapolis, Minn." LAST STRONGHOLD TO BE ASSAILED

Durham Plans David Martin's Elimination from the Philadelphia Situation.

COMBINED ATTACK PLANNED

Irwin Will Be Backed Heavily in His Fight for Leadership in Nineteenth Ward Which Has Hitherto Been Controlled by Quay's Former Lieutenant.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Public Ledger Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 12.

If the friends of Insurance Commissioner Durham are sufficiently powerful, and of this doubts are not expressed, ex-State Senator David Martin is to be permanently retired as a political leader. Senator Martin has occupied all of the chairs in the state lodge of Republican politics. He was a division leader, a ward boss, then he became the head of the city organization and a figure in state politics.

Durham then forged to the front and the game was one of see-saw. As Durham went up, Martin went down. The collapse of the Wanamaker insurgent movement left him without status. He was unable to secure a re-election to the state senate and when he looked over the Jewel field, which he had once held so tightly in his grasp, he found that nothing was left of his jurisdiction save the Nineteenth ward in which he lives.

In an effort to regain supremacy Martin mixed in two fusion municipal fights, one for the election of a district attorney and later in the mayoralty campaign. In both contests John Weaver, the present mayor, was victorious and Martin was correspondingly weaker. In the last state campaign he came out publicly in support of Judge Pennypacker, had several conferences with Senator Penrose, and the opinion prevailed that he had patched a permanent truce with Durham and his organization, if such was the case the treaty was not a lasting one.

The regular Republican leaders now state openly that they propose to take from Senator Martin his leadership in the Nineteenth ward; that they have agreed to support Deputy Register of Wills Irwin as the responsible head of the ward organization and that Martin is to be deprived of all voice in the management of affairs political. There is ground for the belief that Mayor Weaver will lend his help to this end. As Martin fought him both times when a candidate for office as the Republican nominee for district attorney and for mayor, it is certain that Mr. Weaver owes nothing to the ex-senator. Durham, personally, is particularly hostile to Martin. There are a few men who Durham will not forgive and Martin leads the list. Their differences are irreconcilable.

David Martin has been a notable figure in state and Philadelphia politics. He was one of Quay's lieutenants here two decades ago. Then Martin was a poor man and his political influence was not potential. He was what is generally characterized as a "practical" politician, who had nerve and was willing to take long chances in the interest of the organization. His rise was no less remarkable than his fall. Politically he has mixed the bitter and the sweet, and now in the closing days of his career he has one substantial consolation—great wealth—and this he is not likely to lose.

OUTSIDE ACTION AVAILS NOTHING

Russian Ambassador Insists His Country Can and Will Protect the Jews.

SAYS HE IS FRIENDLY TO THEM

Five Hundred Participants of Kisheneff Massacre Are in Prison Awaiting Punishment—Russians Will Not Tolerate Interference in Their Affairs.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 12.—"It is absurd to put me down as an enemy to the Jews," said Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, in a conversation with a visitor at the embassy. "I have many warm friends among the Jews, both here and in Europe. There are a great many commendable people among the Jews in Russia. In Hamburg, Germany, where I was stationed 10 years ago, I became acquainted with a number of prominent Jewish citizens and found them to be exemplary people. In Paris, my family physician was a Jew—the eminent Dr. Springer.

"To further illustrate that I have no antipathy toward the race, I am on good terms with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stern of New York, and my daughter has been at their home. The public meetings that have been held in the United States, the resolutions that have been adopted, will be ineffective in my country. Russia, with her 137,000,000 inhabitants, will not be influenced in her internal policy by outside pressure. She will take care of her people. Five millions of Jews resident there are but a small minority and they can and will be protected.

"As an evidence, there are now more than 500 of the Kisheneff rioters in prison and the guilty ones will be severely punished. We do not desire the Jews to leave Russia. We regret to lose them. Those who remain in Russia will be cared for. The attitude of my government since the Kisheneff affair attests to this. We have heard as well as other people. We do not want to see pillage and carnage any more than you do. I insist that the action of the Russian government from the moment it became acquainted with the facts of the unfortunate occurrence at Kisheneff has been all that its severest critics could ask for."

FAVORS THE REMOVAL OF THIEL COLLEGE

Board of Trustees Presents Report to the Pittsburgh Synod.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 12.—Important action was taken by the Pittsburgh synod of the Lutheran church general council in session here, this morning, whereby the board of trustees of Thiel college is made virtually a self-perpetuating body. The board is composed of 17 members, two of whom are ex-officio, one being the president of the synod and the other the president of Thiel college. Heretofore the synod has elected each year five members of the board, that number retiring annually. By the new rule the board will be allowed to nominate five candidates each year, subject to the approval of the synod.

It is believed that by the change the board will be better able to secure a continuity in its policies concerning the college, and the possibility of friction will be largely removed.

The board of trustees presented its annual report, which was adopted. The report entered extensively into a discussion of the question of the removal of Thiel college from Greenville to Greensburg, and argued largely in favor of the change. The synod is hampered somewhat in considering the matter of the removal by the legal action taken by the Greenville citizens to restrain the board of trustees, and this morning after an earnest discussion the matter was laid over for further consideration. The report of the trustees showed total receipts for the college during the year closed of $18,228. There is still hanging over the institution a debt of about $15,000.

DIED AFTER FINISHING FORTY DAYS FAST

Scranton Man's Effort to Cure Paralysis Caused His Demise.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SCRANTON, PA., June 12.—Edward McIntyre, whose 40-day fast ended on Tuesday last, died of exhaustion today. He became delirious last evening and raved for a time, after which his powers of speech failed and he lapsed into unconsciousness, in which condition he remained until the end came. At the termination of his fast McIntyre had lost 40 pounds. For several hours after his fast ended he died considerably at the mouth.

McIntyre undertook his fast for the purpose of curing himself of a stroke of paralysis which he suffered several years ago. His theory was that by reducing his system to the lowest possible ebb he would kill the disease and then gradually renew the vital forces. McIntyre was 40 years old and was born in Scotland. He leaves a widow and several children.

THREE BODIES RECOVERED FROM ALLEGHENY RIVER

NEW KENSINGTON, PA., June 12.—(Special.)—The bodies of Albert Lusk, Joseph Frank and George Adams, victims of last Tuesday's drowning at this place, were found at Springdale today. Wires had been stretched across the river at the government dam and the bodies of Frank and Adams lodged against them. Lusk's body was caught floating in the river by Frank Connelly of Springdale, who will share the $50 reward offered by the New Kensington lodge, No. 11, Tribe of Ben Hur, of which Lusk was a member.

EFFORT TO COMPROMISE ELECTRIC LIGHT FIGHT

New Castle Company Makes a Proposition to Council Committee.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 12.—Attorney B. A. Winternitz in court today notified Judge Wallace of the stay in the injunction proceedings of the New Castle Electric Company against the city, enjoining the municipality from awarding the contract for lighting the city streets to the Citizens Light, Heat & Power Company of this place. The step results from a probable compromise.

The city owes the company over $80,000, having paid nothing for light used since October 1, 1900. Attorney C. H. McKee of the Pittsburgh law firm of Lyon, McKee & Mitchell, appeared before the police committee last night and suggested that the suit be discontinued; that the city make a new 10-year contract with the company at the rate of $75 per annum for each arc light, the company stipulating that at the expiration of 10 years it will not claim an exclusive franchise, as it has been doing, and will not object to the city erecting a municipal plant or giving the contract to another company.

BOY FLASHED WEAPON IN RESISTING ARREST

Youth Taken Into Custody at Greensburg, Charged With Horse Stealing.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., June 12.—Clarence Atkinson, 18 years old, of Greensburg, was arrested this morning by Chief of Police Hutchison and Patrolman Martin. Atkinson must answer to the charge of horse stealing. On the night of May 18 a horse was stolen from the barn of Logan Silvis, of Pleasant Unity. The thief brought it to Greensburg and sold it. Suspicion was directed to Atkinson and a warrant was sworn out before Justice of the Peace Frank Beatty.

Several attempts have been made to capture Atkinson. He was taken into custody on Main street, Greensburg, while on his way to Youngwood. He made a desperate resistance and drew a revolver with a knife attached on the barrel. He was overpowered and taken to jail.

It is believed that Atkinson was at the head of a gang of horse thieves that have been operating about Greensburg for several months. He is a frail looking boy.

NEW ATTORNEY IS NAMED FOR PURE FOOD COMMISSION

HARRISBURG, June 12.—Pure Food Commissioner Warren today appointed ex-Judge C. B. Wilmer of Sunbury to be attorney for the department and Thomas B. Thomas of Philadelphia to be special agent.

THREE LABORERS KILLED BY PENNSYLVANIA TRAIN

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—Three Italians were killed on the Pennsylvania railroad today near Overbrook, a suburb. The men were at work on the tracks when run down by an express train.

Sign of the Red Raven

A beautiful electric sign advertising Red Raven Splits in a downtown pharmacy has attracted considerable attention during the past week, and the proprietor on being interrogated by one of his best customers as to what the article was, said: "Red Raven is an aperient water put up in dainty half-pint bottles called splits, one of which is a dose. I always keep a liberal supply of Red Raven Splits on hand because my customers tell me that as a laxative and alterative it is unequalled by any other aperient water on the market. They use it, as a rule, before breakfast, and find it gentle, mild and sure. I never attempt to substitute for Red Raven Splits, because I know that my trade, having used it, well satisfied, will be sure to return for more. The advantage of Red Raven Splits over foreign bitter waters is not entirely in its merit as a laxative, but because it is sparkling, pleasant tasting and as entirely agreeable as any high-class table water. The price being 15 cents makes it an ideal article for all classes of my trade."

MANY FINE HOMES FOR CLEARVIEW

Large Number of Pittsburgh People Buy Lots in the Beautiful New Suburb and Will Build at Once.

Big Sums Spent for Improvements.

Much the most interesting real estate event of the week has been the sale of lots at Clearview, Pittsburgh's prettiest suburb. Many well-known Pittsburgh people have already secured lots there and intend to begin building immediately. Inquiries and applications for lots are pouring in and it is evident the entire property will be built up in a very short time. No other property in the vicinity of Pittsburgh is so favorably situated for residence purposes or possesses so many advantages as Clearview. Nature gave it clear, pure air and lovely scenery, neither of which has ever been defiled by the smoke and dirt of mills or factories. The owners of the property gave it a magnificent boulevard and broad, beautiful avenues, a water works system abundantly supplied with pure water from natural springs and artesian wells, and with wise foresight have attached such building restrictions to the sale of the lots as to insure a class of residences that will maintain the standard of Pittsburgh's ideal suburb.

The Mt. Lebanon Land and Trust Company, which owns the property, has already spent large sums for improvements and has an army of men at work carrying out its plans for the making of Clearview the most beautiful and the most convenient place of residence in the county. The company has a paid-up capital of $125,000 and assets of $197,000. The directors are Justus Mubert, F. W. Mueller, Daniel Brady, Peter Hermes and James A. Fortune.

The famous Mt. Washington tunnel line will soon be completed and then it will take just 15 minutes to get to Clearview from the Pittsburgh postoffice. At present it takes 35 minutes to make the trip on the electric cars. Go out today or tomorrow and see Clearview. Take Mt. Lebanon car on Smithfield street.

Prices of lots in Clearview range from $500 to $1,250, and a few higher. A reasonable cash deposit is required when choice of lot is made. The balance may be paid within a year in monthly or quarterly payments. Ten per cent discount is allowed for cash. The company will advance money on very liberal terms to purchasers of lots to enable them to build immediately.

The Pittsburgh office of the Mt. Lebanon Land and Trust Company is in the Germania Savings bank building, 432 Wood street.

KAUFMANN'S
"THE BIG STORE"

"The Big Store" turns the losses of clothing makers to YOUR gain

Surplus stocks are the almost unavoidable consequences of a busy manufacturing season, the overproductions usually being along the best selling lines. Progressive manufacturers never "hold on" to these surpluses. Instead, at the end of their manufacturing period, by making big price concessions, they induce the largest retailers of the country to take the goods off their hands.

Alfred Benjamin & Co. Hornthal, Benjamin & Riem
A. Dinkelspiel & Co. Isaac Hamburger & Sons

were among the concerns whose goods came our way as a result of our acknowledged leadership of the clothing trade. It's no exaggeration to state that nine out of every ten stylish dressers have some time or other worn clothing made by the above manufacturers. They are the head and front of the American fine clothing trade, and their garments are rapidly replacing the most expensive merchant tailor work. This sale enables our customers to now purchase this superior clothing for less—much less—money than we ourselves paid for the same goods earlier in the season.

8.00 now buys choice from suits which earlier in the season sold for $12.00, $12.50, $13.50 and $14.00—all styles—all materials

14.00 now buys choice from suits which earlier in the season sold for $18, $19, $20 and $22—all styles—all materials

Thousands of outing suits are included

among the above suits at 8.00 and 14.00. Every man who cares for comfort during the hot weather should own one of these cool two-piece summer suits. You can have them single-breasted, double-breasted or Norfolk style, in wool crashes, homespuns, serges, Scotch tweeds, flannels, etc. —the shoulders hand padded, the fronts stiffened and otherwise tailored so as to give greatest permanency of shape.

Those $3.50 pants for 2.48 going fast

We started the sale with 4,500 pairs, but already about half have been carried away — the balance will go even more quickly. We still have all sizes in all different patterns and materials. Cheviot, cassimere, or worsted—which do you prefer?

We carry the largest line in the city and save you considerable on automobile dusters, coachmen's liveries, etc. Investigate!

Interesting prices in boys' summer clothing

THE house warming the public accords our newly arranged and enlarged boys' summer clothing section is continuous—amply justifying our efforts; manufacturers have joined us in keeping interest at high pressure by providing unusual values. The completion of our plans means far greater money saving service to you.

To make today's sale most memorable we offer about 1,800 regular $2.00, $2.50 and $4.00 all wool suits, single and double breasted, sailor and Russian blouse style, all nicely tailored; no matter what your boy's proportion may be we can fit him perfectly, choice at this sale at 2.00

Boys' $5.00 and $6.00 suits—including two-piece flannel and homespun outing suits, 3-piece dress suits, sailor and other fancy novelty suits, reduced for this sale to 3.00

Boys' $7.50 to $9.00 suits—all high-class novelties, Russian blouse, norfolk and sailor styles, some with silk collars—also fine tuxedo and confirmation dress suits and outing suits, choice 5.00

Young men's suits, regular $10.00 and $12.00 values in two-piece outing and 3-piece dress styles, made of homespun, flannels, serges, in the two-piece outing suits and black thibets, fancy cheviots, and cassimeres in the other styles, sizes 14 to 20, choice 7.35

Brownie overalls, also brownie suits, made of blue denim and other materials, for boys and girls at 48c and down to 15c

Wash suits, the counter piled high with sailor, Russian blouse and kilt suits in white, plain blue, oxblood or striped effects, choice 1.25

Boys' dress pants, fine worsteds, in navy, red, royal and brown, lined all through, with belt loops, sizes choice 2½ to 16, 65c

Brooklyn at Exposition Park.
New York at Cincinnati.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Chicago.

The baseball game scheduled for yesterday between the Pittsburgh and Brooklyn clubs was not played, because of the muddy condition of the playing field at Exposition park. It was the Pirates' first postponed game of the season, the only other layoff or a scheduled date being caused by the transfer of a game until later in the season.

The managers of both teams were anxious to go ahead with the game, and would have done so had the field been in anything like playing shape, but it was not, and the game had to be called off. While the managers and club owners were disappointed, the players were not, as it meant a day off for them, and days of rest have been few and far between this season. This is particularly true of the Pittsburgh players, who have been plugging ahead every day in the week, Sundays included.

Weather permitting, the teams will meet today in the final game of the present series, and there is a promise of a warm battle, as both clubs are after the game and will strain every nerve to land the victory. It will be the last Saturday game here until the Chicago team returns from the west, and the Philadelphia team in two games on the Fourth of July. If the weather conditions are favorable there will be a record-breaking turnout, as the advance sale of seats is the largest of the season.

There were no new developments yesterday in the 12-club league scheme brushed by Ban Johnson at Cincinnati. President Dreyfuss declares most emphatically that there is nothing in the scheme and that the first he heard of it was in publication in the newspapers. He has not empowered Garry Herrman of the Cincinnati club or anyone else to act for him and has not been consulted by Herrman or anyone else. He thinks that, while Herrman and Johnson may have talked over such a scheme during their conference in Cincinnati this week, it was nothing more than a friendly exchange of views, with no particular significance attached to the remarks. Mr. Dreyfuss added that it would take a unanimous vote of the club owners to make such a thing go.

Last night the members of the Brooklyn team and quite a few of the Pirates were guests of the Pastime club of the South Side at the reception given in honor of Otto Hendon, the South Side boy who is a member of the Brooklyn team. The Pittsburgh delegation was in charge of Secretary Phillippe, who saw to it that the boys got back to bed in seasonable time. The Dermmel Club proved capital entertainers, and all the players had a royal good time.

In today's game the pitchers will likely be Leever for the Pirates and either Garvin or Schriver for the Brooklyns. Manager Hanlon's boys were feeling a little sore last night over that 0 to 0 game of Thursday and claimed that if the pitcher will only do his share they may take a hand in the shutout business themselves.

The Dermmel club's reception to their fellow member, Otto Jordon, was quite an affair and was attended by about 500 members and students. During the evening Jimmy Sebring of the Pirates was presented with a very handsome and costly diamond studded Elks' charm by his South Side admirers.

WICKER HIT HARD.

Zimmer's Men Batted a Victory from Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The visitors pounded Wicker all over the field today, opening up with two doubles and closing with four hits. Every one of Chicago's errors helped the rungetting and crazy base-running robbed them of several chances to score. Attendance, 1,200. Score:

SECOND MATINEE MEET ON THE BRUNOT TRACK

Horses Are in Fine Trim and the Committee Has Prepared a Fine List of Events.

The second matinee of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Matinee club will be held this afternoon on the Brunots Island track, and if the weather only proves half favorable there is a treat in store for the lovers of light harness racing.

The program of events, as arranged by the race committee, will bring together the very best horses at the track, and, as the horses are all in fine trim, there should be some fast going. In the practice spins during the week the horses have been showing speedy work that promises some fast going when the bell taps this afternoon.

The program calls for six events, five of which are trotting races and the other a pacing mark. This is rather a long program, and in order that all the events can be run off, it will be necessary to make an early start, and the opening event is fixed for 1:30 o'clock, in order to accommodate the public that wishes to see the entire program. That the ladies will leave the foot of Sixth street at 1, 2 and 3 o'clock. The committee has also arranged to have the Sees band discourse music during the afternoon, and fine music as well as fine racing. The events and the entries for the afternoon follow:

Event No. 1, mile heats trotting—No. 2, Philip, c. g., by Phillippe; No. 1, Ramona, b. m., H. Buhl, Jr.; No. 3, Jim Fenton, b. g., W. W. McCleary.

Event No. 2, trotting—No. 18, Cal Wilks, b. g., W. Callery; No. 17, Miss Beatrice, A. R. Peacock; No. 15, Eula Mack, blk. m., J. G. Bennett; No. 16, Lo Ru, b. m., R. H. Boggs.

Event No. 3, trotting—No. 10, Wood Gird, blk. m., C. A. Smith; No. 8, Westwood, b. g., O. A. Blackburn; No. 9, Persimmon, c. h., A. C. McElveen; No. 20, Kitty L., g. m., O. H. Werner; No. 24, Boodler, br. g., E. G. Whitcomb.

Event No. 4, trotting—No. 25, Dr. Rook, br. g., F. L. Dohman; No. 21, Dolly Dillon, b. m., J. D. Callery; No. 12, Lentolus, b. g., H. Buhl, Jr.; No. 14, Josephine Dixon, b. m., R. H. Boggs.

Event No. 5, 3-minute trot—No. 26, Novetta, br. m., W. R. Porter; No. 22, Griffith Bel, br. g., J. G. Bennett; No. 20, Countess Tekla, b. m., J. A. Gleichamm.

Event No. 6, pacing—No. 7, Parkilla, b. m., J. H. Moore; No. 4, Grey Dick, g. h., John Werner; No. 5, Tewksbury, g. g., C. A. Smith.

RAVEL'S FIRST WORK.

English Bred Horse Shows Speed Enough for the Derby and Will Be Entered.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Ravel, an English-bred colt owned by E. Corrigan and for weeks rated as a dark horse for the American derby, was brought from Lexington today long enough for a public workout. He worked a mile and a quarter in 2:13⅗ at Hawthorne and did it so easily that he is regarded as a certain starter in the derby. Several other derby candidates worked with Ravel, but the fact that Jockey O. Reiff was asked to ride Ravel and rate him carefully is taken as direct evidence that he is pointed for the derby.

Ravel was heavily played for the derby horse before anything was known of him by the public. His price was reduced from 200 to 25 to 1.

The fractional time for his work was: Half mile, :51; mile, 1:47; mile and eighth, 2:00; mile and a quarter, 2:13⅗.

The Hawthorne track is notoriously bad this year. The best time made in a race at the distance during the recent meeting there was 2:15 4-5.

Captain Relitan's Statement.

Thursday afternoon on the Pittsburgh college campus the Pittsburgh College Reserves defeated the W. R. Blacks 12 to 11. Anent the game Capt. Relitan of the Reserves said in reporting the game yesterday morning a deliberately erroneous report was sent in. The gentleman who wrote up the article said that Davin played. This is false, as Davin, who is the college varsity catcher, was at New Castle with his team. The Blacks credited themselves with 15 hits, when they secured only 10, and reported light hits for the collegians, who secured 11. The Blacks had eight errors and the Reserves 18, but four and three respectively were reported. The Blacks had no scorer on the ground, while the official scorer for Pittsburgh college kept score for the college. "Rube" Henning of high school twirled most of the game for the Blacks, but this the latter failed to report.

Altoona Won in the Ninth.

ALTOONA, PA., June 12.—(Special.)—There was plenty of good ball playing with many brilliant features, but Columbia park this afternoon, and at the close of the contest in the ninth inning the locals by timely hits secured the winning earned run, which gave them the game. Score:

Altoona	1	2	0 1 1 0 0 0 1—6 10 0

West Bethany Wins Game.

WEST BETHANY, PA., June 12.—(Special.)—The West Bethany nine trimmed up Swedetown 8 to 6. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
West Bethany	0 0 0 1 0 4 1 0 2—8	8	3
Swedetown	1 1 1 0 2 0 0 1 0—6	5	4

Pitcher McAleese Acquitted.

SHARON, PA., June 12.—(Special.)—Jack McAleese, the Sharon pitcher with the Rochester (N. Y.) Eastern league team, arrested on a charge of kidnaping a 14-year-old schoolgirl, was acquitted today. The charge was preferred by McAleese claims he was the victim of a blackmailing scheme.

Leach's Clever Pitching.

BROOKVILLE, PA., June 12.—(Special.)—New Bethlehem defeated the home team here today 5 to 3. Leach, the visiting southpaw, allowed but two hits and struck out 17 men. Batteries—Brookville, Clark and Beaucutter; New Bethlehem, Leach and Allebaugh.

GAPEN IS TOO MUCH FOR INDIANA NORMAL

Pittsburg College Pitcher Twirls Nice Game and Returns a Winner, 1 to 0.

Gapen is the hero of the hour at Pittsburgh college. After the game with Indiana Normal yesterday on the college campus, he was borne around the field by a band of jubilant students. He had shut out the strong Indiana Normal school with their crack pitcher, Calhoun, in the box, 1 to 0. The credit of the defeat was almost wholly due to Gape's wonderful twirling. He had the Normals at his mercy, striking out 12 in the first seven and third innings the Indianians had three men on bases with nobody out, but Gapen succeeded in pulling himself out of these bad holes.

The college batting was timely and Gapen was snappy, despite the cold wind that was blowing. The college outfield had little to do, as Gapen made the schoolboys hit to the infield. The only run came in the third on hits in the first inning. A free pass for Davin, a hit by Keating and one by Henly scored the Pittsburgh captain. With the exception of the second and third innings the Normals were never dangerous. Calhoun pitched a good game for Indiana and was supported almost faultlessly. Score:

IN FAST COMPANY.

Another Ex-Greensburg Player in the Big League.

GREENSBURG, PA., June 12.—(Special.)—With the signing of "Brownie" Hafford by the Chicago team of the American league, five of the members of the Greensburg nine of the summer of 1898 have been given berths in the major baseball leagues.

Hafford has been playing in the Eastern league and his consistent work at third base attracted the attention of more than one major league manager. The Chicago management succeeded in attaching his name to a contract, but was unable to secure his release until next summer. The other four members of the '98 team who are in fast company are Pittinger of Boston, Barclay of St. Louis, Moran of Washington and O'Hara of Newark.

POPULAR AT CORNELL.

Pittsburgh Boys Fit Up a Fine Trophy Room.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 12.—(Special.)—The two most popular students at Cornell today are John Rae Patterson and Isaac Buchanan of Pittsburgh. The finishing touches were put on the smoking room, the gift of the Pittsburghers, in Barnes hall today, and a valuable trophy cabinet also donated by Patterson and Buchanan was placed in the hall.

This will be the repository of the trophies won in various inter-collegiate athletic contests. The room is fitted with leather divans and lounging seats. Buchanan is coxswain of the 'varsity crew and Patterson is a stand-by in baseball matters.

NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY

WOMEN'S CLUBS

ONE of the smartest and handsomest weddings ever occurring in Pittsburgh will be held next Saturday afternoon, June 20, at "As You Like It," the new country home of Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., in Sewickley Heights. The bride, Miss Elizabeth Burd Thaw, the only daughter of Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., has been one of the most popular girls in society since her debut a couple of years ago. She is vivacious and witty and a brilliant leader in the younger set. Her wedding next week to Henry Lafayette Collins, son of Mrs. Henry Eaton Collins, will be marked by richness and beauty of appointment and an originality of detail which leaves much to be pleasantly anticipated by the guests who have been invited to witness it. The marriage will be solemnized out-of-doors at 4 o'clock, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Ernest Paddock, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal church, Allegheny.

The grouping of the bridal party and the costumes of the attending maids will present a novelty and individuality of arrangement and color against an exquisite setting of architectural detail and clamoring vines. The bride's attendants will include her cousins, the Misses Thompson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Thompson. Miss Isabel Pontefract, Miss Gertrude Irwin, Miss Errol Brown of Washington, D. C., George E. Collins, a brother of the bridegroom, who has been in Europe, is expected home in time to be the best man and the ushers will include two other brothers, Fletcher Collins and Palmer Collins, and Joseph McKnight Speer, George M. Laughlin, Dallas C. Byers and Lieut. Houston, U. S. N., a classmate of Mr. Collins in the Naval academy at Annapolis. Arthur Bell was to have been one of the ushers, but his arrival from Japan in time for the wedding is very uncertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are expected to arrive in Pittsburgh on Monday with their daughters from Sparkville-on-the-Hudson and will go to their home in Lincoln avenue, Allegheny. Miss Gertrude Irwin has been in Atlantic City with her mother and is also expected to return on Monday. Next week several informal entertainments will be given for Miss Thaw, who will entertain Miss Errol Brown over the wedding.

"As You Like It" is one of the most interesting of the many new country houses which have been erected in Sewickley Heights within the last five years. It is just completed and this spring the grounds have been laid out by the landscape artists. The house, which is modeled after the old English manor, is of generous dimensions, but throughout is arranged as a simple country home, Mrs. Thaw wishing to have it resemble in no respect her city home. The main house is nearly 200 feet in length and with the pergolas which extend at each side its entire length is increased another 100 feet. The classic pergolas about which the vines already clamor add to the picturesqueness of the place. A beautiful formal garden lies at one side and just before the wing containing the billiard room which is one of the most interesting features of this country home.

Hedges of box line the drive which leaves the main roadway from the town of Sewickley and entering the grounds winds about until it reaches the porte cochere from which the wide hall dividing the house opens out on the main front of the house, which is on the side farthest from the road and overlooks a terrace sloping away in the distance. The immense living room, the octagonal shaped dining room and the billiard hall will be used for the entertainment of the wedding guests.

Wedding in the New Church.

Monday morning, June 22, has been chosen for the marriage of Miss Estelle McCloskey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. McCloskey, and Albert C. Daschbach, to be solemnized in the new Roman Catholic Church of the Epiphany, Washington street. Only the immediate members of the two families will witness the ceremony, which will be performed at 9 o'clock. The clerical officiants will be the Rt. Rev. Bishop J. F. Regis Canevin, assisted by the Rev. Father Bertrand Conway, the Rev. Father O'Callahan, the Rev. T. J. McNichol and the Rev. Father John Horney, all members of the Order of Paulists of the Church of St. John the Apostle of New York city, and former college classmates of Mr. Daschbach. The only attendants will be Miss Mildred McCloskey and Raymond Daschbach, the sister and brother of the prospective bride and bridegroom. An informal wedding breakfast will follow at the home of the bride's parents in Irwin avenue, Squirrel Hill. Immediately after it the young couple will leave for a week on the Atlantic coast before sailing for Europe, where they will spend the summer in England, Scotland and Ireland. Upon returning to Pittsburgh they will go to housekeeping in a pretty new home in Thornburg.

Wedding Cards Out.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard S. Stenger of Squirrel Hill have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Amelia Stenger, and James Rees, which will take place on the evening of Wednesday, June 24. The marriage will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents in Forbes and Murdoch streets, by the Rev. Father Bullion, rector of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, Homestead. Mr. Stenger will give his daughter away and her only attendant will be a maid of honor, Miss Beatrice Schoelkopf of Niagara Falls. Mr. Rees' brother, Thomas Rees, will serve as his best man. There will be between 250 and 300 guests. After the reception and wedding supper the young couple will leave for an extended trip. They will be at home to their friends after September 1, at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Stenger was graduated at Miss Ely's school, New York. She made her social debut at a large reception given a few seasons ago by her mother at the Hotel Schenley and has recently returned from an extended trip abroad. She is a talented singer.

A Sewickley Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Jessie Hatheway Hurd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nelson Hurd of Sewickley, and George Henry Swallow of Pittsburgh, for which invitations were issued a few days ago, will take place Thursday evening, June 25, at 8 o'clock, in St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church, Sewickley. The marriage ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Robert M. A. Benton, the rector of the church. The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Harold J. Horton, as matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be another sister, Miss Adelaza Hurd, and Miss Mabelle Swallow of Boston, Mass., a sister of the bridegroom. Harry A. Johnston will be the best man and the ushers will be Edward N. Hurd, Jr., Edward Everhuesser, Walter A. Swallow, Frank B. Casker and Harold Horton. Mr. Swallow and his bride will take a southern wedding trip and after their return will live in Sewickley. Mr. Swallow is the eldest son of the Rev. William Henry Swallow, who was formerly assistant pastor of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, resigning last January to go to Boston, Mass.

Received His Degree.

Harvey Reese, formerly of Pittsburgh, who has been in New York for the last few years, received his degree of M. D. from the medical department of the University of New York last week. Mr. Reese is a son of Jacob Reese, at one time a well-known manufacturer in this city, whose interests have kept him in Philadelphia for the past 15 years. He is also a brother of Mrs. John G. Everson of Homewood avenue, East End. Immediately after graduating from the medical school Mr. Reese was offered a fine position in New York which he has accepted. He will be associated with Dr. Ayres, a prominent physician and a member of the faculty of the medical department in the University of New York.

A Fashionable Wedding in September.

A fashionable wedding in which Pittsburgh society is interested will be that of Miss Coffin of New Haven, Conn., and Starling Winston Childs of this city. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride-elect. Miss Coffin was one of the attendants at the wedding of Miss McClintock to Mr. Darling last year, and the announcement of the engagement was made soon after. Mr. Childs is a Yale man and a member of one of the prominent law firms in Pittsburgh. He is a member of all of the fashionable local clubs and is one of the most popular cotillion leaders ever known in this city.

Kindergarten Reception.

A reception was given last evening to the members of the graduating class of the Kindergarten college, the hostesses being the managers of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten association. The reception was conducted in the college building in Fifth avenue, Oakland, and was a large and brilliant affair. The assembly room, where the officers of the association with Miss Elizabeth Culp, principal of the college, received was decorated with tropical plants and flowers. Decorations also appeared in the reception rooms across the hall.

Today the annual dinner of the alumnae association will be held at the Schenley, Miss Culp being the guest of honor.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Miss Nellie A. Prall daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Prall of Webster avenue, and Dr. Victor W. Porter of Lafayette Col., has been announced. The marriage will occur in the near future. Miss Prall is well-known socially. Dr. Porter was formerly a practicing physician of Pittsburgh and located in Lafayette four years ago.

Returned From Europe.

Mrs. Wynn R. Sewell returned last week from Europe, where she has been since late in January. She went abroad for the late winter season at Nice and has spent the greater part of her time at the fashionable resorts on the French Riviera. Mrs. Sewell will go to Bar Harbor for the summer.

Dinner for the Laughlins.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Graham gave a handsome dinner last evening at their home in Shadyside in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin, who have been continuously entertained since their return some weeks ago from their wedding trip. Covers were laid for 10, and the guests included Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin, Mrs. Wynn R. Sewell, Mrs. Julia Howe, Miss Elizabeth Howe, Charles Hanford, Frank Sproul and Sterling Childs.

Married at Youngstown.

Miss Ena Lang of this city, formerly of Bellevernon, Pa., was married at Youngstown, O., yesterday, to S. J. Dugan of Coraopolis, Pa. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. R. Frazier, Ph. D., D. D. Mr. Dugan is patrolman-in-chief of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad and is very popular with the employes and patrons of the road. The couple will reside at Coraopolis, where they will be at home to their friends next week.

Tea in Quaker Valley.

Miss Eleanor Chew gave a pretty 4 o'clock tea at her home in Quaker Valley yesterday afternoon, in honor of her guests, the Misses Cooper and Miss Taylor. About 50 guests were present. The decorations were in pink, sweet peas, carnations and ferns being used.

Last Bridge Whist Meeting.

Mrs. Mansfield B. Cochran of "Hampton Farm," Sewickley Heights, entertained the Friday Bridge Whist club yesterday afternoon. This was the last meeting for some time, and about 30 of the members were present.

Afternoon Reception.

Invitations have been issued for a large afternoon reception to be given next Monday by Mrs. James Vincent Maher, Mrs. John Austin Burns and Miss Kate McKeown, at the home of the latter in Baum street, East End.

Garden Party at the Club.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Daniel C. Noble of Howe street, East End, for a garden party to be given at the Country club on Friday afternoon, June 19.

NOTWITHSTANDING the showers of yesterday afternoon, the New Era club held a successful garden party. There was a large attendance of clubwomen and their friends. It will be continued this afternoon and evening.

The grounds surrounding the Liberty school building in Ellsworth avenue, Shadyside, are admirably adapted to entertaining of any kind, and yesterday the long walk leading to the entrance of the school building was lined on both sides with gay booths presided over by the members of the New Era club. The supper tables were placed in the school building and ice cream was also served within the school rooms. In the evening after supper was over the school room was cleared of its tables and a Japanese booth erected, presided over by Mrs. Robert Coard.

Because of the dampness of the ground matting was laid over the grass. Electric lights hung from the trees and at the lemonade booth were fantastic Japanese lanterns. The booths were exceedingly pretty in their gay dress. The lemonade booth was decorated in yellow and white bunting, and the attendants wore pretty white hats trimmed with yellow roses. The flower booth was in green and white, the gypsy tent was weird with its decorations of crimson, while the gypsy, impersonated by Miss Sweeney, appeared in a gay costume of red. Blue and white were the decorations of the fancy work booth and the Klondike bazar was entirely in white.

Automobile rides in the surrounding streets were an interesting feature of the entertainment during afternoon and evening. Frank McKenna having offered his new auto-car for the purpose and George Eberhardt lending his automobile.

The women hope to be able to realize a fund which will be used for the benefit of the city and to promote good citizenship among the children. The public is invited to aid the club with its co-operation and support.

Teachers and Parents Co-Operate.

The open meeting of the Teachers and Parents union of the Fifth ward Allegheny, was held last evening in the Fifth ward school building. An adress was delivered by Mrs. Alice B. Montgomery, and Miss Beulah Kennard sang. The union was organized a few months ago to bring about a co-operation between the teachers and the parents of the children looking toward better results in the public school work.

Improvements at the Hospital.

The Ladies' Aid association of the Homeopatnic hospital is contemplating making needed repairs and improvements in the private patients' rooms and the bathrooms of the hospital and ask that their friends assist them in the work by sending contributions to the hospital. The room for the convalescents is now being fitted up at a great expense by Mrs. J. J. Vandergrift.

A Successful Fair.

The board of managers of the Aged and Infirm Colored Woman's Home at a recent meeting passed a resolution thanking their friends for the interest taken by them in the fair and festival given in April for the benefit of the Home. The net receipts were $1 276, which will be used toward the maintenance of the institution.

Wimodausis Picnic Postponed.

The outing of the Wimodausis club at Kennywood park has been postponed from Tuesday, June 23, to Wednesday, June 24. There will be euchre in the afternoon, with dancing in the evening, and supper will be served in the interval between the afternoon and the evening entertainments.

Aged Fireman Is Dying.

James Lloyd, one of the oldest fire fighters in Pittsburgh, is dying at his home, No. 5841 Ellsworth avenue. He is 70 years old and is a hoseman of No. 8 engine company in North Highland avenue, which position he has held for 30 years. Before entering the fire service he was for three years a police lieutenant under Mayor Jared M. Brush. He is a civil war veteran, having been first sergeant in Company F, Forty-Sixth Pennsylvania volunteers, and is a member of McPherson post No. 117, G. A. R. Lloyd spent 18 weeks in Andersonville prison. He lives with his wife, one daughter and one son.

Bishop Held for Embezzlement.

Edmund Bishop of the East End was last night held for court in $2,000 bail on a charge of embezzling $2,500 of the funds of the Westinghouse Airbrake Building and Loan association of Wilmerding, of which he was secretary for several years. J. C. Boyle, president of the association, brought the suit. Bishop is employed as a clerk in the sheriff's office.

Stopped the Street Cars.

Mary Casey, with her hair falling over her shoulders, last night took a pose on the car tracks at Sixth avenue and Grant street, swung a shawl about er head in a wild manner and screamed at the top of her voice. She had stopped the cars and attracted a crowd, when she was arrested.

MORENCI STRIKE ENDED.

Workmen Accept Employers' Offer and Troops Are Withdrawn.

MORENCI, ARIZ., June 12.—The strike is settled. The men accepted an offer of nine hours' pay for eight hours' work. The territorial guard will leave camp tomorrow.

Five troops of regulars from Forts Grant and Huachuca are here, with Col. Lebo in command. The Italians only are not included in the settlement.

SMALL DONATIONS TO FOURTH FUND

The Fourth of July fund was increased yesterday $180. The contributions received follow: Previously reported, $2,058; Frank J. Lutz, $10; Armstrong Cork Company, $50; Speck, Marshall & Co., $25; H. L. Childs & Co. $25; the McClure Company, $25; J. G. Bennett & Co., $25; Knapp Bros., $10; John Lauler, $10. Total, $2,288.

PERSONALS

A delegation of the Johnstown Maennerchor association arrived over the Pennsylvania railroad last evening to make arrangements with the Pittsburgh singers to go in a body to St. Louis. The combined musical societies will leave Pittsburgh next Monday to be present at the formal dedication of the World's fair music hall, which will take place Wednesday. Christian A. Saam, secretary of the United German Singers of this county, has made arrangements to take the vocalists over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, the Erie and the Wabash railroads. It was feared that the flood at East St. Louis would prevent the music hall being dedicated, but advices reached the city yesterday afternoon that the flood was receding and that the dedication would take place as announced. It is expected that 1,000 Pittsburghers will attend the ceremony.

Henry Rees, for over 30 years a resident of the Fourteenth ward, and one of the best known Welshmen in this section, has gone to New York to sail on the Lucania for Liverpool. Mr. Rees has been an active worker and elder in the Pittsburgh Welsh Presbyterian church for over a quarter of a century. Mr. Rees has been suffering from nervousness for some years and may decide to spend the rest of his life in Wales if he finds the climate beneficial. He was tendered a reception by the Welsh congregation at the church Wednesday night.

Mrs. Gus Stitzer, the wife of the proprietor of the Evergreen hotel in Ross township, is lying at No. 1703 Thirty-ninth street, suffering from injuries received on Thursday evening during a collision of street cars at Liberty avenue and Main street. Mrs. Stitzer was thrown down in the car and was severely cut and bruised.

The Rev. Robert Johnstone of County Derry, Ireland, is at the Seventh Avenue. He came to this country to secure financial aid for the church's work in Ireland. He is a member of the Irish Presbyterian church. From Philadelphia friends he bore letters of introduction to T. C. Waite of the assessor's office, Allegheny, and to Mayor J. G. Wyman.

William C. Loree, general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, left last night in his private car for Rockwood, where he will spend several days.

Murat Halstead of war correspondent fame, passed through the city last night over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, on his way to his home in Cincinnati.

Carpet Bargains for June Selling

We always make the month of June bargain-time in the Carpet Department.

Have to get things cleaned up for stock-taking on July 1—can't afford to carry over surplus stocks—hence we say—little prices and quick selling during June.

All the patterns that we are not going to carry next season—together with the odd rolls of all patterns—have been assembled for bargain marking—and here is the way we cut into the prices.

Only the finest grade of Wiltons today—

37 patterns—full rolls—beautiful colorings—borders to match—$3.00 grade at $2.50.
Odd pieces—30 to 50 yards each—$3.00 grade at $2.00.

Remnants—15 to 25 yards—the $3.00 grade at $1.25 a yard.

TO REORGANIZE BUILDING TRADES

Gigantic Plan on Foot to Consolidate Labor Unions and Prevent Annoying Strikes.

MEETING TO BE HELD TODAY

All Building Crafts to Be Merged into Four Unions and Form Branch of the New International Building Trades Council Being Organized in New York.

The Building Trades Council is making another effort to bring about a settlement of the trouble between the bricklayers and stone masons. It has a plan on foot which will bring the two organizations into closer relations and will effect the various building trades in general. A meeting will be held this afternoon.

The scheme is similar to that being tried in New York to consolidate all building crafts into four bodies, these to be affiliated into one building trades council. This will give the stone masons independence, but they must be affiliated with the one of the four bodies and with the central organization. The Building Trades Council is to be reorganized and will affiliate with the new International Building Trades Council now being organized in New York and Chicago.

The plan will effect all the building crafts throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. All the various trades that handle mortar, which include the bricklayers, stone masons, tile setters, marble setters, concrete workers, terra cotta workers, mosiac workers and similar crafts are each to organize a separate local of the same union.

UNION OF WOOD WORKERS.

All those who handle wood to form another union, while each craft is to maintain a local. This union will include the carpenters, joiners, cabinet makers, staircase builders and similar crafts.

The third union includes all metal workers, such as the structural iron workers, housesmiths, gas and steam fitters, all sanitary workers, electricians and similar crafts.

The fourth union will be known as the finishers. This will include the painters, decorators, paper hangers, varnishers, stainers, carpet layers, hardwood finishers, and all other crafts that coat the material put in a building by other crafts.

The executive officials of these four unions will comprise the membership of the new Bluiding Trades Council affiliated with the International Building Trades Council, and will have full authority to settle all disputes among the men, to give ultimata to the contractors and to act as adjusters of all scales.

This plan, which originated in New York, is thought to be one of the best to centralize labor unions and make them stronger. It will also give the contractors a better assurance that his buildings will not be impeded in their progress by a few dissatisfied men.

PREVENTS UNNECESSARY STRIKES.

The contractors will have to deal only with the new Building Trades Council, and getting its assurance that work can progress, no man will be allowed to throw down his tools under penalty of being suspended from the organization.

Each local will have representation to the union which they are affiliated with. The executive officials of the union will hear all grievances, and failing to agree will bring the matter before the next council, where it will be finally adjusted.

The fact that the Building Trades Council has made a previous attempt to have the bricklayers and stone masons' trouble settled by arbitration; that the Master Builders, the Builders' league, the Builders' Exchange, the Stone Contractors' association and the Brick Contractors' association, have decided to stop all work until the matter is settled, gives assurance that the new plan will bring both factions together and settle their differences, and in being so closely allied no similar trouble can occur again.

The United Mine workers is the first labor organization to express their opinion regarding the fight between the stone masons and bricklayers. The executive committee yesterday passed a resolution declaring that the stone masons were entitled to maintain a separate organization and that the bricklayers were not just in demanding that the Independent stone masons join their union.

The Builders' league met last night. The members expected a proposition from the stone masons and the bricklayers outlining a plan for settling their differences. None was made and it is probable that all building work will be stopped Monday.

ABATING SMOKE NUISANCE.

Oakland Board of Trade Goes After the Junction Railroad.

At the meeting of the Oakland board of trade last night a committee reported having held a conference with officials of the Junction railroad in reference to abating the smoke nuisance caused by locomotives passing through Junction hollow, Schenley park. It was stated that the railroad people were notified that unless the smoke was suppressed legal action would be taken to enforce the city ordinance requiring the payment of a fine of $20 for every engine emitting smoke as it passes through the hollow, and that the fine will be collected every day, if possible, as the ordinance provides. The railroad officials promised to take steps at once to abolish the nuisance.

The matter of holding a carnival was unanimously agreed to and a committee was appointed to fix the dates for it in the early days of September. John Dimling was made chairman of the committee and the other members named were E. Y. Brock, Charles H. Chance, August Eberhart, James McQuaide, W. Y. Negley and J. L. Davis. It will be held on the Dimling property, at Forbes and Halket streets, and the committee will see to it that sufficient funds and attractions are secured.

Thirteen new members were elected to the association.

SCHOOLS ARE CLOSING, NEW LIFE IS OPENING

The Rev. James D. Moffatt, D. D., LL. D., president of Washington and Jefferson college, delivered the address to the graduating class of the East Liberty academy last night. Dr. Moffat spoke on an all-absorbing topic among educators, what should be studied in the preparatory schools and how long the college course should be. He took the stand of the majority of the educators and advocated sticking to the present curriculums. Mr. Moffat said that most seldom come to college too late, but frequently too young to appreciate the course to the best advantage.

"The United States and Her Navy" was the subject of the oration of Arthur McClay Pardee and Herbert Patterson spoke on "The Panama Canal." These young men were the only members of the class to deliver graduating orations. The Rev. Frank W. Sneed, D. D., was in charge of the doctoral exercises.

The graduates and where they will attend college are: T. Howard Black, George Horne, R. W. Roessing, R. S. Fraser and W. R. Stevenson, Westergh, University of Pennsylvania; Robert Russell, Arthur Pardee and Paul J. McKnight, Washington and Jefferson; Herbert Patterson, Westminster; Ralph R. Lally, Notre Dame; A. J. Zahniser, Princeton; Edward W. Wilson, Lafayette; Herbert Brewer and Eugene Storer. The auditorium was trimmed in the academy colors, blue and white, and the attendance was large.

Bucknell University.

The fifty-third annual commencement of Bucknell university in Lewisburg, Pa., will be held from Friday to Wednesday, June 19 to 24. Commencement week will be filled with events. Friday evening, June 19, there will be an exhibition of the School of Music, under the direction of E. Astragnet, musical director.

On Saturday morning, June 20, an organ recital will be given by the School of Music, and in the evening the annual junior debate will be held.

Sunday morning, June 21, the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by President John Howard Harris in the Baptist church, and in the evening Dr. Alvan S. Robert of the Crozer Theological seminary, will preach the sermon before the educational society.

Monday, June 22, the art exhibition will open and continue for three days. On that day the examinations for admission to the college will be held; the announcement exercises of the school of music; the alumnae luncheon, followed by the annual meeting; the twilight concert by the Allentown band on the college campus; the anniversary meetings of the literary societies with an oration by Merrill Edward Gates, LL. D., of Washington, D. C., and the president's reception in the evening at the president's house.

Tuesday, June 23, the class day exercises will be held in the opera house, the annual meeting of the board of trustees in the college library; the commencement exercises of the Bucknell academy at 11 o'clock in the morning, with an address by Prof. Llewellyn Phillips; the business meeting of the college alumnae; the commencement exercises of Bucknell Institute at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, with an address by Wayland Hoyt, D. D., LL. D.; a twilight concert on the college campus and the anniversary meeting of the college alumni. Frederick Bertolett, class of 1872, Mauch Chunk, orator; Dean John I. Woodruff, class of 1890, Selinsgrove, poet, followed by the decennial reunions of the classes of 1902, '93, '83 and '93.

Wednesday morning the promotions will be announced, followed by the college commencement, and at noon corporation dinner in Bucknell hall.

Scholarship Awarded.

The students of the Allegheny School of Art are especially pleased over the praise accorded the exhibition of their work recently sent to New York for exhibition in the New York School of Art. The local workers were highly complimented by William M. Chase and the instructors of the New York School of Art for the uniform excellence of their work, and unusual interest was shown in the exhibit. The scholarship given by the New York School of Art to members of the Allegheny school was awarded to Ralph Fallert of this city. First mention was given Miss Rebecca Oliver of Allegheny, and second mention, Miss Margaret C. Walker, also of Allegheny. Miss Oliver and Miss Walker are well known among the art students of the city. Mr. Fallert has been one of the strong workers of the Allegheny School of Art for the past few years, and his work is full of individuality. Miss Oliver received mention for her work in color and Miss Walker for her drawing.

Sewickley High School Commencement

A large crowd attended the Sewickley High school commencement exercises in the auditorium last evening. There were eight graduates and an enjoyable program was rendered. There were orations by Will Lamble and Frank Cellar, essays by Miss Frances Atwell, Miss Helen Hersperger, Miss Mabel Glaney; a recitation in German by Miss Mary Gormley, and a debate, "Resolved, That immigration should be further restricted by law." Skiles Neely and Joseph Walters arguing the points. The music consisted of choruses by the entire high school and selections by the High School Mandolin club.

Reception and Exhibition.

Teachers and pupils of the South Side High school gave the first annual reception to the high school classes of the ward schools in the building at South Tenth and Carson streets yesterday afternoon. It was largely attended. The drawings, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth C. Riggs, displayed about 300 pictures drawn by the pupils of the three classes. The first-year pupils exhibited their work in charcoal, the second in pencil and the third in pen and ink pictures. The most interesting feature in the science department was a live frog under a microscope, showing the circulation of the blood through its veins. In one of the rooms a stereopticon was operated by Jack Jackson, one of the pupils. Figures in geometry were displayed by the pupils on the blackboards, as were some examples in algebra. Several vocal solos were sung. Miss Edith Stein.

Pittsburgh Academy Class Night.

The senior class of the Pittsburgh academy had its "class night" last night at the Alvin theater, and performed very well two dramatic selections and an operetta. The house was crowded with the friends of the class, and long before the curtain rose over the doors were closed and nobody was permitted to enter. Had it been a regular professional dramatic performance the "standing room only" sign would have been hung out.

The first comedy given by members of the class was "Cuenatige Vorzeichen," "favorable signs." It was in German and the players showed great familiarity with the language. Those who appeared in this sketch were Edward Fleeces, Charles Dyer, Elmer Brunner, Miss Grace Christy and Miss Edith Bach.

"An Affection of the Heart," a farce, was performed by Miss Loch, Miss Ottilia Bachman, Miss Marie English, A. C. Mercer and Harold Wilkins. A special squad of students of the academy performed the manual of arms in distinguished style that aroused the admiration of old soldiers present.

The closing performance was an operetta, "An Eventful Day." The cast was as follows: Grace Armstrong, Marie English, Esther Wilkins, Stella Keebler, Nettie Fogal, Milligan Kasparis, David J. George, Walter Schuchman, Paul Brand, Elmer Brunner and A. C. Mercer. Miss M. Olive Duff was the accompanist.

The commencement exercises of the academy will be held in the Alvin theater on June 17, at 8 p. m. The senior class consists of the following:

Academic—Walter Elmer Artzberger, Paul F. Brand, Elmer Henry Brunner, Findley Chess, Grace Christy, Charles D. Dee, Edward H. Flaccus, Albert Ernest Frosch, William Peter Goffe, Milligan Clarence Kasparis, Carleton MacComb, C. Mercer, James Harold Phillips, Thomas Alexander Russell.

Modern Languages—Ottilia Anna Bachman, Nellie Irene Fogal, Beasie Marie English and Edythe Katherine Loch.

Normal—Effie Mae Conrad, Hannah May Edwards and Stella Keebler.

Mechanical Drawing—Edward Butcher, Alexander Morris Cadman, Frank Hamilton Cramp, Dale Raymond Creagh, Clarence Haller Harlan, Andrew U. Kearns and Elmer A. Magill.

Commercial—Harry Armstrong, Sara Gordon Bamford, Edward Breibling, Leonard Gordon Bamford, Albert Brubach, George Edward Breen, Mae Beatty, Thomas Harvey Beadling, Jr., W. Irvin Clark, Sara Coffey, William Lewis Fix, Joseph Flaherty, Samuel Rankin Frazier, Jr., Carl G. Grabe, Minnie Gelb, Lauren Clark Grurer, Lena Garfinkel, Jessie Hartman, Harry Meyer, Hinelbine Jane L. Hapgood, Belle May Garet Kirsch, J. Orin Lewis, George A. Linn, Harry McIntosh, Hattie Icene McKelvy, Charles McKee, Elsan Porter, John McQuilkin, Estelle Pugh, William Eberly Rieger, Walter R. Schuchman, Max Sedersky, Raymond W. Sperber, Anna Trimble, Harry J. Wise and Esther Straughan Wilkins.

High School Exhibits.

Art and science studies of the pupils of the high school were exhibited yesterday afternoon in the central building. On the main floor were about 50 large framed photographs of the paintings in the permanent collection of the Carnegie art galleries. On the same floor in the library was a collection of photographs by the pupils of the schools. Some of the pictures would do credit to professionals. Free hand drawing by pupils under Miss Dilde E. Gray was shown on the second floor, consisting of a number of sketches in charcoal, pencil, pen and ink and water colors. The charcoal work is done by the pupils of the first and second year, the pencil work by the third-year class and the pen and ink and water colors by the fourth-year pupils. The latter included a number of large pictures from models, flowers and a few from life. This work is exceptionally fine. A number of text pictures were also displayed, both in charcoal and water colors. These are finished in a certain length of time, the longest allowed being five minutes. The display of mechanical drawing consists of pictures of machines, geometrical figures, cones, spirals and plans. The physics department, under Prof. Dysart, displayed a collection of scientific apparatus made by the pupils for use in the laboratory.

Awaiting a Full Board.

The North school, Fourth ward, board met last night, but no business was transacted. Only four members of the board were on hand. James Conlan being ill and Dr. S. H. Ralston being called unexpectedly out of the city. A full board is desired as a contract is up for the principalship of the school and the members want all to be satisfied. Another meeting has been called for Monday evening.

To Hold Picnic Next Friday.

The McKees Rocks schools will hold their annual picnic at Oakwood park June 19. The school board has chartered special cars for the occasion.

Pennsylvania to Award Contracts for Straightening Out the Main Line

Within a week it is stated, contracts will be awarded by the Pennsylvania Railroad company for improvements along the main line between this city and Altoona, requiring the expenditure of about $3,000,000. These improvements will be in the shape of reducing grades and eliminating curves to provide better freight facilities.

One of the most important pieces of work to be done is between Millwood and Latrobe, where the course of the road will be greatly changed, inviting a deep cut through the hills. It is also intended to widen the roadbed at a number of points to give room for the future development of the track system.

The Pittsburgh division was allotted this year nearly $10,000,000 for improvements, and it is said that the greater portion of this will be spent in the work of straightening the main line.

Pushing Work on Double Tracks.

General Manager J. F. Wallace of the Illinois Central railroad spent yesterday in this city, in his private car on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in the morning from Asheville, N. C., where he had been attending the convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers, to which the car was attached to the 5 o'clock train for Chicago over the Fort Wayne. During the day he visited the works of the Westinghouse Company with George Westinghouse. Mr. Wallace said that the work of double-tracking the line of the Illinois Central was being carried on rapidly at the rate of 150 or 200 miles a year, and that by July 1 of the present year there would be 500 miles between Chicago and New Orleans completed. He also said that a new line was being built between Cairo, Ill., and Paducah, Ky.

Successful Airbrake Tests.

The party of 25 airbrake experts of the Westinghouse airbrake plant at Wilmerding, who have been in New Jersey the last three weeks, experimenting with a new airbrake for fast trains on the Jersey Central railroad, returned home yesterday. The tests were made at various points on the Jersey Central lines, and it is said by members of the party that they were the most successful airbrake tests ever made. Much good is expected to result from them in the matter of stopping trains while running at a high rate of speed.

Busy in Wabash Conferences.

President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash spent another busy day yesterday in conference here with those connected with the Wabash's local plans. He met J. T. Blair, president of the Buchanan & Northern, and the plans of the connecting link in the Northern route of the Wabash were gone over. Mr. Ramsey's stay in this city was prolonged by the flood conditions about St. Louis, that city being shut from communication by railroad with this side of the Mississippi river on account of the river's high stage. He thought he could reach that city over the Baltimore & Ohio today, according to the reports from the officials of that road in St. Louis.

Westinghouse Leases P. R. R. Tracks.

The Westinghouse Airbrake Company of Wilmerding and the Westinghouse Meter works and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company of East Pittsburgh have leased the Turtle Creek Valley railroad tracks from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. These tracks extend from East Pittsburgh to the new works of the Westinghouse Company at Trafford City. The lease is made for the purpose of carrying the officials and workmen from the East Pittsburgh plants and that at Wilmerding, when it is necessary to make tests of experimental supplies and appliances by means of the third rail system and storage battery cars.

Pittsburgher Appointed by the Erie.

CLEVELAND, June 12.—(Special.)—H. A. Lloyd of Pittsburgh has been appointed master carpenter of the Cincinnati division of the Erie railways, succeeding W. B. Mitchell, who was killed at Akron a few months ago. Lloyd comes from the Baltimore & Ohio and will make his headquarters at Galion.

Increase in Ore Tonnage.

The report of the Bessemer & Lake Erie's ore tonnage for May of this year shows a remarkable growth over the shipments of last year. The report shows that to May there was handled 408,130 tons. In May, 1902, the total was 321,258.

Commissioners to Meet.

The 13th annual convention of the National Association of Railway commissioners will be held at Portland, Maine, on June 16. Among the questions that will be taken up at the meetings are those regarding grade crossings, classification of operating and construction expenses, taxes and plans for ascertaining fair valuations of railroad property, unification of classification and simplification of tariff sheets, railroad statistics, legislation needed, safety appliances, rates and rate making and forms of reports of electric lines.

B. & O. STATEMENT SHOWS AN INCREASED EARNING.

BALTIMORE, June 12.—The May statement of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad shows gross receipts $5,729,693, as compared with $5,310,757 for the same month in 1902, an excess of $367,231. The net earnings were $2,237,614, an increase of $427,586 over the previous year.

Railroad Notes.

Trains of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad are running from Chicago to Kansas City over the Burlington route by way of Hickman.

Chief Assistant General Passenger Agent Frank Van Dusen of the Pennsylvania lines west returned yesterday from the meeting of the Central Passenger Association at Chicago.

W. Cronkish, district freight agent of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, returned yesterday from the meeting of the Central Freight association at Chicago.

With a schedule going into effect on June 21 and until September 26, the Pennsylvania Company will operate a new train, known as the "Northland Limited," to North Michigan resorts, via Richmond, Ind., and the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad. Through sleepers will be run from St. Louis, Louisville, Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

David G. Black of Duluth, Minn., has been appointed to succeed J. W. Stevenson as the general office clerk of the Chesapeake & Northern railroad. Mr. Stevenson having resigned to take up ore with the North Exploration Company at Seattle, Wash.

Tonight at the Hotel Hoerr at 6:30 o'clock the Traffic club of Pittsburg will give a dinner of farewell and welcome to departing and arriving members, there being five guests. The projected trip, if the members of the club can find it, will not have been made next Wednesday, has been indefinitely postponed.

On the invitation of Ralph Peters, superintendent of the southwest system of the Pennsylvania lines, over 100 railroad officials, heads of the various departments of the different divisions of the southwest system, will meet tonight at Columbus for the purpose of becoming better acquainted.

ENTIRELY TOO RARE FOR A DAY IN JUNE

City Shivered in Grasp of Wind That Reminded One of March.

People shivered yesterday, went home at noon and changed into warmer clothes, and in many cases took their overcoats out of summer retirement. They walked the streets with collars turned up and hands in pockets. They huddled together in the open street cars and sought shelter from the March-like wind, in doorways and behind corners of buildings. It was a poor day for the soda water business.

It was the coldest June 12 of which the local weather bureau has any record, and one of the coldest days in a score or more of Junes. At 10 o'clock in the morning the thermometer stood at 52, sunk to 51 in the next hour, and did not rally from that point until the time that should have been sunrise. From then it gradually rose to 59 at noon and to 60 at 4 p. m., which was the highest point reached during the day. At 8 o'clock in the evening it had fallen to 56.

Signs of clearing weather developed early in the afternoon, even to the unlettered eye, but long before that the weather map had predicted conditions which seem to insure fair and warmer weather tomorrow. The high pressure area has moved eastward over the Mississippi valley and higher temperatures will gradually prevail.

ALLEGHENY TO BE THE CENTER

Croatian R. C. Church Will Send Preachers from North Side Throughout Country.

REV. FATHER DALIAS ARRIVES

Powerful Religious Organization Will Labor in Various Fields—Priests Are Leaving Mother Country Secretly. Plans for Future Work.

Allegheny city is to become the headquarters of the Croatian Roman Catholic church in this country and priests of that faith will hereafter be assigned their districts or parishes from the mother church of that sect in this country, the Croatian Roman Catholic church of Allegheny. The Croatians of Allegheny have started a movement that in its inception promises much for their countrymen in the United States. Priests of the orthodox faith are to be brought from Croatia, and from Allegheny will be sent into all parts of the country where any number of Croatians reside.

The Rev. Father Ivan Dalias, the first of the native ministers to reach this country, arrived yesterday in New York and is expected in Allegheny tomorrow. He is to be followed by five other priests, who for a time will make their residence in the North side, and will subsequently go to other parts of the country for the purpose of establishing Croatian churches where they are needed. Father Dalias comes direct from Servia and is personally familiar with the circumstances leading to the recent horrible massacres of Croatianians that have shocked the world.

"The organization of Croatian churches in this country, is in the hands of Gregor Pavlinac of Allegheny, who is the president of the National Croatian Society of America. He is to be assisted by the work by Joseph Lipnic, the national secretary. The latter in speaking of the proposed religious enterprise, said last night:

"We will have six or seven Croatian ministers in this country within the next two months. They will all come to Allegheny and will be assigned their charges from here. For fear that their destination and purpose will be detected by the authorities of the Austro-Hungary government, they must of necessity come singly. Father Dalias started first and the others will follow. My countrymen in this country have only about 15 ministers of our faith, and the need for more has been long felt. It is our purpose to continue to bring priests from Croatia from now until we have, as nearly as possible, a sufficient number to attend to the spiritual wants of the Catholics of Croatians in this country. The recent massacres of Croatians in our country will certainly result in an immense immigration of our countrymen to the United States. The fact that it resulted some time ago by the Croatians in this city, and it is in the hope of having a large number of our priests in this country to start churches that influenced us in taking up this work. In time we will have our religious society thoroughly organized with a high priest and the necessary minor church officers. This work for the present will be supervised by Mr. Pavlinac and myself. We are sending money to our suffering countrymen, as this is the only means to which we can resort to aid those who are being persecuted."

Secret of English Ladies' Complexion

Year in and year out English families keep Beecham's Pills on hand for minor ailments, which are consequently checked in time to prevent severe illness. Women have peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and English women find Beecham's Pills combat and correct their troubles as nothing else will do. The secret is that Beecham's Pills keep their entire system in perfect working order and give nature the slight help needed.

Beecham's Pills

do the same for thousands of American women and are fast becoming as popular here. Health, strength and beauty follow Beecham's Pills whenever they are used. Happiness and comfort are within the reach of all. See special instructions with each box.

The Most Fetching Book of the Year

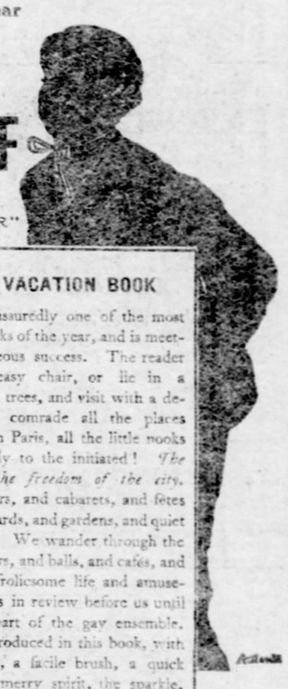
HOW PARIS AMUSES ITSELF

By F. BERKELEY SMITH
Author of "THE REAL LATIN QUARTER"



135 Captivating Pictures
By the Author and Several Noted French Artists, Including GALANIZ
MICHAEL
PEZILLA
And Others.

THE IDEAL VACATION BOOK

THIS will be assuredly one of the most charming books of the year, and is meeting with instantaneous success. The reader can sit in his easy chair, or lie in a hammock under the trees, and visit with a delightful guide and comrade all the places where fun reigns in Paris, all the little nooks of jollity known only to the initiated! The author gives us the freedom of the city. We visit the theaters, and cabarets, and fetes foraines, and boulevards, and gardens, and quiet little supper-rooms. We wander through the honeycomb of ateliers, and balls, and cafés, and circuses. All the frolicsome life and amusements of Paris pass in review before us until we feel almost a part of the gay ensemble. The author has reproduced in this book, with an enthusiastic pen, a facile brush, a quick photo lens, and a merry spirit, the sparkle, the color, the throb of this great kingdom of fun and love.

A Heart Story of the White House.
By Alfred Henry Lewis.

"One touch of love interest, dangerous and disturbing, is the sole element of sentimental romance. The rest is cabal and intrigue and personal politics—a very storm of action, above which the tall and spare figure of "Old Hickory," President Jackson, always towers in keenest relish of the fray."

Jas. Boss Stiffened Gold Watch Case.

The heavy lines indicate the Solid Gold in the case. You will notice that all the outside or wearing-surface of the Case is a heavy sheet of solid gold, of sufficient thickness (proved by 50 years' trial) to justify our guarantee that it will wear 25 years. The inside of the lids and cap of the case, where there is less wear, is also solid gold but not so heavy as the outer sheet. The bow and the joints are solid gold throughout.

The sheet of stiffening metal, between the two sheets of solid gold, adds much to the strength of the case, takes nothing from its beauty, and greatly reduces the cost. It takes the place of wasted gold.

This scientifically-made Case has proved to be the greatest value in a Watch Case, and its superior merits have made the JAS. BOSS STIFFENED GOLD CASE the standard of the world.

By this mark you know them.

All sizes, in all styles, at all jewelers.

STOCK MARKET ALMOST BUOYANT

The Rally Continued, Transactions Exceeded 1,000,000 Shares, and Prices Closed at the Top. Local Market Also Higher.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The eastern stock market was almost buoyant yesterday from start to finish. The sales for the day exceeded 1,000,000 shares, and prices closed at the top. London quotations came higher, and while foreigners were not such large buyers as on the day previous, the more cheerful sentiment abroad was fully maintained, and it was worthy of note that foreign markets were not disturbed by the Belgrade affair. Prices opened strong and higher, and after the first half hour, when some profit-taking occurred and the advance was checked, the upward movement was resumed and never halted to the close. Baltimore & Ohio was a conspicuously strong stock, advancing to 86, the movement being accelerated by the publication of the report for May. This showed an increase in gross earnings of $697,237, and an increase in net of $427,500. For the 11 months of the fiscal year there has been an increase of $4,812,258 in gross and $2,488,803 in net. Atchison was another strong stock, advancing from 68½ at the opening to 70¾ at the close, and there were semi-official statements to the effect that the report for May would show a large increase in net as well as in gross earnings. Union Pacific opened higher at 81¼ and advanced to 83. These are the stocks which suffered the worst declines in the liquidation during the early part of the week, and the buying in them no doubt represented shorts covering. In other stocks, however, in which the short interest was supposed to be insignificant, there were equally large gains, leading to the inference that there was genuine investment buying throughout the general list.

About the noon hour the coal stocks became quite strong and were for a time the leaders of the advance. This movement was based upon a decision of the United States circuit court in which the request of the government was denied for an order compelling the anthracite roads to testify and produce the records relating to contracts with independent operators. This was construed as favorable to the coal companies, and under the leadership of Reading, which was bought in large blocks, the market became buoyant. Reading reached 88¾, Norfolk & Western crossed 65 and Erie advanced to 33¾. The high grade stocks like Pennsylvania, St. Paul and New York Central were all strong, but the last named made the largest gain, advancing to 129. Amalgamated Copper was the most active of the industrials, advancing to 57. United States Steel common and preferred were fairly active and closed firm at the best. Consolidated Gas scored the greatest advance, selling up to 198¾. General Electric and Westinghouse Electric were also strong and higher.

The two days' rally has resulted in advances ranging from 5 to 11 per cent, the average being about 6 per cent for the railway list. In the dividend-paying list Atchison shows a gain, compared with Wednesday's prices of 8¾, Union Pacific 6, St. Paul 6¼, Nashville and Baltimore & Ohio each 5½, New York Central 4¾, Illinois Central 4¾, and Pennsylvania 8¾. In the lower grade stocks Reading shows an advance of 7⅞, Norfolk & Western 5⅜, Erie 6¼, Southern Pacific 5, Rock Island 4½ and so on through the list. Sugar is up 5 points, Amalgamated Copper 6, United States Steel common and preferred about 3 each, General Electric 8½, and Consolidated Gas 11¼. The impression is gaining ground that Wednesday will prove to have been "low day" for some time to come, and that while it will be natural to look for reactions, the character of the buying yesterday indicates that the investor has again made his appearance, and that on moderate recessions the better class of securities will continue to be absorbed.

Today's bank statement should more nearly reflect actual conditions than any that has been made for several weeks. Except for the $1,100,000 gold destined for Argentina, the loss through flow of the metal to Europe has been checked. The sub-treasury gained $1,834,000 from the banks during the week, but this has been offset by the receipts of currency from the interior. It is believed an enormous amount of money went to New York this week to protect margin accounts, but the estimates as to the net movement varied from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000. Last week's large decrease in cash reserves was ascribed mainly to the withdrawals of the trust companies. Similar operations should not affect today's showing. The liquidation in the stock market occurred during the first three days, and therefore should be reflected in a reduction in loans. For the corresponding week last year the net changes were slight, including an increase of $2,000,000 in surplus reserve and a decrease of $3,2000,000 in loans. This week's statement should be much more favorable than that. Call money rates were easy yesterday, declining late in the afternoon to 1½ per cent.

The local stock market was strong yesterday, and the large gains were well distributed among the industrials and the banking group. Late in the day American Trust became strong, and on transactions reaching 250 shares the price advanced from 535 to 540, closing at the best, a net gain of $40 a share. Colonial Trust, which early in the session sold unchanged at 600, jumped to 650 and closed at the top. This movement was construed as foreshadowing an early announcement of the consummation of the deal for the merger of the two interests, negotiations for which have been pending for two months. Real Estate Trust was 2 points higher at 287, closing at 290 bid, and Home Trust advanced 5 points to 140. The others in this list were unchanged.

Manufacturers Light & Heat was the most active of the industrials and on sales of 1,100 shares advanced to 39¾, closing at 39¾ bid. Philadelphia Company advanced 1½ points to 42½, and Ohio Fuel Supply, after selling up to 42¾ advanced to 42¾ bid at the close. Crucible Steel was strong, the common advancing to 15⅜ and the preferred closing at 82¾ bid. United States Steel common closed at 31½ and the preferred at 81½, being the highest of the day in both instances. The largest gain of the day, however, was in Westinghouse Electric, which after opening higher at 92, advanced to 95¾, following a similar rise in New York. There was a slight reaction at the close, but the tone was steady. Air Brake recovered a dollar a share, advancing to 150. Pittsburgh Coal was firm and higher, the common advancing to 27¾ and the preferred to 86¾. River Coal common was unchanged at 10½, but the preferred was firmer at 40. Brewing common gained ¾ by advancing to 32, and the preferred was ½ higher at 48. National Fire Proofing was neglected, but the tone was firmer and the bid price a fraction higher. The market closed moderately active and firm.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The public naturally inclines to the bull side of the market. The rally of yesterday and the day before was reflected in the faces of brokers and their customers. The tone in stock circles was quite cheerful, and while the old-timers wagged their heads and said the reaction was too vigorous to last, the general sentiment was that the worst in the stock market is over for some months to come.

The improvement in stocks has not yet reached bonds. Dealers here and in the east say the bond market remains practically dead, and that the only way to effect sales is to accept liberal concessions from the nominal bids quoted. So far this year the bond transactions on the New York stock exchange have aggregated $308,273,000, as compared with $1,072,000 for the corresponding period last year.

The sudden advance of $40 a share in American Trust and $50 a share for Colonial, which occurred on the 'Change yesterday, was accepted as an indication that progress was being made in the negotiations for the merger of the two companies and their affiliated interests. H. C. Frick, the principal buyers of both American and Colonial, and Sproul & Co. and McMullin were buyers of Colonial.

It was reported yesterday that a seat in the New York stock exchange had changed ownership at $70,000. This is a decline of $15,000 from the record price of the year. Some of the older brokers are predicting that after the market has established an equilibrium there is likely to be a subsidence of speculation and they are looking forward to a long period of comparative dullness.

Westinghouse Electric advanced in New York from 93¾ to 96, and a part of the trading here consisted of scalping operations between the two markets, New York ranging higher than Pittsburgh.

Among the unlisted stocks there were sales of Fayette County Gas at 70, Pittsburgh Oil and Gas at 78, and Union Natural Gas Corporation at 105. The listed natural gas stocks were all higher and closed at substantial net gains.

Holmes & Sons sold a block of 500 shares Manufacturers Light and Heat at 39½ to P. C. Hall, and Whitney & Stephenson sold a block of 500 shares River Coal at 10½ to Martin.

The formal opening of the new Industrial exchange will occur on Monday, when the officers of the exchange will receive their guests from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

N. Holmes & Sons have awarded $20,000 borough of Carnegie 4½ per cent tax exempt bonds at 103⅛ and interest, the premium being $718.75. The other bidders were: Seasongood & Mayer, par, interest and premium, $239.70; Davidson & Pryor, par, interest and premium, $465; H. L. Fuller & Co., par, interest and premium, $105; W. J. Hayes & Sons, par, interest and premium, $150.

United States Steel sinking fund 5s were quoted at 85⅝@85⅞.

A house identified with the Vanderbilt interests yesterday bought 30,000 shares New York Central. Wormser bought 20,000 shares Reading.

One of the Wall street steel news agencies estimated a net gain in cash by the banks of $4,237,000 during the past week.

The gross earnings of Southern Railway for the first week in June increased $59,000.

Some of the guesses on today's bank statement placed the reduction in loans as high as $15,000,000.

J. L. Hukill of the Hukill-Hunter Company has been elected a director of the Fourth National bank.

For months Wall street has been asking itself the question who will succeed Keene as the leading operator on the stock market. For some while it has been reported that Keene was to retire, and it is undoubtedly true that his recent operations in the stock market have been on nothing like as large a scale as some years ago. John W. Gates has been the operator who has been most prominently mentioned as the possible successor of Keene. There is no doubt but that Gates is one of the most daring operators Wall street has ever seen, but Keene has the advantage of his experience and is willing to back his judgment with the last dollar he owns. The purchases of the control of Louisville & Nashville by the Gould-Moore syndicate is expected to be one of the greatest coups ever executed in Wall street. On the other hand, there is no doubt but that Gates has made a large number of enemies during his association, brief though it has been, with the successful bear campaign Harry Weil has come into considerable prominence as a possible successor of Keene.—New York Commercial.

Hook Succeeds Caldwell.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—William C. Hook of Leavenworth, Kan., has been selected to succeed Judge Caldwell, who recently resigned the circuit judgeship of the Eighth district. Judge Hook is at present a district judge.

LOCAL NATIONAL BANK DEPOSITS SHOW LITTLE CHANGE SINCE APRIL

The only complete summary of the statements of all the local banks that has been published is presented below. It shows that deposits have hardly varied at all since the time of the last statement, just two months previous. Three banks show increases of over $1,000,000, the Allegheny, the Mellon and the Farmers. The Bank of Commerce has been liquidated and is not making a statement, but is included in the table, as its deposits appear in the figures for April 9, used for comparisons. Its deposits have largely swelled the total of the Mellon, which has absorbed it.

The Industrial National was in operation just one day previous to the date named in the call and may not make a statement. Instructions have been asked of the comptroller of the currency, but the reply has not been received last evening.

The Tradesmens is in process of liquidation and shows a heavy decrease in deposits.

The item of surplus and undivided profits shows the usual healthy increase and proves the continued prosperity of the banks. A few decreases appear, but in almost every case this is where a bank has paid a dividend to the latter interim between the statements.

The total capital stocks of the Metropolitan, Union, Mount Oliver and Third National banks are not yet fully paid and payments that have been made therein are entered as deposits, conforming to a recent official ruling.

TIMID INVESTORS ARE LEFT AWAY BEHIND

Bargain Prices in Wall Street Stocks Are No Longer Obtainable for the Asking.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building (Herald) Square. NEW YORK, June 13.

The Herald this (Saturday) morning says: The stock market of yesterday made further progress toward the recovery of lost ground, and did so with such rapidity and sharp advances as to leave many hesitating investors far in the rear, with their chance of profit unobtainable at "bargain-counter prices." Although there was unquestionably some more buying of that class which brokers term "the best class of customers" this was decidedly less pronounced than on Wednesday. The business of the day took on more of the professional aspect of recent months, with a decided revival of those methods in which the Sons of Jacob brought into play. It was thought, to give the recovering movement further impetus and render the market attractive to folks with money.

Speculative sentiment was somewhat mixed in the market, one element among the traders holding that the recovery was proceeding too rapidly to be fully maintained, while another, and unquestionably among the more active brokers, held that a bull movement was just beginning. In commission house circles brokers generally took the middle ground, advising customers who bought to protect themselves with small profits and issuing warnings against extensive purchases, until the future was a little more clearly defined. The chief perplexity among commission men seems to be that they have never had a definite understanding of what really ailed the market and caused the enormous liquidation. Theories, gossip and rumors they have in plenty, but definite information none. Most of them would be better satisfied if the bad news had developed and had been definitely eliminated.

Little developed in the way of news affecting the general situation, and the chief force in continuing the recovery, aside from the natural rebound from the severe depression, appeared to be the aggressive operations of the bull contingent, some of which was directed against the stocks in which uncovered short interests are believed to still exist.

Machinists Ordered Out.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., June

FT. WAYNE BUYS NORTH SIDE PLOT

Secures the Callahan Property, in Lacock Street, for $280,000. Other Big Purchases.

CRAIG STREET FLATS ARE SOLD

Wylie Avenue Houses Bring $24,000. Perrywille Avenue Site Purchased. Fine Home Sites in Sewickley Planned. Warehouse Will Cost $225,000.

The Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Railroad Company has bought the Hugh Callahan property on the north side of West Lacock street, Allegheny, for $280,000. The property is in two plots, separated by a 20-foot alley. It extends 202 feet along Lacock street, beginning at a point about 140 feet west of Federal street, and has a depth of 130 feet to the holdings of the railroad. Six three-story brick houses, a barber shop and a saloon occupy the frontage. The deal was made this week. The railroad company has also closed the deal for the Westinghouse property, at the northwest corner of Lacock and Darrah streets, Allegheny, for $100,000. It has bought all the frontage on the north side of Lacock street, between Darrah and Craig streets, except 70 feet at the corner of the latter. All this property extends back to the Ft. Wayne holdings. On Craig street the railroad has bought five properties covering a lot 125x80 feet, and extending down to the end of Rebecca street for $30,000. Another plot recently purchased for $55,000 measures 79x110 feet, on the west side of Craig street, running back to the park. These purchases give the railroad practically all the property between the Ft. Wayne tracks and Lacock street, and extending from near Federal to west of Craig street. In Federal street two properties were bought last year and rumors have been current of late that condemnation proceedings are to be instituted against property owners between the railroad and Lacock street. East of Federal street it is known that the railroad has bought a number of small properties within the past three months, and it is believed that extensive additions to the elevated tracks are contemplated.

CRAIG STREET APARTMENTS SOLD.

A three-story brick apartment house, on the north side of Craig street, near Center avenue, has been sold by D. R. Torrence; former city treasurer, for $31,000. The reputed buyer is J. P. Dunbar of Greensburg, and the deal is credited to C. C. Hamilton, who, however, declined to give out any information concerning it. The property is known as No. 238 and is 50x130 feet. The building contains six flats of six rooms each.

Through the Sachs Real Estate Company J. H. Epling has sold to a local investor the properties at Nos. 1538-1544 Wylie avenue, for $24,000. The lot is 100x75 feet, and has erected on it three eight-room and one 12-room brick houses. They are located between Tannehill and Crawford streets, and bring a large income on the investment.

H. W. Klein of the Consolidated Real Estate Company has sold for Mrs. Harriet S. Sproat and S. R. Jones to P. V. Rovnianek a choice building site in Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, for $14,000. The lot measures 160x80 feet on the west side of the avenue near the East street boulevard. It is only a short distance from the Hoffman homestead and the Schroeder residence and commands a fine view of Riverside park. The buyer will build a $25,000 residence.

FINE PROPERTY TO BE PLOTTED.

The demand for large home sites in Sewickley is leading property owners to sub-divide what have been for years some of the finest homesteads in the town. The latest of these to succumb to the march of home hunters is the Miller and Hackney property, which will be handled by Joseph P. Franklin & Co. The property includes about 20 acres, all of which is vacant. It faces in Nevin avenue and adjoins the water works, the B. F. Jones holdings and the property of Mrs. William Thaw and of Stewart Brown. Part of it is in the First ward of Sewickley and part in East township. Owing to a cave-in which opens up this property and leads to the river the plot is one of the best known in the entire Sewickley valley. It is valued at $125,000. To make it desirable for wealthy residents the land will be from one-half to one acre in size and the streets will be laid out with building restrictions.

William C. Heitz has sold for James P. Downs, plot A, Negley's assignment, an improved property 82.5x90 feet at the southeast corner of Craig and Filmore streets, Fourteenth ward, for $18,000. The same broker sold for Mary Stephens to William J. Keller an improved lot 80x150 feet in Keller street, Mt. Oliver borough, for $5,500.

BAILEY-FARRELL CONTRACT LET.

Architect C. M. Bartberger has awarded the contract for the warehouse of the Bailey-Farrell Manufacturing Company to A. & S. Wilson Company. The building will be eight stories high and will cover a lot 125x150 feet on the corner of Third avenue and Ross street. It will be a strictly fireproof structure and will be built especially strong to bear heavy weights. The storage warehouse which the company will occupy the eighth or top floor, an innovation in warehouse arrangement in this city. When completed, about January 1, the building will cost at least $225,000. The firm will then abandon its location in Smithfield street and transact its entire business from the new quarters.

Bids are being taken in the office of Architect Titus de Bobula for the Greek Catholic church of Sts. Peter and Paul at Carnegie. The church will be one of the finest in the vicinity of Pittsburg, its value to be $50,000. The same architect has plans for three other Catholic churches to be built in towns near Pittsburg at a cost of from $50,000 to $100,000.

Architect William Young Brady is taking bids on the residence of Charles E. Satler in Oakland, to cost $12,000. He is also receiving estimates on the house of Thomas Alexander at Franklin, Pa., to cost a like sum.

FIGURING ON A BIG DEAL.

County Recorder J. Denny O'Neill, with other Pittsburgh capitalists, is said to be negotiating for a vacant corner at Sixth avenue and Walnut street, McKeesport, which is valued at $100,000. The property is situated near the business center and if secured will be sold to be improved with a modern hotel to cost $200,000.

Samuel E. Dusenberry has sold to G. Caplan an improved property 55x98 feet on the north side of Bluff street near Van Braam street, Sixth ward, for $12,000.

Federal street: The Aronson Realty Company sold one of the Sarah Heinz Company's executor of the Collingwood estate, to Henry Lawrence, No. 33 Federal street, near Fifth avenue, a two-story brick building on lot 25x124 feet, for $5,700.

Wylie avenue: S. Arnold sold for Mrs. W. Bartels to Louis Menizer No. 2116 Wylie avenue, Eleventh ward, a three-story brick business building on lot 20x80 feet between Erin and Kirkpatrick streets, for $7,000.

DEALS WIDELY SEPARATED.

Wilkinsburg: C. S. Marshall sold for W. E. Hamnett to Margaret and Dora L. Moore a frame house, lot 30x100 feet, on the south side of South avenue, near West street, Wilkinsburg, for $5,000. The same broker sold for A. J. Burrough to A. J. Puffinburg a lot 45x160 feet at the corner of Branch and Ravine streets, Troy Hill, Allegheny, for $7,500. It is likely that a hotel or business will be built on the lot for employes of the Heiss Island stock yards.

Frankstown avenue: O'Donnell & Jenny sold for Negley Bros. to W. W. Haas a frame house, lot 20x100 feet, on Frankstown avenue, near Wood street, Twenty-first ward, for $4,800.

Permits were issued by the Allegheny bureau of building inspection yesterday as follows:

FRUIT AND PRODUCE PRICES STRONGER

The Scarcity of New Cabbage Causes Advance—Red Raspberries Begin to Arrive.

Fresh produce was scarce and active yesterday, buyers being more numerous than for several days, and prices were very firm, with quotations showing an inclination to go higher than for some time. New cabbage came forward in very limited quantity, but two cars offering, and these were quickly cleaned up at an advance of at least 25c a crate. Florida celery is running poor, and prices are steady for fancy stock only, and of this there is not much to be had. New Orleans celery is in fair supply, and of average quality, with prices steady. Florida egg plant has commenced to take the place of that from New Orleans, and offerings yesterday were fine in quality, with quotations strong, and buyers purchasing eagerly. Tomatoes, both from Florida and Mississippi, are higher in price with the demand excellent, and supplies running light. Strawberries from the south and from Ohio brought from 10c to 12c for fancies, while some arrived in poor shape from Ogdensburg, N. Y., were held at 10c to 15c. Cantaloupes took an upward turn, and advanced to $2 50 as the lowest notation. Green string beans went higher, stock being scarce, while wax beans held their own with a fair supply on hand. Watermelons were unchanged, with the supply fully equal to the demand, consumers not yet showing very much interest in these goods. Black raspberries are still scarce, with small supplies, and prices declined. Red raspberries offered at figures slightly above those asked for black. Blackberries and huckleberries maintained former quotations, and currents were unchanged.

Butter was fairly steady, although the market gave some evidence of becoming easier, demand not being quite so active as at the opening of the week. Cheese is firm, and dealers claim the bottom of the market range has been reached for the present, and that prices are likely to rule higher than they did last summer. Eggs are firm but no higher than last reported.

Receipts of hay are only moderate, and quotations are firmly maintained. For best timothy there is a strong market and ready buyers. Straw is quiet, and the little which is arriving is sufficient for the slow demand. Corn is firm, and quoted figures continue to prevail, with not a great deal changing hands. Oats are very firm, and quotations for the week have advanced 2c, with sellers holding stock firm at the advance. Millfeed is holding its own fairly well, although white middlings are purchasable at about 50c a ton below figures formerly ruling.

Flour prices are firm, the inclination generally being toward higher prices, though little has been accomplished in that line this week. The Northwestern Miller reports the steadiness among mills in Minnesota being toward curtailment of product, and this is strengthening the market throughout the country. Local jobbers feel that they should be obtaining higher figures than are now prevailing, but competition keeps prices down. Coffee is unchanged, with Rio and Santos grades quoted as follows: Rio, No. 7 invoice, 6½c; No. 7 jobbing, 6¾c; No. 7 fancy, 7c; No. 4 invoice, 7½c; No. 4 jobbing, 7¾c; No. 4 fancy, 8c; No. 3 invoice, 7¾c; No. 3 jobbing, 8c; No. 3 fancy, 8½c; No. 2 invoice, 8c; No. 2 jobbing, 8½c; No. 2 fancy, 9c; No. 1 invoice, 8½c; No. 1 jobbing, 9c; No. 1 fancy, 9½c; peaberry, 8½c; Santos, No. 4 invoice, 8½c; No. 4 jobbing, 8¾c; No. 4 fancy, 9c; No. 3 invoice, 9c; No. 3 jobbing, 9½c; No. 3 fancy, 10c; No. 2 invoice, 9½c; No. 2 jobbing, 9¾c; No. 2 fancy, 10½c; No. 1 invoice, 10c; No. 1 jobbing, 10½c; No. 1 fancy, 11c; peaberry, 10c; Mexican, 8½c; Guatemala, 8½c; Java, 9@9½c; Mocha, 10@10½c; Maracaibo, 8½c; Bogota, 8½c; Ceylon, 9½c; Costa Rica, 8½c; Caracas, 8½c; Laguayra, 8½c; Mandehling, 10½c; Padang, 10½c; Arabian, 9½c; Rangoon, 9½c; Singapore, 9½c; Plantation, 9½c; Maracaibo, 8½c; Mexican, 8½c; Guatemala, 8½c; Java, 9@9½c; Mocha, 10@10½c; Mandehling, 10½c; Padang, 10½c; Arabian, 9½c; Rangoon, 9½c; Singapore, 9½c; Plantation, 9½c.

Sugar prices are unchanged, with the demand fair. Refiners are quoting as follows: Cubes, 4.95c; powdered, 4.80c; granulated, 4.70c; confectioners' A, 4.60c; soft A, 4.60c; white extra C, 4.50c; extra C, 4.40c; yellow C, 4.30c; No. 1 yellow, 4.25c; No. 2 yellow, 4.15c; No. 3 yellow, 4.05c; No. 4 yellow, 4.05c; No. 5 yellow, 4.05c; No. 6 yellow, 4.05c; No. 7 yellow, 4.05c; No. 8 yellow, 4.05c; No. 9 yellow, 4.05c; No. 10 yellow, 4.05c; No. 11 yellow, 4.05c; No. 12 yellow, 4.05c; No.

COAL ROADS WIN IN CIRCUIT COURT

Not Obliged to Produce Purchase Contracts for Commerce Commission.

LACOMBE DECIDES THE CASE.

In Action Under Sherman Anti-Trust Law in Proper Tribunals Defendants Could Be Compelled to Produce the Contracts Desired by Commission.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 12.

Judge Lacombe in the United States circuit court today handed down a decision sustaining six anthracite carrying railroads in refusing to answer certain questions asked by the commission and to produce contracts. One result of the decision, it is believed, will be an attempt to strengthen the interstate commerce laws and extend the power of the commission.

Judge Lacombe, in regard to the case of Edgar C. Kebbard, whom the commission ordered to produce the famous "Temple Iron Company contracts," says:

"If the defendants were being prosecuted under the Sherman anti-trust act for having entered into a combination, agreement or contract, in restraint of trade, the contracts in question would be relevant testimony. This, however, is not a prosecution under the anti-trust act, nor is the interstate commerce commission the forum before whom such a prosecution is conducted."

In another part Judge Lacombe says: "In view of the language of the interstate commerce acts there is great force in the contention that the prosecution, before the commission, of carriers who violate statutes, should be at the instance of a shipper and that an individual who merely purchases merchandise, the price of which is advanced by reason of its being included in the cost of transportation may not prosecute such a proceeding where no shipper raises objection to the rates charged.

"The petition to direct the production of this contract is, therefore denied. If, however, there are any contracts in the possession of the witness which deal with the subject of transportation as well as with the subject of purchase they should be produced."

The investigation by the interstate commerce commission into W. R. Hearst's complaint that the six railroads operating the anthracite regions have combined to violate the interstate commerce law was continued today.

Part of the evidence given by Samuel Sloan, president of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western before the trust investigating commission of the legislature of 1897 was read to the record despite the objections of Mr. Sloan's counsel. Mr. Sloan testified that the presidents of the coal carrying railroads in 1886 had informally agreed to a pro rata division of the coal carrying business.

When the reading was concluded counsel for Mr. Hearst announced that he rested his case with the exception of the evidence of an accountant, now in Minneapolis, who has to swear to the accuracy of certain mileage computations made by him.

The commission adjourned to a date which they will name between now and July 4.

SCHWAB'S CASH NEEDED BY SHIPBUILDING CO.

Chairman of Reorganization Committee Explains Difficulties of the Situation.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 12.—Reorganization of the United States Shipbuilding Co. may be defeated by the application for a receiver made yesterday. The opinion is expressed that a receivership is quite probable. A meeting of the reorganization committee, however, will be held next week to proceed with the plan.

George R. Sheldon, chairman of the reorganization committee, said today concerning the suit:

"We devised a plan which we thought was for the best interests of all. Every bondholder who has come here and learned the exact situation has had no objections to offer to the plan. To talk of separating the Bethlehem Steel from the United States Shipbuilding Company is as absurd as would be divorcing the Carnegie Company from the United States Steel Company. The Bethlehem Steel Company earns $5 to $1 of the other companies and Mr. Schwab stands ready to take it over at any time, but he agreed to put up the $2,000,000 cash capital in the interest of all concerned."

The reorganization committee officially admits that the company will be unable on July 1 to meet the interest or sinking fund accruing on its first mortgage, 30-year bonds, and that the making of further loans is rendered impossible.

This is the situation. The reorganization committee gave preferential treatment to Charles M. Schwab and the other holders of the $10,000,000 collateral mortgage bonds, it is stated, because they offered to put $2,000,000 cash for additional working capital.

COAL DEALERS GUILTY.

Charges of Conspiracy to Advance Prices Established and Fines Imposed by Judge.

CHICAGO, June 12.—(Special.)—Members of the Retail Coal Dealers' association of Illinois and Wisconsin and of the Northern Soft Coal Dealers' association, who were indicted last winter by a special grand jury summoned during the coal famine, to investigate the charges of conspiracy lodged against them, were found guilty today by Judge Horton.

The 18 defendant companies and corporations represented in the association were each fined $500. An appeal was taken at once on writs of error. In the case of the Retail Dealers' association Judge Horton accepted a formal plea of guilty in each case several months ago and instructed the jury to return a verdict of guilty to conform with this plea, and fined the defendants, nine officials of the association, $100 each.

NEW CLAIMS AGAINST J. O. BROWN ESTATE

New claims are being made against the estate of the late Recorder J. O. Brown almost every day. Four more were presented to the executrix yesterday. Mrs. Henry Ackerman of Greensburg made it known that she holds a bond of $1,000 of the West Penn Coal Company, and Mrs. Katherine Zimmerman of Allegheny and Mrs. A. J. W. Johnston of Dauphin street, East End, each hold a bond of $2,000 of the same concern. It was also learned that J. G. Trees has a judgment note of $1,500 given him by J. O. Brown. J. R. P. Brown is investigating these claims. He said yesterday that there would be claims against his brother's estate which would aggregate almost $30,000.

New City Employes Named.

Director Harry Moore of the department of public safety appointed the following men to the police and fire bureaus yesterday: Police, James McVerry, John J. Dillon and John Haley. Firemen, Frank J. Nendlman, Edward T. Hague, Peter Tenney and Arthur McDonald. These men will be assigned to their various places at once.

FIRE VICTIMS WANT DAMAGES

Girls Who Jumped from Fourth Story of Burning Building Enter Suit.

EACH OF THEM ASKS $25,000

Allege Kelly & Jones Co. Disregarded Legal Obligation in Not Providing Fire Escapes—Sequel to Water Street Disaster.

Attorneys D. S. McCann and J. L. Ritchey yesterday entered suits in behalf of Clara Schmitt, Mary A. Lowe and Mary A. White against the Kelly & Jones Company for damages aggregating $75,000. The plaintiffs are the young women who in order to escape death jumped from the fourth floor of the defendants' building in First avenue, which was partially destroyed by fire on May 11, last.

It is alleged that the interior of the building was constructed of pine and other inflammable material, which was uncovered and exposed to the air. It is also charged that the stairways were narrow, insufficient and dangerous, and that the company disregarded its legal obligations and failed to provide fire escapes or interior means of escape. It is set forth that the girls attempted to escape by the stairway, but all of the floors were in flames and impassable, and that in order to escape they had to jump from the fourth story windows. In the case of Clara Schmitt it is set forth that her mother is a widow and as a result of the injuries received by her daughter, has lost her earnings and services. Her face is said to have been disfigured, ribs broken and ear drum punctured, making her a permanent invalid and requiring the constant attention of a physician. Twenty-five thousand is asked in this case.

In the case of Mary Lowe it is alleged the base of her spinal column is permanently injured by the jump, her face scarred and disfigured and that she sustained permanent internal injuries from which she will never recover. She also asks for $25,000.

Mary A. White it is alleged, is permanently injured in her kidneys, arms and spinal column, in the region of the heart, suffering frequent and prolonged attacks of sickness. The same amount is asked in this case. The girls are all under 17 years of age.

Grand Jury Returns.

The grand jury yesterday ignored two charges of illegal liquor selling against Thomas J. Morley, lieutenant of police in the South Side district; Thomas Williams, James Routley, Michael Horen and James McArdle. The men were returned by Constable H. B. Lindner of the Twenty-sixth ward owing to their alleged connection with a club. The costs are placed on the county. The other true bills were:

Felonious assault and battery, Charles Brown, Mike Churila, Harry J. Gordon, William F. Simpson; misdemeanor, S. A. Courtney, Edward Jackson, C. Hipp, Joseph Smith, Hugo Trax, selling liquor illegally; Henry Ellis (4), John Hoffman (2), Edward McDonough, Mrs. McCluskey, Mary McCarthy, George Hohlcraft; malicious mischief, Josephine Frauenhoitz, Leonard Syogeman, John Wiley; assault and battery, Kate Farrell, R. R. McCutcheon, David Rodgers, Mike Sudusky, Thomas Stewart, George Mechaber et al., John C. Wiley; larceny, Arvilla Forrester, John Gundy, Franklin Marquis, J. A. West; aggravated assault and battery, J. R. Haddon, August Schwartz, Lizzie Woods et al; horse stealing, John Hurley; assault and battery, etc., Abele Llotti; embezzlement, G. R. Lambert, Louis Rosenthal, George Wolf; keeping a gambling house, D. L. Noon; larceny by bailee, W. Strantz.

Ignored bills—Selling liquor illegally, Joseph Catterall, (2), John Gundy, Mary McCarthy, Mrs. McCluskey, Margaret Scannell (2), Thomas Williams et al.; assault and battery, Harry Kroll, John Kasper, John Moore.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Annie Welsh sued Owen B. Farley and wife, and Annie Venner sued Julius Gross for $1,000 damages, in each case for alleged slander.

The will of Agnes Crookston was filed, Priscilla Lloyd taking out letters on the estate. Attorney George N. Chaifant represents the executrix.

Miss Jennie Hindman was yesterday appointed a probation officer by Judge James R. Macfarisane, and the district to which she will be assigned is to be defined later.

Equity trial and argument lists will be taken up in common pleas court No. 1 Monday. The argument, new trial and equity lists will be taken up August 7.

Executions were issued as follows: Charles K. Barnhart against W. H. Dover, $213; Theodore Harkins against John Hamm, $666 22; P. W. and Annie Steinert against Rocco and Rosina Accerino, $1,325 40; Andrew Marshall against G. B. Legnard, $618 56; Guarantee Title and Trust Company against Clara S. Huddleston, $3,544 67; same vs. same, $3,544 67.

TO RESCUE WOMEN.

Christian and Missionary Alliance Applies for a Charter to Incorporate a Branch.

Edward D. Whitesides, W. Peter Robinson, Decker H. Barnett, E. B. Nichols, Thomas J. Turner, C. G. Britton and John A. Best, through Attorney A. E. Best, have applied to court of common pleas No. 2, for a charter incorporating the Christian and Missionary Alliance Branch No. 2 of Pittsburgh.

The main purpose of the new organization is to rescue fallen women, to secure their reformation and salvation, and to protect tempted and defenseless girls; to establish and maintain a home of refuge or charitable institution for the reception, accommodation and protection of such as may seek its shelter or be brought to it.

No woman of whatever race or condition is to be denied admission. Religious and other meetings for their instruction and cultivation are to be held and an effort made to secure them permanent homes and industrial pursuits and other occupations, so that they may earn an honest and useful livelihood.

Epworth Leaguers Held Election.

The annual convention of the Epworth league of the Washington district closed last night. New Cumberland, W. Va., was selected as the place for the next convention. The officers elected are: B. C. McGrin, president; Miss Lizzie Mullen, vice president; Miss Elizabeth Hunter, second vice president; Miss Anna Lindoff, third vice president; Miss Alma Howard, fourth vice president; Miss Nellie Nolan, secretary; J. N. Rodgers, treasurer; Miss Charlotte Hartley, superintendent of junior league; executive committee, the Rev. Howard Lloyd, the Rev. N. H. Cameron, and the Rev. E. G. Norris.

USED BIG UMBRELLA FOR TWENTY YEARS

"We'll have a rise by the 5th of July," said old Capt. Robert Holden, a unique figure among rivermen, as he stamped into Harbor No. 25 yesterday with his big umbrella. Capt. Holden and his eccentricities have been well-known along the rivers from Pittsburgh to New Orleans for several decades. His umbrella has a stick which resembles a ship's mast and is said to be the largest one carried by an individual in the Ohio valley. Friends of Capt. Holden say that he has carried it for over 20 years. Another familiar article carried by Mr. Holden was a carpet bag which he continued to use up to a short time ago. He boarded the steamer J. B. Finley with it one day and the jests of the crew were too much to be submitted to. The next trip saw the captain get aboard with a brand new bag, and the old carpet bag is kept at home as a relic of bygone days.

PEASY RICHARDSON DEMANDS HIS RELEASE

Attorneys Apply for a Writ of Habeas Corpus to Get Him Out of Workhouse.

William alias "Peasy" Richardson, who on Tuesday was fined $150 with the alternative of four months to the workhouse, is endeavoring to secure his release through a writ of habeas corpus. Attorneys Marron and McGirr yesterday secured a writ directed against William Hill superintendent of the workhouse, and made returnable at 10 o'clock this morning. There are two appeals resulting from two charges of disorderly conduct, one the result of the meeting with Superintendent John P. McTighe on Market street, and the other from the lively hearing at the Central police station.

It is alleged the conviction and commitment are contrary and are in violation of the law and that the detention under the convictions is unlawful and in restraint of the petitioner's liberty.

The copy of the magistrate's record in one of the cases is as follows:

Officer sworn. He arrested defendant on Market street on complaint of Supt. McTighe. He being sworn, stated: While going along Market street in company with officer Kain of Chicago he accosted him, using vile and abusive language; stated that he had been convicted of being a crook and that he also served time for same; lived around Pittsburgh with people of that class. No visible means of support; was president of the Camister club, which sold whisky and beer; was a bad man in general.

ISTHMIAN STATES PLANNING REVOLT

Panama and Cauca Desire Benefits of Canal to Be Theirs Exclusively.

POLITICS OF THE SITUATION

United States Under Treaty Guarantees Integrity of Colombian Territory. This Would Forever Prevent Successful Rebellion If Convention Is Ratified.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12.

Great interest attaches to the report from Panama that if the canal treaty is not ratified by the Colombian congress the states of Panama and Cauca, in the isthmus of Panama, will secede and form an independent republic.

The treaty provides "that the rights and privileges granted to the United States by the terms of this convention shall not affect the sovereignty of the republic of Colombia over the territory within whose boundaries such rights and privileges are to be exercised." At the same time it provides that there shall be created a joint commission by the governments of Colombia and the United States that shall establish and enforce sanitary and police regulations.

The contention was made by Senator Morgan when the treaty was under consideration in the senate that these provisions forever placed the states of Panama and Cauca within the power of the Colombian government, however unjust or unpopular that might become, and that the United States would be under this treaty obliged to maintain order in these states, even if they had the power to secede from Colombia.

The idea of the isthmus states seceding from Colombia is not a new one. It has been in the minds of men in those states for a long time. The revolutionary movements of these states have been very strong. Of course, the only purpose in the secessionary efforts of the people of Panama and Cauca is for the purpose of securing for themselves all the advantages of the Panama canal when it is completed and in the meantime to have the advantages accruing from the control of the Panama railroad. Their claims are based on broad charges of corrupt practices on the part of the Colombian government under Marroquin, the president.

The predicted uprising on the isthmus will be watched with great interest. If the people of these states should be powerful enough to prevent the ratification of the canal treaty and afterward to maintain their independence against the Colombian government, then the entire situation in relation to the canal project would be changed.

It is of especial interest in this connection to see what action will be determined upon by Marroquin in the event he concludes that the ratification of the treaty could be prevented and in view of the possibility of the states of Panama and Cauca maintaining their independence against the Colombian government.

NEW P. E. CHURCH IS TO BE BUILT IN EAST END

Congregation from the North Highland District—Sheridan Church Dedication.

A movement is on foot to organize a Protestant Episcopal church in the North Highland district, and for that purpose a meeting of the church people of the Protestant Episcopal church living in that district has been arranged for next Thursday evening. All those interested are requested to meet at the home of former Mayor W. J. Diehl, No. 5703 Stanton avenue.

Almost every denomination is already represented in that vicinity with a large stone church and the Episcopalians intend to put up a church that will rank among the best. There are nearly 70 families in that district who are Episcopalians and an organization will undoubtedly be formed at the meeting. Several of the pastors of the largest Episcopal churches are interested in the movement.

The Rev. E. H. Ward, D. D., will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Western university tomorrow morning in St. Peter's church, Craft avenue and Forbes street.

The First Presbyterian church of Sheraden will be dedicated tomorrow. The edifice has been completed nearly seven years, but the pastor, Herbert Hedley, opposed having the dedicatory services take place until the church was free of debt. Dr. J. D. Moffat, president of Washington and Jefferson college, will deliver the dedicatory sermon at the morning services.

CAMPBELL'S

NEATEST OF SHIRT WAISTS.

SO impressed were we with the beauty of some lovely White Satin-striped Brilliantes in madras weaves, enlivened with small black polka spots, which came to us in the piece, that we sent a thousand yards to one of the best shirt-waist-making houses in New York, with instructions to make for us on special order a line of waists embracing these essential points:

—Three pleats on either side of the center pleat in front.
—Full blouse effect.
—French back.
—Six clear pearl buttons.
—Full pouch sleeves with lap cuffs.
—Pearl buttons on each cuff.
—Detachable turn-over stock collar with front tab.

The picture shows the result. We were delighted with these Waists, because in fabric, style, finish and every detail of value they are essentially $2.00 garments. So it is a pleasant privilege to offer them to our customers at $1.50

Pittsburgh Pictures FOR 10 CENTS

Put Up in a Mailing Tube To Send Away.

Only once a year comes a day so clear, so cloudless, so free from overhanging clouds of smoke that a photographer stationed on Mount Washington can get a perfect picture of the heart of Pittsburgh and its three river valleys. Down Come Clothing Prices.

There are two factors which go to make reduced prices on clothing in this store. In the first place, we have closed out several thousand high-class garments from clothing makers, who were anxious to wind up the season, and let their goods go, in many cases, at the bare cost of material. In the second place, we have reduced the balance of our own stocks so that their prices will be in harmony with the cut-priced goods we bought. This makes a veritable feast of clothing bargains for shrewd buyers at this June Sale.
